Lawyer Says 7th Cadet Is Restored To Duty at Point

Pentagon Tells Daru All Could Be Officers in Army by Going to Schools

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—A lawyer today told a bar association inquiry today that a seventh cadet accused of cheating in the U. S. Military Academy cribbing scandal had been restored to duty.

"Another cadet has been restored," Robert Daru, general counsel to the committee on justice of the New York Civil and Criminal Courts Bar Association, said.

"We hope and trust that they add the balance, who, I claim the evidence clearly shows, did not have their rights respected. The honor code at West Point cannot be superior to, or render a nullity, the Constitution of the United States."

Daru told the committee at the beginning of its public hearings yesterday that six of the cadets accused of violating the academy's honor code by cribbing had been restored.

Information by Pentagon

The lawyer also said he had been informed by the Pentagon, in Washington, that all of the discharged cadets still could become officers in the army by entering officers' training schools.

A discharged cadet told the committee yesterday that academy officials hinted he could go to prison for cheating.

The dismissed cadet, Gerry

Government Plans in Strike Not Revealed at Session

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP) — President Truman today declined to indicate what plans the government may have for dealing with the nation-wide copper strike.

When reporters tried to draw him out on it at his news conference, Mr. Truman said he had not yet received a report from the Wage Stabilization Board.

He said he couldn't comment until he knows what's in the board's report.

Some government action soon was generally anticipated since the Office of Defense Mobilization has said the strike is a serious threat to the mobilization program.

The Wage Stabilization Board stepped out of the controversy late last night after the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union refused to call off the strike.

Little Hope Found

The board apparently found little hope of breaking the deadlock which has halted most of the nation's production of copper, a critically short defense material.

A spokesman said the board will report to Mr. Truman early today on the negotiations he asked it to take over on Tuesday. It held a 90-minute hearing yesterday, and discussed the case again last night.

A possible next step would be for the President to appoint a board of inquiry to report to him on the facts in the case, but such a board would have no authority to propose an actual peace settlement. The strike

Burial Halted

Burial in Arlington National Cemetery was ordered for the body of Sgt. 1/c John R. Rice (above) of Winnebago, Nebr., whose burial in a Sioux City, Ia., cemetery was halted because he was not a Caucasian. The Indian, member of the Winnebago tribe, was killed in the Korea fighting. On learning of the Sioux City incident, President Truman ordered internment in Arlington Cemetery. (AP Wirephoto).

Mrs. Rice Declines Offer of Sioux City Grave for Husband Who Died in Korea

Winnebago, Nebr., Aug. 30 (AP)—The widow of a Winnebago Indian soldier, whose burial was halted by a private cemetery, prepared today for her husband's interment in Arlington National Cemetery as arranged by President Truman.

Pretty Mrs. Evelyn Rice, 29, widow of Sgt. 1/c John Rice, quietly accepted an apology from the Sioux City, Ia., Memorial Park Cemetery last night but declined its change-of-heart offer of a free burial lot.

"Were it not for the greater honor which has come to my husband I would accept," she said.

The President offered a Virginia resting place among the nation's hero dead for Sergeant Rice after learning the Korean War victim's body was removed from the Sioux City graveside Tuesday because he was "not Caucasian."

At Mr. Truman's direction, the White House telegraphed Siuox City officials that "national appreciation of patriotis service

Congress Seeking Code of Ethics to Protect Citizens; Sees Strong Tool Needed

Is Given Award

Plaque, Scroll Presented to Commemorate His Service

Des Moines, Aug. 30 (AP)—Herbert Hoover declared today this nation is experiencing "a cancerous growth of intellectual dishonesty in public life which is mostly beyond the law."

"These evils," the country's only living former President warned in a belated birthday address, "have defeated nations many times in human history. The redemption of mankind by America will depend upon our ability to cope with these evils right here at home.

"In its frustration, the Congress is groping for some sort of code of ethics which might protect the citizen from his own officials. Much as Congress has my good wishes, something stronger than a new code of ethics is needed in America.

"Congress can well widen the laws so as to clutch the new kinds of bribes and benefits they have discovered. But Congress cannot reach intellectual dishonors."

Turning Face Away

But, he told residents of his native state in accepting an award, right will triumph "because I know America is turning its face away from the maudlin left isms and the spread of untruths of the past two decades.

"We sense the frauds of men's minds and morals. Moral indignation is on the march again. I cannot but feel there is strength in character and truth and decent living. And it will triumph."

The nation's elder statesman this year deferred his customary birthday address until today. He had said it would contain his thoughts for his 77th birthday, Aug. 10.

Hoover's remarks were made to thousands of Iowans assembled at the state fair. Preceding his address he accepted "The Iowa Award." It was the first plaque and scroll presented by the Iowa Centennial Memorial Commission for distinguished citizenship.

Reds Charge Daily Acts Violate Kaesong Area

Broadcasts Accuse Ridgway of Lying, Slander, Distortion–Say Stand Effort to Cover Up; Latest Charge Made

Tokyo, Aug. 30 (AP)—Red China's official Peiping radio charged today American planes violate the Kaesong neutrality area in Korea nearly every day.

The charge was injected into a series of broadcasts accusing Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway of lying, slander and distortion.

The latest asserted violation was early Wednesday. The badly garbled broadcast heard in Tokyo said an American bomber dropped a flare over the site of the now suspended Korean war truce talks.

The radio said it happened at almost the same time Ridgway flatly refused to reopen an investigation of Red charges that an allied plane bombed Kaesong Aug. 22.

Peiping called it an attempt "to cover up the flagrant lies that he handed the world."

The broadcast made no mention of the UN commander's offer to resume truce negotiations any time the Communists are willing to do so. He made the offer in the same note that refused to reopen investigation of the asserted bombing.

Top Red commanders, to whom the message was addressed, had not replied. There was no indication when they would.

Sweeping Accusation

In its sweeping accusation, the Peiping radio said as many as 43 American planes had flown over the Kaesong neutral zone in a single day. The neutral area extends for a five mile radius around Kaesong.

"American aircraft," the broadcast asserted, "have incessantly, illegally and constantly flown into the sky over the neutral zone."

The radio devoted most of its attention to attacking Ridgway.

The Communist attitude tended to support a theory the Reds want to delay a decision on Korea until after the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco.

Peiping's broadcasts dampened a cautious optimism expressed in

Motorists Asked To Save Lives by Careful Driving

Mayor Reminds Drivers About School Date and Labor Day Traveling

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk is calling upon motorists to be extra cautious when school opens next week, and he and his traffic control committee are emphasizing the importance of driving with care over the Labor Day weekend.

Mindful of the danger that exists for children, Mayor Newkirk is stressing that autoists be exceedingly careful on Tuesday, Sept. 4, the opening day of schools in Kingston.

400 Due to Die

And, in reference to Labor Day travel, he called attention to the number of fatalities predicted by David J. Wilkie, Associated Press automotive editor, who has estimated that 400 will die in traffic accidents.

Kingston, through the mayor and his traffic committee, is participating in the sixth annual "School's Open" traffic safety campaign sponsored by the Automobile Club of New York, which started yesterday.

The city is getting its share of 400 posters being distributed throughout Ulster county advertising the drive. The posters show a schoolgirl holding an outstretched apple and bears the message, "School's Open, Drive Carefully."

More than 20,000 of the posters are being distributed in the metropolitan New York area by the Automobile Club, and in addition "School's Open" bumper strips will be displayed on police and other official vehicles.

Safety Rules

On the opening day of school first graders will receive pamphlets with safety rules for parents to read to them.

As another feature to prevent traffic deaths, the Auto Club is assisting in the development of high school driver education courses for teenagers.

Referring to the AP estimate that 400 will lose their lives over Labor Day, the mayor noted that the automotive editor said, "They don't have to die that way but they will—for a variety of reasons.

"Some will die because of care-

Japan's Comeback Shows Results of Costly Occupation

Complete Transformation Made in Nation by Americans — Still Rough Spots

(This is the first of two articles summarizing the occupation of Japan. They were written by Russell Brines, former chief of AP's Tokyo Bureau, who has just returned to the United States after serving continuously in Japan since the end of the Pacific war.)

By RUSSELL BRINES

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP) — Six years ago Japan was a devastated, floundering country, badly beaten in war. Its people were numbed by fear of starvation, its government and industry paralyzed by uncertainty.

Today, Japan is reaching for independence again as a confident, stabilized nation.

The transformation is the most tangible result of a long and expensive occupation.

In August, 1945, hundreds of occupation officials poured into the battered country with only one mission: To destroy Japan's militarism and tear down the social, political and economic structure which nurtured it.

They began enthusiastically. A home defense force of more than 4,000,000 men was demobilized with astonishing speed. War equipment of all types was destroyed — guns, half-wrecked ships, mounds of ammunition and even a cyclotron for atomic experiments.

Some 250,000 career military officers and civilian leaders during wartime were removed from positions of influence. Dozens of war criminals were prosecuted.

Alterations Demanded

A flood of directives from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters demanded basic alterations in virtually every field of national life.

The emperor was transformed on paper from a demi-god to a tax-paying civilian. A new constitution blueprinted popular rule. The centralized Tokyo government was weakened and 44 subservient prefectures became little states.

A complex economic empire which gave total power to a handful of men was attacked in anti-trust legislation. The schools technically were set free of the men who had made them teach militarism and obedience to the emperor's autocratic power. State

Evans Says Work Is Due To Proceed

Director of State Bureau Credits Wicks With Large Part in Getting Federal Funds

To Clear Stream

Snags and Other Things to Be Removed to Increase Capacity

The Army Engineers Corps has allocated $50,000 for flood control work in the Esopus creek in the Mt. Pleasant area.

Senate Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks, of this city, was notified of this allocation in a letter from Horace S. Evans, executive director of the New York State Flood Control Commission.

Senator Wicks, who was at his office today in the State capitol, told The Freeman that Evans advised him he would take up immediately with engineers the advisability of starting this work at once.

Evans write in the letter, dated August 29, that "it is hoped that accomplishment of the project will be completed this fall."

Kingston Area Studied

Flood control work in the Kingston area is the subject of a separate study by the Army Engineers, and a report on that study is now in the process of preparation. The state Flood Control Commission "will continue to press for expedition of that report," Evans wrote.

Senator Wicks was credited by Evans for a large part in obtaining the federal funds for the Mt. Pleasant project. "Your continued personal interest, both here and in Washington, has been responsible in a large measure for the progress that has been made," Evans wrote.

According to a report previously released by Major General Lewis A. Pick, chief of engineers, the project at Mt. Pleasant will involve clearing and removing of snags in the stream to improve its flood carrying capacity.

Home Protection Cited

The flood problem at Mt. Pleasant involved the protection of about 22 homes and camps, General Pick reported, and the work could properly fall within the authorities available to the Corps of Engineers under Section 13 of the 1946 Flood Control Act.

The problem at Kingston is of greater extent and requires detailed study and investigation, which is now being conducted. General Pick revealed in his previous report that if this investigation warrants it, work in the Kingston area will be recommended to be undertaken under authorities available under Section 212 of the 1950 Flood Control Act, which authorizes the Secretary of Army to allot funds for construction of small flood control projects not specifically authorized by Congress.

The flood control projects were requested to alleviate conditions which led to two costly floods along the Esopus creek within the past year. The first flood occurred on Nov 25, 1950, and the second on March 31, 1951.

Wicks Took Action

First steps in requesting flood control assistance were taken shortly after the first flood. On December 18, 1950, Senator Wicks arranged a round table discussion to review the flood situation. The discussion was followed by a tour of the flood damaged upper Esopus area.

Officials attending the meeting and tour included F. F. Panuzil, engineer, New York District; J. M. Kennedy of the North Atlantic Division, and S. H. Zimmer of the New York District, all of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Also attending were state and county highway department offi-

DiSalle Says Changed Law Would Give Workable Plan

Senate Concerned Over Foreign Aid

Ultimate Direction Is Big Worry Expressed; Some Favor One Man

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Senators showed more concern today over who should direct foreign aid spending than over how much should be spent.

Senator H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.) said he would propose some form "of single administrator" to control the purse strings on the $7,535,750,000 in the aid bill being discussed by the Senate.

Senator McMahon (D.-Conn.) predicted such a move "will be defeated." He was supported by Senators Connally (D.-Tex.) and Sparkman (D.-Ala.).

The House voted for a single administrator when it approved $37,000,000 less than the Senate figure. This was viewed generally as a slap at Secretary of State Acheson.

Chairman Taft (R.-Ohio) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee said today he would support the Smith move, even though it was rejected by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees when they sent the bill to the Senate.

Kefauver Favors One

Senator Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), in a separate interview, said he also favored a single administrator.

"I think the plan now before the Senate could be confusion compounded," Kefauver said. "It

Some Prices Might Rise Even if Congress Does Alter Act—Wilson Also Speaks

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP) — Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said today some prices may go up even if Congress changes the economic csontrols law as President Truman requests.

But, he told the Senate Banking Committee, elimination of the three provisions which Mr. Truman has bitterly denounced would give the Office of Price Stabilization a "workable program."

DiSalle and Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson were lead off witnesses in the administration's drive for repeal of the provisions. These make possible price boosts for manufacturers and dealers and ban livestock slaughter quotas.

Wilson warned of mounting inflationary pressures and appealed to the senators for "the strongest and most effective law you can give us."

Some Increases Sure

DiSalle said he wished he could promise the OPS could "guarantee an absolute stability of prices for the next year" if the controversial sections are repealed.

"But * * * an absolute holding of the price line may not be possible," he said. "Some cost increases are bound to occur. * * *

"Repeal of these provisions will not provide us with a perfect Price Control Law, but it will give us an act under whlich we can move forward with a sound and workable stabilization program."

He said a key point is restoration of the right to set slaughtering quotas on livestock.

No Quotas, No Control

Without quotas, he said it will be impossible to control meat prices, and that black markets would be almost inevitable.

"It may well be that the issue presented to Congress is whether we shall have meat price controls or whether we shall not." * * *

The other two provisions Mr. Truman wants repealed, and which DiSalle criticized today, (1) allow a seller to pass on to the consumer all cost increases between the start of the Korean

Hercules Goes 'Round Clock

Defense orders plus a substantial flow of regular business is keeping the Hercules Powder Company at Port Ewen on a 'round-the-clock schedule, it was learned today.

A personnel increase which has been gradual since the first of the year brought the total to 1,000 now employed on three shifts. This is 400 more than at this time last year.

About 600 of the plant's personnel now works on the day shift, 300 on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift and the others on a light 12 to 8 shift.

Defense orders at this time amount to less than half of the plant's output, E. P. Rochford, suprintendent, said.

Knights of Malta Are Given Planes for Ambulance Usage

Rome, Aug 30 (AP)—A spokesman for the defense ministry said today "some scores" of old Italian warplanes have been transferred to the Knights of Malta for air-ambulance use as one way of keeping within peace treaty restrictions on her air force.

Gen. Fiore Vernazza, the Ministry spokesman, said "it is no secret" that some of Italy's World War 2 three-engine bombers have been turned over to the order, which is recognized here and in a half dozen other countries as a "sovereignty."

Qualified American sources said the transfer — which cuts Italy's inventory of old planes so more modern air power can be brought in under the treaty restrictions—is being done with the knowledge of the U. S. government and of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact command.

Italian army and Knights of Malta sources both confirmed that Italian air force crews are assigned to fly the planes for the order, and the fliers are paid by the Italian air force.

Italy, with a wary eye toward the Iron Curtain, where Soviet Russia is a signatory power to the Italian peace treaty, previously has kept silent about the transfers.

Under terms of the peace treaty of 1947, Italy is restricted to only 350 planes—200 fighters and reconnaissance planes and 150 transports. But its 1949 listing showed it had a total of 419 planes, and since then new British and American fighters have been sent in to bolster this country's defenses. More, including American jets, are on the way.

An official spokesman for the Italian branch of the Knights of Malta said at least 81 planes had

Kingston Area Studied

Flood control work in the Kingston area is the subject of a separate study by the Army Engineers, and a report on that study is now in the process of preparation. The state Flood Control Commission "will continue to press for expedition of that report," Evans wrote.

Senator Wicks was credited by Evans for a large part in obtaining the federal funds for the Mt. Pleasant project. "Your continued personal interest, both here and in Washington, has been responsible in a large measure for the progress that has been made," Evans wrote.

According to a report previously released by Major General Lewis A. Pick, chief of engineers, the project at Mt. Pleasant will involve clearing and removing of snags in the stream to improve its flood carrying capacity.

Home Protection Cited

The flood problem at Mt. Pleasant involved the protection of about 22 homes and camps, General Pick reported, and the work could properly fall within the authorities available to the Corps of Engineers under Section 13 of the 1946 Flood Control Act.

The problem at Kingston is of greater extent and requires detailed study and investigation, which is now being conducted. General Pick revealed in his previous report that if this investigation warrants it, work in the Kingston area will be recommended to be undertaken under authorities available under Section 212 of the 1950 Flood Control Act, which authorizes the Secretary of Army to allot funds for construction of small flood control projects not specifically authorized by Congress.

The flood control projects were requested to alleviate conditions which led to two costly floods along the Esopus creek within the past year. The first flood occurred on Nov 25, 1950, and the second on March 31, 1951.

Wicks Took Action

First steps in requesting flood control assistance were taken shortly after the first flood. On December 18, 1950, Senator Wicks arranged a round table discussion to review the flood situation. The discussion was followed by a tour of the flood damaged upper Esopus area.

Officials attending the meeting and tour included F. F. Pamuel, engineer, New York District; J. M. Kennedy of the North Atlantic Division, and S. H. Zimmer of the New York District, all of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. Also attending were state and county highway department offi-

DiSalle Says Changed Law Would Give Workable Plan

Ultimate Direction Is Big Worry Expressed; Some Favor One Man

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Senators showed more concern today over who should direct foreign aid spending than over how much should be spent.

Senator H. Alexander Smith (R.-N.J.) said he would propose some form "of single administrator" to control the purse strings on the $7,535,750,000 in the aid bill being discussed by the Senate.

Senator McMahon (D.-Conn.) predicted such a move "will be defeated." He was supported by Senators Connally (D.-Tex.) and Sparkman (D.-Ala.).

The House voted for a single administrator when it approved $37,000,000 less than the Senate figure. This was viewed generally as a slap at Secretary of State Acheson.

Chairman Taft (R.-Ohio) of the Senate GOP Policy Committee said today he would support the Smith move, even though it was rejected by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees when they sent the bill to the Senate.

Kefauver Favors One

Senator Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), in a separate interview, said he also favored a single administrator.

"I think the plan now before the Senate could be confusion compounded," Kefauver said. "It

Some Prices Might Rise Even if Congress Does Alter Act—Wilson Also Speaks

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP) — Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said today some prices may go up even if Congress changes the economic csontrols law as President Truman requests.

But, he told the Senate Banking Committee, elimination of the three provisions which Mr. Truman has bitterly denounced would give the Office of Price Stabilization a "workable program."

DiSalle and Mobilization Chief Charles E. Wilson were lead off witnesses in the administration's drive for repeal of the provisions. These make possible price boosts for manufacturers and dealers and ban livestock slaughter quotas.

Wilson warned of mounting inflationary pressures and appealed to the senators for "the strongest and most effective law you can give us."

Some Increases Sure

DiSalle said he wished he could promise the OPS could "guarantee an absolute stability of prices for the next year" if the controversial sections are repealed.

"But * * * an absolute holding of the price line may not be possible," he said. "Some cost increases are bound to occur. * * *

"Repeal of these provisions will not provide us with a perfect Price Control Law, but it will give us an act under whlich we can move forward with a sound and workable stabilization program."

He said a key point is restoration of the right to set slaughtering quotas on livestock.

No Quotas, No Control

Without quotas, he said it will be impossible to control meat prices, and that black markets would be almost inevitable.

"It may well be that the issue presented to Congress is whether we shall have meat price controls or whether we shall not." * * *

The other two provisions Mr. Truman wants repealed, and which DiSalle criticized today, (1) allow a seller to pass on to the consumer all cost increases between the start of the Korean

Present at the erecting of a caution slogan on a Broadway pole were Alderman Benjamin Storms of the Traffic Control Committee of the Common Council; Police Chief Raymond Van Buren and Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk with Frank Visano, 12, of 45 Levan street; also Edward J. Rieger, assistant director of traffic engineering and safety of the Auto Club and Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of Kingston schools. (Freeman Photo)

Hercules Goes 'Round Clock

Defense orders plus a substantial flow of regular business is keeping the Hercules Powder Company at Port Ewen on a 'round-the-clock schedule, it was learned today.

A personnel increase which has been gradual since the first of the year brought the total to 1,000 now employed on three shifts. This is 400 more than at this time last year.

About 600 of the plant's personnel now works on the day shift, 300 on the 4 p. m. to midnight shift and the others on a light 12 to 8 shift.

Knights of Malta Are Given Planes for Ambulance Usage

Rome, Aug 30 (AP)—A spokesman for the defense ministry said today "some scores" of old Italian warplanes have been transferred to the Knights of Malta for air-ambulance use as one way of keeping within peace treaty restrictions on her air force.

Gen. Fiore Vernazza, the Ministry spokesman, said "it is no secret" that some of Italy's World War 2 three-engine bombers have been turned over to the order, which is recognized here and in a half dozen other countries as a "sovereignty."

Qualified American sources said the transfer — which cuts Italy's inventory of old planes so more modern air power can be brought in under the treaty restrictions— is being done with the knowledge of the U. S. government and of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's Atlantic Pact command.

Italian army and Knights of Malta sources both confirmed that Italian air force crews are assigned to fly the planes for the order, and the fliers are paid by the Italian air force.

Italy, with a wary eye toward the Iron Curtain, where Soviet Russia is a signatory power to the Italian peace treaty, previously has kept silent about the transfers.

Under terms of the peace treaty of 1947, Italy is restricted to only 350 planes—200 fighters and reconnaissance planes and 150 transports. But its 1949 listing showed it had a total of 419 planes, and since then new British and American fighters have been sent in to bolster this country's defenses. More, including American jets, are on the way.

An official spokesman for the Italian branch of the Knights of Malta said at least 81 planes had

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arnold and their three children will sail for Akobo, Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, early in September. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold, who are missionaries to Africa, spoke at the morning service at Modena Methodist Church Sunday. Mrs. Arnold is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond DuBois and Mr. Arnold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Arnold. When they sail for Africa they will join the United Presbyterian and Reformed Church missionaries working there.

Miss Henriette Wicks who has been travelling in Europe with the Family Relations Group returned home last Monday. While in Paris she visited Notre Dame, the Louvre, Eiffel Tower and attended the opera in Paris.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beatty and daughter were Mr. and Mrs. George Sanford and son, Robert, of Pine Plains.

Miss Bertha Bennett is spending several weeks in Indianapolis, Ind.

Miss Paulina Crossett of Almond was a recent caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Woodin returned last week from a trip by North American Airways to San Francisco. While in California they spent a short time with their son, Robert, who is in the air force.

The increase in membership of the Huguenot Society is still growing and the membership drive is still on. Those joining since the July report are Mrs. Webb Kniffen, Elaine Kniffen, New Paltz; Mrs. Lena E. Longendyke, Miss Grace Anderson, Saugerties; Rufus Cole Van Aken, New York; Ruth Mack Havens, Mary C. Havens, New Paltz; Gertrude Deyo Mosser, Allentown, Pa.; Martha Elting of Sparta, N. J., and Esther Bensley, New Paltz. A gift of a piece of linen, 100 years old, was recently sent by the family of the late Mrs. Thomas Lister of Gardiner. The flax which was used in making the linen was raised on the James Blauvelt farm, Fred Theiss farm in the township of Gardiner. Myron Teller of Kingston recently donated three sets of beautifully wrought iron latches for the doors to the Memorial House. Mr. Teller made these pieces of workmanship as a hobby some years ago. The new wrought iron railing to the front entrance was made by Richard Fall of Fall Fittings of Gardiner. Miss Cora DuBois, Mrs. Chadbourne of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Lent, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Walter Hasbrouck, and Mrs. Laura Dwight have made a number of improvements within the Memorial House this summer. Mrs. Virgil DeWitt loaned a doll from her excellent collection for the display. Mrs. Lena E. Longendyke and Miss Grace Anderson of Saugerties recently gave a loom built in the year 1804. This loom was used by the great-grandmother of LeRoy Longendyke of High Woods. Through the efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Longendyke this loom has been kept in good condition. A large piece of cloth made on the loom is on exhibit.

A birthday party was held Sunday, Aug. 19, in honor of Teddy Smith, Jr., two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Smith on the New Paltz and Kingston road. Refreshments were served beneath a picturesque hickory tree decorated with multi-colored balloons and lollypops. A birthday cake was gayly trimmed with a pink and blue toy merry-go-round. Guests at the party were Teddy and Terry Smith, Theresa and Patricia McCormick, Rick and Davey Edwards, Danny Warren, Joseph Warren and Juanita Ronk, Donald and Jill Briggs, Leonard and Anthony Tantillo, Frank Arias, Caren Whitman, Diane-Re and Tina Lee Quick, Mrs. Georgiana Smith, Mrs. Margaret Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruiz, Mrs. Angelina Ruiz, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Smith, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. D. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Quick, Mrs. D. Briggs, Mrs. Jane Edwards, the Misses Rufene and Lulu Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tantillo.

Hot Weather Legislation

Verdun, Que. (AP) — Perhaps it was the heat. An alderman opposed to a controversial measure before city council voted for it by mistake. Another opponent of the measure missed the session when he was tied up by a traffic jam. The measure was passed.

Births

Births recorded recently by the city registrar included twins, Juliana Frances and Jacqueline Anne, born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward LeDoux, of Saugerties and Anchorage, Alaska, at Kingston Hospital, Aug. 22.

Other birtns recorded were:

Aug. 22—Jean Louise to Mr. and Mrs. John Guilford Bartsch, town of Ulster; Wayne Lewis to Mr. and Mrs. George John Leedecke, Sawkill, and Paul Charles to Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Rosenbaum, Stone Ridge.

Aug. 23—Juanita Elsie to Mr. and Mrs. David Johnston, New Paltz.

Aug. 24—Deborah Cathleen to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Ham, High Falls; Susan Rae to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. McDaniel, Wittenberg, and Victor Salvatore to Mr. and Salvatore Romeo, Norfolk, Va.

Aug. 25—Ruth Claire to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sherry, 39 East Chester street, and Bruce Robert to Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Simpkins 33 Wall street.

Aug. 26—Burton Stanley to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Adin Bodie, Sr., 57 Newkirk avenue, and Nancy Lynn to Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Charles Hamilton, 27 Hone street.

Aug. 27—James Gilbert to Mr. and Mrs. James McClenahan, 40 Third avenue.

Double Feature

Lachute, Que. (AP)—A Holstein cow on a nearby farm was found in the pasture with a newborn calf. The cow disappeared again that night and was found again next morning, with a second calf at her side. All three are doing well.

Fate Overtakes Cyclist

Hanver, Ont. (AP)—Alec Cooper, 90-year-old cycling enthusiast, received head injuries when he was thrown to the pavement after his trouser-leg caught in a wheel of his bicycle.

Newspaper Ads, Screen Stars Lead Movies' Campaign

The motion picture industry will launch on October 1 a year-long campaign in celebration of the 50th anniversary of the movie theatre. Outstanding features of the drive will be large-space advertisements in every daily newspaper in the country and visits to many communities by 250 Hollywood stars and production executives.

Directing the event will be the all-embracing Council of Motion Picture Organizations (COMPO), with Robert J. O'Donnell, Texas theatre operator, as national director of the celebration arrangements.

The celebration will mark a half-century since the opening on April 16, 1902, of Tally's Electric Theatre at 262 South Main street, Los Angeles, the first theatre built in this country for the exclusive showing of motion pictures.

To announce the celebration, Mr. O'Donnell said, the industry will publish advertisements in 1,753 daily newspapers' early in October. Full-page ads will appear in 220 newspapers published in 92 cities with populations of more than 100,000 and half-page ads in 1,533 newspapers in 1,318 cities of less than 100,000. Reaching a total circulation of 54,000,000, the advertising will represent the biggest single newspaper campaign in recent years.

While serving chiefly to launch the anniversary observance, the campaign will also promote the fall crop of pictures which Mr. O'Donnell said, will include some of the "most important attractions in the history of the business."

In addition to the newspaper advertising, which forms the foundation of the year-long drive, according to Mr. O'Donnell, arrangements call also for a national radio broadcast from Hollywood Sept. 24, with screen stars enacting scenes from forthcoming pictures; visits of 250 screen personalities to Washington and the capitals of the 48 states Oct. 8, and an exposition next March in the Grand Central Palace in New York city.

The event will be known officially as "Movietime U.S.A.—Celebrating the Golden Anniversary of the Motion Picture Theatre." Total cost of the drive will be about $2,000,000, most of the funds being provided by the country's 23,120 theatre owners. The program will also be supported heavily by other members of the COMPO organization, which was established last year as an agency representing all branches of the industry. These include the major movie producing and distributing companies, the Hollywood guilds representing actors, directors and writers, as well as theatre and studio labor unions.

What a difference!
It's HELLMANN'S the WHOLE-EGG Mayonnaise

Finer flavor, smoother texture . . . taste the difference between Hellmann's Mayonnaise made with freshly broken whole eggs, and mayonnaise made with egg yolks alone. Then "Fresh-Press" salad oil, mild vinegar, choice spices, extra egg yolks, all add their goodness to this blend of the best. No wonder it's America's favorite mayonnaise!

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, AUGUST 30, 1951

300TH ANNIVERSARY

A glimpse into the magnitude of the task of planning for the fitting observance of the 300th Anniversary of the Founding of Kingston was given by Harry Rigby, Jr., temporary chairman of the Citizens' Committee at a recent Rotary Club luncheon.

Cognizant of the vast amount of work in preparation for the tercentenary celebration next year, the chairman and several of the committees for the past several months have been working on the tentative program. The members of the committee are to be congratulated for their time and mind at this early date in laying the ground work that this memorable occasion might be notably celebrated.

The alacrity of response by local people in offering to assist in the planning and in the program is most encouraging to the chairman and the committees. This is as it should be. Being a city celebration, it should receive the enthusiastic support of all the people of the city.

Recognizing the importance of the observance to the county as well as to the city, the Board of Supervisors has taken unanimous action to assist in the program by appointment of a committee of seven members of the board to serve with the Kingston Committee.

Tentative plans call for the celebration to be held throughout the year with the main part of the program being held during the summer vacation period, when visitors will have an opportunity to visit here.

In conjunction with the celebration of the 300 Anniversary of the Founding of Kingston, there also will be the observance of the 100th anniversary of John Vanderlyn, world renowned local painter, the 175th anniversary of the framing of New York's first constitution, the inauguration of New York's first governor, George Clinton, the first sessions of the state legislature and the state judiciary.

TOWARD BETTER DRIVING

The program of teaching automobile driving as a regular course in high schools is only a few years old, and is scarcely more than beginning to be widespread. But it is estimated that already between three and five per cent of all the drivers in the nation have taken this training. In the next few years the proportion should rise rapidly, for now the driving courses are offered in more than a third of all high schools, and where available are taken by about forty per cent of the eligible students.

Those who have had the benefit of these training courses, in general, begin driving with a considerable advantage over other beginners. They know more about dangerous situations and safety habits; they have been given a better groundwork of facts about the capabilities and limitations of vehicles, drivers and roads. They have also been schooled in the need for careful driving. They have both a desire to be safe drivers and a knowledge of how to go about it.

Such drivers can be a leavening influence on the whole group. It has been observed that discourteous and bad driving tends to breed more of the same, and a good, courteous driver likewise tends to encourage courtesy and careful driving among others. Within a few years a much larger percentage of drivers will be school-trained, and then driving may be more pleasant and safer for all of us.

The refusal of India to join in the Japanese treaty conference in San Francisco appears to be another straw on a mounting load of Indian divergences, since that nation attained independence, from world policies America considers necessary to secure all nations against aggression. If India seems a little mixed up, the background of its leaders must be considered.

Noise is a strange thing. A person can be oblivious to a sound until it is called to his attention. Once he notices it, however, it may be difficult for him to hear anything else.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

GOD'S FOOTSTOOL

In 1947, Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, president of faculty of the Union Theological Seminary, could write in his book, "World Christianity":

"This 'rediscovery of the church' is a by-product of the Second World War. It is important to recognize that there has been no direct casual connection. Obviously, the churches did not cause the war; they had little direct effect upon its outcome. In the main, the war has wrought little noteworthy change in the life or strength of the Christian churches. . . ."

In 1951, this is no longer true in many parts of the world. In this same book, Dr. Van Dusen writes of missionary work in such countries as China where during the past two years Christianity has been stomped beneath the hooves of anti-Christian mobs.

We need, I am sure, to think of the battle against the religions of God in all the countries that are controlled from the Kremlin not in terms of Jews or Roman Catholics or Protestants, but as people of the Book, sons of God in an identical civilization. While maintaining our differences, we need to recognize that we are faced by the same enemy who hates us all. Perhaps that hatred will give us the wisdom to unite, not in dogma and ritual, but in the spirit of God.

This is becoming increasingly important as the enemy fights with every weapon, particularly by using the power of the state to corrupt young children. He rears them in schools where they are separated from all the treasures of human history and thought. They grow believing only what they are permitted to hear and see and they are blind to all the great forces that rescued man from slavery and brought him within the scope of social justice.

The real danger is not the present adult generation, for they have memories of church and synagogue, the joy of prayer, the sense of mercy, the richness of the true humility in the presence of God. They recall the beauty of Easter, the cleansing sense of Passover, the joy of Christmas, the piety of Yom Kippur.

It is the young in the Marxist countries who will never even have heard of the relationship of man to God, who will never have been in a house of worship, who will never have known of a religion of love.

They carry Ikons of Stalin and Mao and such creatures. They march behind these ikons. These are their Gods.

We saw the photographs of the youth festival in East Germany. There were the ikons, huge photographs of the masters of men, uninspired, monstrous photographs! These ikons are like the idols one sees in the temples of profane religions, vulgar, ugly idols.

In this century the young minds of boys and girls can be corrupted into receiving these blown-up photographs as the symbols of, shall we say, power, or is it, fear!

These young people will present to the next generations sick minds because their physical nature will never have been softened by the leavening, pacifying influence of religion, of God's love. They will know only that struggle begets struggle, that power comes to him who takes it, that man is but a creature like all else in nature, an all-purpose mammal that can talk.

For those who believe in God, this is a responsibility that all must face in this age. Here in our country we quarrel among ourselves over small matters while the enemy destroys our world.

For this is true: Our civilization is deeply rooted in the Old and New Testaments, in the Bible of both the Jews and the Christians. Without this foundation, all that we believe to be true must wither and die. Already, in countries of which Dr. Van Dusen wrote in his book only four years ago, we witness the resurgence of brutality, the torture of decent people for their ideas, their beliefs, their faith.

Already we are being faced by the corruption of our own children under our very eyes by so-called scientific methods which teach them that every concept that built their world of liberty is superstition. Even our political system blossoms on the stem of the Declaration of Independence, which in its preamble makes clear that those inalienable rights which our young people are taught to cherish as the Bill of Rights emanate from nature's God and nature's law.

This is our foundation and we must protect it or our world becomes like the sand of the desert, blinding the spirit, fruitless and unproductive.

That Body of Yours

ALLERGY MAY AFFECT CHARACTER

When we see an individual suffering with the symptoms of hay fever—stuffed nose, running eyes, sneezing—and realize that he or she will endure these symptoms for weeks or months, we are not surprised if we find them irritable during this period.

That there is a definite relation between character and allergy is stated by Dr. T. Wood Clarke (Utica, N. Y.) in Annals of Allergy. Dr. Clarke discusses reports from 95 allergists who noted that personality changes in children with allergy corrected themselves when the allergy element was removed. Among 122 children, the type of characteristics relieved by removing the allergy factor varied greatly. The commonest reports were of irritable, fretful, quarrelsome children who often had to be taken out of school because they upset classes and were considered incorrigible. After the nature of their allergy was discovered and steps taken to correct it, they became friendly, happy and cooperative. Others were boisterous, talked incessantly, overloudly, were overactive and inclined to be destructive. They became gentle, respectful and quiet after adequate treatment of their allergy.

Some timid, bashful allergic children, always depressed, tired and without ambition, became friendly and more vigorous in play. Some "backward" children, backward because of allergy, made great improvement at school in studies and conduct, when their allergy was corrected.

"Also, in many cases, oversolicitous (over-protective) parents misguidedly remove all control over the sick child and try to gratify his every whim," Dr. Clarke reports. "This attitude invariably produces an arrogant, demanding, unhappy child who becomes furious when any of his desires are thwarted. A reaction resembling giant hives in the brain could cause emotional responses which would change the normal child into an uncontrolled brat."

Dr. Clarke states that when the allergy reaction strikes the front lobes of the brain—the intellect—it causes character changes, the forerunner of the "problem" child which, when the child grows up, may mean need of institutional care.

"If every child who must be sent to a state hospital or every 'problem child' could be given a thorough allergy study, perhaps many would be found to be allergic, could be treated and returned home normal emotionally as well as physically."

Dr. Clarke urges greater cooperation between allergists and child psychiatrists in study of the "problem child."

While some parents and physicians may not be inclined to think that allergy could cause such changes from normal in character, the opinion of 95 allergists cannot be ignored.

Poor Butterfly

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note— While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being by Gordon Dean, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.)

Washington—The other day I received this letter from a lady who lives in a town where I spent a good share of my teenage years:

"My Dear Mr. Dean:

"I see by the inclosed clipping that the United States is planning new A-bomb tests, and that the purpose is to see whether they have been made more deadly. I take it that, as in the past, the big aim is to scare the daylights out of Russia. She will, of course, go at it with a will, and try to outdo us in this devilish weapons-of-mass-destruction armaments race. Nice business!

"I should think that the terrible and disgraceful result of our little experiment with the A-bomb in Hiroshima and Nagasaki would make men, who call themselves Christian, confine their experiments with atomic energy to the wonderful things that can be done with it to improve life and industry—not destroy them.

"I remember your father here as a courageous and fine sermonizer, Mr. Dean. I think it is too bad for his son to concentrate on the murderous aspects of atomic energy."

This was a disturbing letter to receive, not because the lady is right—because she isn't—but rather because it shows that there are apparently honest, patriotic, thinking Americans who fear we are not justified in trying to maintain and increase our world leadership in the field of atomic energy.

I don't know how many people in the United States share the views of this lady. I hope there are not many, for they are just exactly the views the men in the Kremlin are asking the world to believe about us, and which they would dearly like to have us begin to believe about ourselves.

To hold the belief, even for a moment, that the Soviet leaders are in the atomic bomb business just because we are is one of the worst possible mistakes we could make. These men do not do things because we have done something first to stimulate them. They do things because they believe their own interests are best served by doing them, and they do them as part of their master plan to achieve domination of the world. We did nothing to force them to blockade Berlin. We did nothing to force them to take over Czechoslovakia. We did nothing to force them to send the North Koreans to invade South Korea. And we have done nothing to force them to block almost every single effort in the United Nations to bring peace to the world—including the American-supported U. N. plan to place atomic energy under effective international control.

Even if we did not have a single atomic bomb, I am convinced that the Soviet leaders would be just as hard at work building atomic bombs of their own, and—if they knew we had none—there would be much better chance than now exists that they would use such weapons against us. Our ever-growing stockpile of atomic weapons, far from being a stimulant to war, is actually the most important single safeguard against world war 3.

Our bombs are for defense—of ourselves and our allies. They are not for the purpose of making aggressive war against anyone. We used the atomic bomb against the Japanese not to destroy lives, but to save lives—the lives of the hundreds of thousands of Americans and Japanese that inevitably would have been lost if World War 2 had continued.

I believe our national atomic energy policy is the only policy that this nation—upon whose position in the world the lives of millions upon millions of people depend—could follow and still be consistent with the christian ideals and principles we try to live by. The American government could, of course, go to the men in the Kremlin and say:

"You have threatened us, so here are our atomic weapons; we are renouncing them and we are asking no guarantees in return. You are now free to deprive 150,000,000 Americans of the freedom for which their forefathers fought so dearly. You are free to destroy their places of worship; to hurl them into slave labor camps and prisons, and kill as many of them as you wish. Moreover, you are now free to take away the liberty of all the peoples of the world, not only in this generation, but forever."

To me, such a thing would be unthinkable, and most un-Christianlike.

It is war that is bad—not just atomic war. And it is the way atomic bombs are used that is bad—not the bombs themselves. Our bombs are to protect liberty and to prevent war until that day, which I sincerely hope will arrive, when the Soviet leaders provide some real evidence that they honestly want peace. And if war does come through Communist aggression they are the best means we have of saving the lives and liberties of those who would otherwise become communism's innocent victims.

We test atomic weapons because we must test them in our development program. We do not test them to scare anyone. They are actually evidences of the progress we are making, not only in weapons, but also in the manufacture of materials for peaceful use. We must remember that these materials we are now putting into weapons can, if never used as weapons, be easily converted for use in the production of power and the manufacture of radioactive substances for the benefit of man's health and welfare.

Atomic energy holds tremendous promise for a better life for all of us in the future, and we are advancing steadily toward greater realization of this promise. It is peculiarly fortunate, in my view, that atomic energy is also simultaneously providing the means by which we can preserve our lives, our freedom and our way of life until this promise is fulfilled.

My father, incidentally, was not only a great "sermonizer;" he was also a veteran of the Spanish American War and World War 1, and is buried in Arlington Cemetery. He knew that aggressors are not deterred by weakness, and—as he did—I sincerely hope that, through strength, we may have fewer new graves there in the future.

These Charged With Communism Are Playing Big Part in Copper Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 30 — The slow, clumsy machinery of the federal government isn't preventing the tragic loss of production every day now of one of the most vital of all the metals needed for the rearmament program—namely, copper.

Charges are heard that the Kremlin has moved in to impair our rearmament program on the home front while Congress is debating how to spend billions to stop communism abroad.

There are some suspicious circumstances connected with the strike which today has shut down 95 per cent of the nation's production of copper. Persons who have been charged before congressional committees with being Communists are alleged to be playing a part indirectly in the strikes that are aimed at stoppage of production in strategic industries.

More than 100,000 workers are idle in the copper strike, and it seems plausible that, with the importance of copper production at this moment, influences which wanted a strike in order to curtail production were present somewhere in the background of this dispute.

The country knows very little about how Communists infiltrate unions here, as they do abroad. The vast majority of the American trade unions are free from Communist influence but even the best of them do not know sometimes when insidious efforts are made to tie up key industries. It is relatively easy for some groups which want a strike to set in motion inside a union a factional dispute that can force the hands of the officers.

With all the investigating of Communist activities that has been done by congressional committees, very little has been directed toward the operations of Communists inside labor unions. This is largely due to the manner in which the loyal groups in most unions have made short shrift of the disloyal. But it would probably be of great assistance to them if the congressional committees did expose some of the methods and means by which strikes are engineered by a key group of Communists.

In the case of the copper strike, the moves that can be made to end the strike, either under the Taft-Hartley Law or by seizure, are likely to take time. The process whereby an injunction is obtained would take 10 days. Meanwhile, valuable tonnage of copper would be lost and the stockpile which the nation has accumulated for emergencies would be materially reduced. It has been hinted that the danger point would be approached.

The gravity of the situation is well understood at the Office of Defense Production. Serious consideration has been given there to various steps that might be taken to end the work stoppage. But it is conceded that the time that has to elapse will be costly in copper production.

The Wage Stabilization Board, which has had the dispute before it, has demanded that the union send its members back to work while the issues are considered but pleas from the government here have been of no avail.

The controversy revolves around the demand for a pay increase of about 20½ cents an hour, which is about ten cents less than the original request by the union. The pay at present is from $1.31 an hour for service laborers to $1.62 for miners. An increase of 20½ cents per hour is in excess of the formula of a ten per cent increase established by the Economic Stabilization Office. But the union leaders claim the Wage Stabilization Board has made a variety of rulings and that this one, if accepted by the board, would send the strikers back to work immediately.

Assuming that there is a basis for compromising the pay demands, it still doesn't solve the problem of how to avoid strikes while collective bargaining is in progress. Clearly Congress may have to pass restrictive legislation if any more strikes like that in copper should arise in the category of scarce commodities needed for the armament program.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 29 — Sport, like love, is an aesthetic or spiritual proposition which crumbles like an old shoe, or better say a cigarette ash, under analytical inspection. It is no more amenable to the process of reason than love is and, like love, has suffered from overemphasis.

A young man who goes out for the football team is, not to put too fine a point upon it, slightly crazy. He has an insensiate longing to make the 'varsity and win the Big Game and will thresh on his cot at night, his mind a turmoil of dramatic scenes in which he covers himself with glory, when he should be getting his sleep. This glory is illusory at best, however, like the boon of a maiden's favor.

The resemblance to the young man in the throes of the sweet agony is instantly apparent to anyone who has ever suffered from either or both of these conditions. Why, for example, does a young man with ideas about a young lady find enchantment in painful scenes which are so characteristic of this state that they have been standardized in literature? He rescues her from drowning, from ruffians, from predicaments of endless variety and complexity and is, himself, seriously roughed up, all to the end that he may achieve the unspeakable privilege of paying for her quarters, heat, light, rations, girdles and miscellany and submitting to a discipline unwonted and in many cases unreasonable.

Football is a very rough activity. Young men line up and, at mysterious signals, lunge at one another in scrimmage, crashing with such mighty impact that the hurt is plainly felt fifteen feet away. These awful shocks are repeated infinitely as coaches stride beside and behind, snarling disparagement to drive beaten bodies to greater furies so that they will not be fired and may even be hired away by the hated rival of the Alma Mater in question to frustrate Alma Mater next year. Blood appears from wounds in eyebrows and lips and dislocated noses. Most of these are great big young men, so strong that when they fling themselves together with the terrible abandon which is exacted of them, even in practice, muscles are torn and bones are broken. On Saturdays they are pitted—and that is an appropriate word, derived from the arena used for mortal fights between dogs and cocks,— team against team, strangers against strangers and, in the great mains of the universities hysteria reigns for miles and miles.

As the last season draws to a close, the young athlete begins to ask himself questions and his answers to himself are, in most cases, embarrassing. These questions may be summed up in one, Why? And, when he comes to think of it, he is darned if he knows. He is darned if he knows why he put himself to all this exertion, hurt and longing. He has added nothing to the glory of his Alma Mater, whose dignity is serenely aloof, and the felt letters on the jacket-sweater suddenly become juvenile now that he has won them, and never will be worn again except around the house in autumn when he is raking leaves or, years later, tossing a football with junior. Junior's mother will be the dream-queen whose merest flicker of a smile had been a rich reward the day he sprung his knee in the big game. Now she is still all right, to be sure. Sure, I love you. I told you so 10 years ago. But I am trying to read my paper.

All this, I say, except that the disillusionment seems to be spreading now and to be setting in much earlier. The football man is more and more a professional gladiator, apart from the run of undergraduates and paid for striving at his occupation. He has even been known to put in "for his workman's compensation when he is injured, and it is coming to mind in the athletic departments that there are dormant legal obligations on the institution which are sure to subdue the glory of it all.

Who can be a football hero in the old tradition when his mind is deviled with a sore temptation to stay down as the pile untangles, lie cold stone dead in the market and put in for pain, anguish and bodily injury? The non-combatant students may be permitted a firm apathy when they understand, as they do more and more in these days of increasing candor, that the "team" is not a representative student group but a passel of hirelings picked by scouts and frankly hired in a competitive market, and, finally, that their feats on Saturday afternoons are but the work of employes at their appointed jobs. Does one cheer the janitor for a smart burst of speed washing the windows of Old Main?

I have not said that it has come to this. I only say it is coming to

Q—What is the "sensitive plant"?

A—The mimosa. If the pot is gently shaken, or if the leaves are lightly touched, the leaflets fold up and the leaves immediately bend downwards as if the plant were dying. The fumes of many chemicals or even sudden changes in temperature produce a similar effect. If the disturbance is brief, the plant returns to its normal condition in a few minutes.

In the main, the war has wrought little noteworthy change in the life or strength of the Christian churches. . . ."

In 1951, this is no longer true in many parts of the world. In this same book, Dr. Van Dusen writes of missionary work in such countries as China where during the past two years Christianity has been stomped beneath the hooves of anti-Christian mobs.

We need, I am sure, to think of the battle against the religions of God in all the countries that are controlled from the Kremlin not in terms of Jews or Roman Catholics or Protestants, but as people of the Book, sons of God in an identical civilization. While maintaining our differences, we need to recognize that we are faced by the same enemy who hates us all. Perhaps that hatred will give us the wisdom to unite, not in dogma and ritual, but in the spirit of God.

This is becoming increasingly important as the enemy fights with every weapon, particularly by using the power of the state to corrupt young children. He rears them in schools where they are separated from all the treasures of human history and thought. They grow believing only what they are permitted to hear and see and they are blind to all the great forces that rescued man from slavery and brought him within the scope of social justice.

The real danger is not the present adult generation, for they have memories of church and synagogue, the joy of prayer, the sense of mercy, the richness of the true humility in the presence of God. They recall the beauty of Easter, the cleansing sense of Passover, the joy of Christmas, the piety of Yom Kippur.

It is the young in the Marxist countries who will never even have heard of the relationship of man to God, who will never have been in a house of worship, who will never have known of a religion of love.

They carry Ikons of Stalin and Mao and such creatures. They march behind these ikons. These are their Gods.

We saw the photographs of the youth festival in East Germany. There were the ikons, huge photographs of the masters of men, uninspired, monstrous photographs! These ikons are like the idols one sees in the temples of profane religions, vulgar, ugly idols.

In this century the young minds of boys and girls can be corrupted into receiving these blown-up photographs as the symbols of, shall we say, power, or is it, fear!

These young people will present to the next generations sick minds because their physical nature will never have been softened by the leavening, pacifying influence of religion, of God's love. They will know only that struggle begets struggle, that power comes to him who takes it, that man is but a creature like all else in nature, an all-purpose mammal that can talk.

For those who believe in God, this is a responsibility that all must face in this age. Here in our country we quarrel among ourselves over small matters while the enemy destroys our world.

For this is true: Our civilization is deeply rooted in the Old and New Testaments, in the Bible of both the Jews and the Christians. Without this foundation, all that we believe to be true must wither and die. Already, in countries of which Dr. Van Dusen wrote in his book only four years ago, we witness the resurgence of brutality, the torture of decent people for their ideas, their beliefs, their faith.

Already we are being faced by the corruption of our own children under our very eyes by so-called scientific methods which teach them that every concept that built their world of liberty is superstition. Even our political system blossoms on the stem of the Declaration of Independence, which in its preamble makes clear that those inalienable rights which our young people are taught to cherish as the Bill of Rights emanate from nature's God and nature's law.

This is our foundation and we must protect it or our world becomes like the sand of the desert, blinding the spirit, fruitless and unproductive.

That Body of Yours

ALLERGY MAY AFFECT CHARACTER

When we see an individual suffering with the symptoms of hay fever—stuffed nose, running eyes, sneezing—and realize that he or she will endure these symptoms for weeks or months, we are not surprised if we find them irritable during this period.

That there is a definite relation between character and allergy is stated by Dr. T. Wood Clarke (Utica, N. Y.) in Annals of Allergy. Dr. Clarke discusses reports from 95 allergists who noted that personality changes in children with allergy corrected themselves when the allergy element was removed. Among 122 children, the type of characteristics relieved by removing the allergy factor varied greatly. The commonest reports were of irritable, fretful, quarrelsome children who often had to be taken out of school because they upset classes and were considered incorrigible. After the nature of their allergy was discovered and steps taken to correct it, they became friendly, happy and cooperative. Others were boisterous, talked incessantly, overloudly, were overactive and inclined to be destructive. They became gentle, respectful and quiet after adequate treatment of their allergy.

Some timid, bashful allergic children, always depressed, tired and without ambition, became friendly and more vigorous in play. Some "backward" children, backward because of allergy, made great improvement at school in studies and conduct, when their allergy was corrected.

"Also, in many cases, oversolicitous (over-protective) parents misguidedly remove all control over the sick child and try to gratify his every whim," Dr. Clarke reports. "This attitude invariably produces an arrogant, demanding, unhappy child who becomes furious when any of his desires are thwarted. A reaction resembling giant hives in the brain could cause emotional responses which would change the normal child into an uncontrolled brat."

Dr. Clarke states that when the allergy reaction strikes the front lobes of the brain—the intellect—it causes character changes, the forerunner of the "problem" child which, when the child grows up, may mean need of institutional care.

"If every child who must be sent to a state hospital or every 'problem child' could be given a thorough allergy study, perhaps many would be found to be allergic, could be treated and returned home normal emotionally as well as physically."

Dr. Clarke urges greater cooperation between allergists and child psychiatrists in study of the "problem child."

While some parents and physicians may not be inclined to think that allergy could cause such changes from normal in character, the opinion of 95 allergists cannot be ignored.

Poor Butterfly

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note— While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being by Gordon Dean, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.)

Washington—The other day I received this letter from a lady who lives in a town where I spent a good share of my teen-age years:

"My Dear Mr. Dean:

"I see by the inclosed clipping that the United States is planning new A-bomb tests, and that the purpose is to see whether they have been made more deadly. I take it that, as in the past, the big aim is to scare the daylights out of Russia. She will, of course, go at it with a will, and try to outdo us in this devilish weapons-of-mass-destruction armaments race. Nice business!

"I should think that the terrible and disgraceful result of our little experiment with the A-bomb in Hiroshima and Nagasaki would make men, who call themselves Christian, confine their experiments with atomic energy to the wonderful things that can be done with it to improve life and industry—not destroy them.

"I remember your father here as a courageous and fine sermonizer, Mr. Dean. I think it is too bad for his son to concentrate on the murderous aspects of atomic energy."

This was a disturbing letter to receive, not because the lady is right—because she isn't—but rather because it shows that there are apparently honest, patriotic, thinking Americans who fear we are not justified in trying to maintain and increase our world leadership in the field of atomic energy.

I don't know how many people in the United States share the views of this lady. I hope there are not many, for they are just exactly the views the men in the Kremlin are asking the world to believe about us, and which they would dearly like to have us begin to believe about ourselves.

To hold the belief, even for a moment, that the Soviet leaders are in the atomic bomb business just because we are is one of the worst possible mistakes we could make. These men do not do things because we have done something first to stimulate them. They do things because they believe their own interests are best served by doing them, and they do them as part of their master plan to achieve domination of the world. We did nothing to force them to blockade Berlin. We did nothing to force them to take over Czechoslovakia. We did nothing to force them to send the North Koreans to invade South Korea. And we have done nothing to force them to block almost every single effort in the United Nations to bring peace to the world—including the American-supported U. N. plan to place atomic energy under effective international control.

Even if we did not have a single atomic bomb, I am convinced that the Soviet leaders would be just as hard at work building atomic bombs of their own, and—if they knew we had none—there would be much better chance than now exists that they would use such weapons against us. Our ever-growing stockpile of atomic weapons, far from being a stimulant to war, is actually the most important single safeguard against world war 3.

Our bombs are for defense—of ourselves and our allies. They are not for the purpose of making aggressive war against anyone. We used the atomic bomb against the Japanese not to destroy lives, but to save lives—the lives of the hundreds of thousands of Americans and Japanese that inevitably would have been lost if World War 2 had continued.

I believe our national atomic energy policy is the only policy that this nation—upon whose position in the world the lives of millions upon millions of people depend—could follow and still be consistent with the christian ideals and principles we try to live by. The American government could, of course, go to the men in the Kremlin and say:

"You have threatened us, so here are our atomic weapons; we are renouncing them and we are asking no guarantees in return. You are now free to deprive 150,000,000 Americans of the freedom for which their forefathers fought so dearly. You are free to destroy their places of worship; to hurl them into slave labor camps and prisons, and kill as many of them as you wish. Moreover, you are now free to take away the liberty of all the peoples of the world, not only in this generation, but forever."

To me, such a thing would be unthinkable, and most un-Christianlike.

It is war that is bad—not just atomic war. And it is the way atomic bombs are used that is bad—not the bombs themselves. Our bombs are to protect liberty and to prevent war until that day, which I sincerely hope will arrive, when the Soviet leaders provide some real evidence that they honestly want peace. And if war does come through Communist aggression they are the best means we have of saving the lives and liberties of those who would otherwise become communism's innocent victims.

We test atomic weapons because we must test them in our development program. We do not test them to scare anyone. They are actually evidences of the progress we are making, not only in weapons, but also in the manufacture of materials for peaceful use. We must remember that these materials we are now putting into weapons can, if never used as weapons, be easily converted for use in the production of power and the manufacture of radioactive substances for the benefit of man's health and welfare.

Atomic energy holds tremendous promise for a better life for all of us in the future, and we are advancing steadily toward greater realization of this promise. It is peculiarly fortunate, in my view, that atomic energy is also simultaneously providing the means by which we can preserve our lives, our freedom and our way of life until this promise is fulfilled.

My father, incidentally, was not only a great "sermonizer;" he was also a veteran of the Spanish American War and World War 1, and is buried in Arlington Cemetery. He knew that aggressors are not deterred by weakness, and—as he did—I sincerely hope that, through strength, we may have fewer new graves there in the future.

Pomatorhinus Montanus (The Scimitar Babbler) of Java is the only creature in all nature that has three parents. The nest always consists of 2 males and a female, in addition to the brood. Ornithologists have long been baffled by this design for living. One scientist who inquired for the sex of the three parents was told by a native guide: "The lady she always have two husbands."

These Charged With Communism Are Playing Big Part in Copper Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 30 — The slow, clumsy machinery of the federal government isn't preventing the tragic loss of production every day now of one of the most vital of all the metals needed for the rearmament program—namely, copper.

Charges are heard that the Kremlin has moved in to impair our rearmament program on the home front while Congress is debating how to spend billions to stop communism abroad.

There are some suspicious circumstances connected with the strike which today has shut down 95 per cent of the nation's production of copper. Persons who have been charged before congressional committees with being Communists are alleged to be playing a part indirectly in the strikes that are aimed at stoppage of production in strategic industries.

More than 100,000 workers are idle in the copper strike, and it seems plausible that, with the importance of copper production at this moment, influences which wanted a strike in order to curtail production were present somewhere in the background of this dispute.

The country knows very little about how Communists infiltrate unions here, as they do abroad. The vast majority of the American trade unions are free from Communist influence but even the best of them do not know sometimes when insidious efforts are made to tie up key industries. It is relatively easy for some groups which want a strike to set in motion inside a union a factional dispute that can force the hands of the officers.

With all the investigating of Communist activities that has been done by congressional committees, very little has been directed toward the operations of Communists inside labor unions. This is largely due to the manner in which the loyal groups in most unions have made short shrift of the disloyal. But it would probably be of great assistance to them if the congressional committees did expose some of the methods and means by which strikes are engineered by a key group of Communists.

In the case of the copper strike, the moves that can be made to end the strike, either under the Taft-Hartley Law or by seizure, are likely to take time. The process whereby an injunction is obtained would take 10 days. Meanwhile, valuable tonnage of copper would be lost and the stockpile which the nation has accumulated for emergencies would be materially reduced. It has been hinted that the danger point would be approached.

The gravity of the situation is well understood at the Office of Defense Production. Serious consideration has been given there to various steps that might be taken to end the work stoppage. But it is conceded that the time that has to elapse will be costly in copper production.

The Wage Stabilization Board, which has had the dispute before it, has demanded that the union send its members back to work while the issues are considered but pleas from the government here have been of no avail.

The controversy revolves around the demand for a pay increase of about 20½ cents an hour, which is about ten cents less than the original request by the union. The pay at present is from $1.31 an hour for service laborers to $1.62 for miners. An increase of 20½ cents per hour is in excess of the formula of a ten per cent increase established by the Economic Stabilization Office. But the union leaders claim the Wage Stabilization Board has made a variety of rulings and that this one, if accepted by the board, would send the strikers back to work immediately.

Assuming that there is a basis for compromising the pay demands, it still doesn't solve the problem of how to avoid strikes while collective bargaining is in progress. Clearly Congress may have to pass restrictive legislation if any more strikes like that in copper should arise in the category of scarce commodities needed for the armament program.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 29 — Sport, like love, is an aesthetic or spiritual proposition which crumbles like an old shoe, or better say a cigarette ash, under analytical inspection. It is no more amenable to the process of reason than love is and, like love, has suffered from overemphasis.

A young man who goes out for the football team is, not to put too fine a point upon it, slightly crazy. He has an insensiate longing to make the 'varsity and win the Big Game and will thresh on his cot at night, his mind a turmoil of dramatic scenes in which he covers himself with glory, when he should be getting his sleep. This glory is illusory at best, however, like the boon of a maiden's favor.

The resemblance to the young man in the throes of the sweet agony is instantly apparent to anyone who has ever suffered from either or both of these conditions. Why, for example, does a young man with ideas about a young lady find enchantment in painful scenes which are so characteristic of this state that they have been standardized in literature? He rescues her from drowning, from ruffians, from predicaments of endless variety and complexity and is, himself, seriously roughed up, all to the end that he may achieve the unspeakable privilege of paying for her quarters, heat, light, rations, girdles and miscellany and submitting to a discipline unwonted and in many cases unreasonable.

Football is a very rough activity. Young men line up and, at mysterious signals, lunge at one another in scrimmage, crashing with such mighty impact that the hurt is plainly felt fifteen feet away. These awful shocks are repeated infinitely as coaches stride beside and behind, snarling disparagement to drive beaten bodies to greater furies so that they will not be fired and may even be hired away by the hated rival of the Alma Mater in question to frustrate Alma Mater next year. Blood appears from wounds in eyebrows and lips and dislocated noses. Most of these are great big young men, so strong that when they fling themselves together with the terrible abandon which is exacted of them, even in practice, muscles are torn and bones are broken. On Saturdays they are pitted—and that is an appropriate word, derived from the arena used for mortal fights between dogs and cocks,— team against team, strangers against strangers and, in the great mains of the universities hysteria reigns for miles and miles.

As the last season draws to a close, the young athlete begins to ask himself questions and his answers to himself are, in most cases, embarrassing. These questions may be summed up in one, Why? And, when he comes to think of it, he is darned if he knows. He is darned if he knows why he put himself to all this exertion, hurt and longing. He has added nothing to the glory of his Alma Mater, whose dignity is serenely aloof, and the felt letters on the jacket-sweater suddenly become juvenile now that he has won them, and never will be worn again except around the house in autumn when he is raking leaves or, years later, tossing a football with junior. Junior's mother will be the dream-queen whose merest flicker of a smile had been a rich reward the day he sprung his knee in the big game. Now she is still all right, to be sure. Sure, I love you. I told you so 10 years ago. But I am trying to read my paper.

All this, I say, except that the disillusionment seems to be spreading now and to be setting in much earlier. The football man is more and more a professional gladiator, apart from the run of undergraduates and paid for striving at his occupation. He has even been known to put in for his workman's compensation when he is injured, and it is coming to mind in the athletic departments that there are dormant legal obligations on the institution which are sure to subdue the glory of it all.

Who can be a football hero in the old tradition when his mind is deviled with a sore temptation to stay down as the pile untangles, lie cold stone dead in the market and put in for pain, anguish and bodily injury? The non-combatant students may be permitted a firm apathy when they understand, as they do more and more in these days of increasing candor, that the "team" is not a representative student group but a passel of hirelings picked by scouts and frankly hired in a competitive market, and, finally, that their feats on Saturday afternoons are but the work of employes at their appointed jobs. Does one cheer the janitor for a smart burst of speed washing the windows of Old Main?

I have not said that it has come to this. I only say it is coming to

Questions — Answers

Q—What became of Thomas Paine after the American Revolution?

A—Paine returned to England in 1787 and was threatened with arrest as a traitor. He fled to France, where he defended Louis XVI, narrowly escaping execution by Robespierre. He returned to America where he died in 1809.

Q—What is the "sensitive plant"?

A—The mimosa. If the pot is gently shaken, or if the leaves are lightly touched, the leaflets fold up and the leaves immediately bend downwards as if the plant were dying. The fumes of many chemicals or even sudden changes in temperature produce a similar effect. If the disturbance is brief, the plant returns to its normal condition in a few minutes.

Destructive Weed

Prince Albert, Sask. (AP) — Thousands of dollars are being spent to eradicate the menace of two tough types of weed, the toad flax and the leafy spurge. These hardy perennials are a pretty sight and they decorate many gardens in western Canada, but they are damaging in grain fields. Many farmers in western Manitoba have been driven off farms rendered useless by these weeds. Chemicals won't kill the flowers of these weeds. In farm fields, it takes three full years of summer fallowing to bring them under control.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Food shoppers preparing for the summer's last big outing holiday will find price changes confined mostly to Labor Day specials.

Top grade eggs advanced one to three cents a dozen in many markets, as is usual in late August. But otherwise dairy, meat and poultry items held generally steady. Pork prices, after climbing irregularly for three weeks, stabilized at the recently-authorized higher ceilings.

Even in the fresh fruits and vegetables lines, adjustments based on seasonal supply trends were unusually scarce. At wholesale, lima beans, celery, western potatoes and sweet potatoes moved a trifle higher but the cnanges were usually too small to be reflected at retail.

Lower were western melons, prunes and plums, all citrus fruits, seedless grapes, apples, peppers, Spanish onions and snap beans.

Agriculture Department market reporters said tomatoes and peaches were cheap and plentiful and advised home canners to take advantage of the seasonal abundance now before supplies begin to taper off. Peaches and processed citrus products were featured on the department's national list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

Planning Promotions

A survey of major food store chains and independent supermarkets showed storekeepers were planning heavy promotions for the rest of the week to attract holiday-minded customers.

These foods were among those to be featured most generally, many with prices trimmed several cents a pound: Small turkeys, canned tuna, seedless grapes, peaches, pears, McIntosh apples (making their season's first appearance in many stores), western prunes, sweet corn, and such picnic favorites as canned pork and beans, marshmallows and cookies.

Several store chains cut the retail price of one nationally-known brand of vacuum-packed coffee (Beech-Nut) five cents a pound, effective today (Thursday). The drop reflected a slightly smaller reduction at wholesale which coffee trade sources said was a promotion allowance to dealers which might be withdrawn after a few weeks. Prices of green coffee beans have held fairly stationary for several months.

Plentiful Foods

Here's the Agriculture Department's national list of foods expected to be plentiful—and therefore relatively cheap—for the month of September.

Grapes, canned apples and applesauce, processed citrus juices, beets, cabbage, broiling and frying chickens, hens, fresh and frozen fish, nonfat dry milk solids, cottage cheese and peanut butter.

Wholesale food prices declined this week for the third week in a row, the Dun & Bradstreet food index showed. The index at $6.89 was four cents below last week, and within one cent of the year's low to date—$6.88 on July 17. A year ago it was $6.69. The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

South's Mid-Bid Causes Over-Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand came to me piecemeal. In a letter from Chicago I got the North hand only and a question about the bid of three clubs. "Was this a good bid?"

In the same mail there was another letter from Chicago, enclosing the South hand only. "Should South bid four no-trump after North bids three clubs followed by four hearts?"

It didn't take much detective work on my part to discover that the two hands belonged together—especially since both letters came in exactly the same sort of envelope. And of course it's much easier to bid a hand wisely when you can see both hands of the partnership.

But it should be possible to bid this kind of hand wisely without peeking. All you have to do is set up some reasonable standard requirement for the jump take-out to three clubs.

	NORTH 30 ♠ A K J ♥ Q J 9 ♦ 7 4 ♣ A J 10 9 6
WEST ♠ 9 8 4 2 ♥ 5 3 ♦ K Q J 6 2 ♣ 5 2		EAST ♠ Q 10 5 ♥ 4 2 ♦ 10 9 5 3 ♣ K Q 8 4
	SOUTH (D) ♠ 7 6 3 ♥ A K 10 8 7 6 ♦ A 8 ♣ 7 3

North-South vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
4 N.-T.	Pass	5 ♥	Pass
6 ♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦ K

When your partner opens the bidding, you are entitled to make a jump take-out in a new suit if your hand is better than a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. If your strength is partly distributional, you are entitled to count a singleton as though it were a king and an ace as though it were a void. A doubleton is not worth quite as much as a queen.

Let's look at the North hand on that basis. The high-card strength is just about what you'd need for a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. (Mind you, it wouldn't be proper to bid one no-trump; it's just that the high cards are right for it.) But we agreed that we need better than such a hand for a jump take-out. So it is not normally worth a jump to three clubs.

However, North should bid three clubs because of the part score. He is entitled to make a slight stretch. But he should remember that he has stretched.

Later on, South must not bid four no-trump. He doesn't want to know about North's aces. He wants to ask: "Do you have extra values? If so, bid the slam. Otherwise, drop me at less than slam."

In short, South should bid five hearts, and North should pass. Five hearts would be made fairly easily, whereas six hearts would be set.

Retirement Outlook

Los Angeles (AP) — Retirement age is no longer a time of lonely, static existing, but a period of productive, active living, says Dr. Norman P. Miller, assistant professor of physical education at the University of California. Miller says retirement these days is known for its "creative living, community activity and profitable avocations." He recommends advance planning for those about to retire from regular jobs. First, the right place to settle down for each individual should be selected, then the right kind of hobbies, and the right kind of group or club to join should be carefully chosen says Dr. Miller.

Charlestown, W. Va., (AP) — Two three-cent coins were among the articles found in the Charlestown Presbyterian Church cornerstone, opened recently (July 1951) as part of a centennial observance. Also sealed in the stone were copies of publications, an elaborate testament, and a program for the cornerstone-laying ceremony 100 years ago. The original contents were resealed in the stone along with contributions from contemporary life.

Destructive Weed

Prince Albert, Sask. (AP) — Thousands of dollars are being spent to eradicate the menace of two tough types of weed, the toad flax and the leafy spurge. These hardy perennials are a pretty sight and they decorate many gardens in western Canada, but they are damaging in grain fields. Many farmers in western Manitoba have been driven off farms rendered useless by these weeds. Chemicals won't kill the flowers of these weeds. In farm fields, it takes three full years of summer fallowing to bring them under control.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Food shoppers preparing for the summer's last big outing holiday will find price changes confined mostly to Labor Day specials.

Top grade eggs advanced one to three cents a dozen in many markets, as is usual in late August. But otherwise dairy, meat and poultry items held generally steady. Pork prices, after climbing irregularly for three weeks, stabilized at the recently-authorized higher ceilings.

Even in the fresh fruits and vegetables lines, adjustments based on seasonal supply trends were unusually scarce. At wholesale, lima beans, celery, western potatoes and sweet potatoes moved a trifle higher but the changes were usually too small to be reflected at retail.

Lower were western melons, prunes and plums, all citrus fruits, seedless grapes, apples, peppers, Spanish onions and snap beans.

Agriculture Department market reporters said tomatoes and peaches were cheap and plentiful and advised home canners to take advantage of the seasonal abundance now before supplies begin to taper off. Peaches and processed citrus products were featured on the department's national list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week.

Planning Promotions

A survey of major food store chains and independent supermarkets showed storekeepers were planning heavy promotions for the rest of the week to attract holiday-minded customers.

These foods were among those to be featured most generally, many with prices trimmed several cents a pound: Small turkeys, canned tuna, seedless grapes, peaches, pears, McIntosh apples (making their season's first appearance in many stores), western prunes, sweet corn, and such picnic favorites as canned pork and beans, marshmallows and cookies.

Several store chains cut the retail price of one nationally-known brand of vacuum-packed coffee (Beech-Nut) five cents a pound, effective today (Thursday). The drop reflected a slightly smaller reduction at wholesale which coffee trade sources said was a promotion allowance to dealers which might be withdrawn after a few weeks. Prices of green coffee beans have held fairly stationary for several months.

Plentiful Foods

Here's the Agriculture Department's national list of foods expected to be plentiful—and therefore relatively cheap—for the month of September.

Grapes, canned apples and applesauce, processed citrus juices, beets, cabbage, broiling and frying chickens, hens, fresh and frozen fish, nonfat dry milk solids, cottage cheese and peanut butter.

Wholesale food prices declined this week for the third week in a row, the Dun & Bradstreet food index showed. The index at $6.89 was four cents below last week, and within one cent of the year's low to date—$6.88 on July 17. A year ago it was $6.69. The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

South's Mid-Bid Causes Over-Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand came to me piecemeal. In a letter from Chicago I got the North hand only and a question about the bid of three clubs. "Was this a good bid?"

In the same mail there was another letter from Chicago, enclosing the South hand only. "Should South bid four no-trump after North bids three clubs followed by four hearts?"

It didn't take much detective work on my part to discover that the two hands belonged together—especially since both letters came in exactly the same sort of envelope. And of course it's much easier to bid a hand wisely when you can see both hands of the partnership.

But it should be possible to bid this kind of hand wisely without peeking. All you have to do is set up some reasonable standard requirement for the jump take-out to three clubs.

Opening lead—♦ K

When your partner opens the bidding, you are entitled to make a jump take-out in a new suit if your hand is better than a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. If your strength is partly distributional, you are entitled to count a singleton as though it were a king and an ace as though it were a void. A doubleton is not worth quite as much as a queen.

Let's look at the North hand on that basis. The high-card strength is just about what you'd need for a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. (Mind you, it wouldn't be proper to bid one no-trump; it's just that the high cards are right for it.) But we agreed that we need better than such a hand for a jump take-out. So it is not normally worth a jump to three clubs.

However, North should bid three clubs because of the part score. He is entitled to make a slight stretch. But he should remember that he has stretched.

Later on, South must not bid four no-trump. He doesn't want to know about North's aces. He wants to ask: "Do you have extra values? If so, bid the slam. Otherwise, drop me at less than slam."

In short, South should bid five hearts, and North should pass. Five hearts would be made fairly easily, whereas six hearts would be set.

Retirement Outlook

Los Angeles (AP) — Retirement age is no longer a time of lonely, static existing, but a period of productive, active living, says Dr. Norman P. Miller, assistant professor of physical education at the University of California. Miller says retirement these days is known for its "creative living, community activity and profitable avocations." He recommends advance planning for those about to retire from regular jobs. First, the right place to settle down for each individual should be selected, then the right kind of hobbies, and the right kind of group or club to join should be carefully chosen says Dr. Miller.

In China, monkeys were once used in a phase of harvesting tea crops.

Century-Old Vault Opened

Charlestown, W. Va., (AP) — Two three-cent coins were among the articles found in the Charlestown Presbyterian Church cornerstone, opened recently (July 1951) as part of a centennial observance. Also sealed in the stone were copies of publications, an elaborate testament, and a program for the cornerstone-laying ceremony 100 years ago. The original contents were resealed in the stone along with contributions from contemporary life.

Commuting in Style

Port Sulphur, La. (AP)—About 400 commuters operate the Grande Ecaille sulphur mine of Freeport Sulphur Co., in the marshy area of the Mississippi delta country. It is accessible only by water. There is no rush-hour traffic to jar jangled nerves. For the 10-mile half-hour trip twice daily the company maintains a fleet of Diesel-powered cabin cruisers. Each boat can accommodate 50 persons—all in well-cushioned seats.

Electrol Plant and Products Discussed at Rotary Meeting

John Frain, an engineer at the Electrol plant, gave a graphic outline of what is made and how it originates at the local industrial plant before the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

Prefacing his remarks with a brief review of the history of Electrol, the speaker said:

We started in Kingston in December 1940 in the plant of the Apollo Magneto Company. When war came a year later, we were a going concern and it became necessary to expand quickly. The large adjoining building was purchased and machinery was acquired. At that time, we were working almost exclusively for Grumman Aircraft making hydraulic valves and cylinders. We turned out tens of thousands of these units during World War 2.

When the war ended most of our orders were, naturally, canceled. It was several months before any semblance of production was resumed. In 1946 the private plane boom was on and we came in for our share of the hydraulic components. It was at this time that we designed and built our first landing gear. The boom did not last but we were in the landing gear business to stay. This item now constitutes a large portion of our output. In 1948 we designed and built the landing gear for the "Thunderbolt," which now is giving a good account of itself in Korea and Europe.

Explains Components

In discussing the units, the engineer explained some of the components and what they do, illustrating his talk with chalk sketches. A basic system, he said consists of a pump, which is usually driven by the plane's engine; a reservoir, which holds the hydraulic fluid; a relief valve, which maintains the required pressure in the system, a selector valve, which directs the flow through either end of the cylinder; and an actuating cylinder, which does the work. There may be many of these cylinders in the one system to do various jobs such as retracting the landing gear, opening the bomb bay doors folding the wings for storage, etc. Different forces are required for different jobs but these forces may be varied in the same system by changing the diameters of the various cylinders.

In describing how a particular item gets its start, the speaker presented the following two ways:

A customer may have us make a unit to his drawings. For example certain parts we now are making for one manufacturer are made from their drawings. During the war we did the design of this customer's products as well but when the war ended, they wanted to keep their engineering personnel so took over all of the design work, that was formerly done by us—their sub-contractors.

Solution is Presented

A customer may present us with a problem, the solution of which results in a design by us. This probably is how most of our products originate. Several years ago, Republic Aviation was developing the "Thunderbolt" and it was found that when high speeds were obtained, it was very difficult for the pilot to actuate the ailerons. They devised a hydraulic booster for which we designed the valve. The valve is actuated by the stick causing hydraulic fluid to flow to either side of the booster, depending upon which way the stick is moved. Therefore, hydraulic power does the work. The only load on the stick is that required to move the valve and that is negligible. The valve also contained a built-in damper to cushion the vibration.

Another example of the method just described is the landing gear of the same airplane. The most difficult requirement was that as the gear retracted into the wing it had to shrink six inches. This was to provide more space for fuel. We noted that a previous design by another manufacturer was giving considerable trouble due to breakage, so our engineers went at it from a different angle and came up with a gear that was several pounds lighter and contained 50 fewer parts. Needless to say, our landing gear fitted into the airplane without any modification of the wing.

A third way in which a unit gets its start is in the so-called standard item. This is a valve such as a relief, selector, or other which is in common use by many airplane manufacturers. A specification is set up by the government covering the performance and maximum size of the unit. Rigid tests and life cycles are conducted here at Electrol and again at a government laboratory. We have several such items which are approved already and others which are undergoing tests.

Industrial Output

Another facet of our operations is our industrial hydraulics design. While we are known primarily for our aircraft hydraulics, we have developed since the war a sizeable industrial output. When the Korean war started, this was accounting for a good part of our gross sales. While the principle remains the same, the application of hydraulics to industrial problems is almost infinite in variety and number. Here are few examples. Two years ago we were approached by an incubator company in Ohio. It seems that in an incubator the eggs have to be turned at regular intervals day and night. This resulted in much inconvenience for the chicken farmer. Hydraulics seemed to be the answer. One of the problems was the time interval and the others were the speed and gentleness of operation. The first requirement was a cylinder with a motor, pump and relief valve. A speed control valve took care of the speed and a tork clock, which many use to turn off display lights at night, was used to control the time interval. Relays, switches and solenoids took care of the stopping, reversing and starting the cycle, each time it was required. This device has received wide acceptance among hatchery men.

In another instance an ice cream manufacturer in Philadelphia required a special cylinder to push the large blocks of ice cream through cutting blades prior to packaging. Ordinarily, a hydraulic cylinder may leak a few drops during several hundred cycles of operation. Any leakage, at all on this application, could not be tolerated. We were able to solve this by a special double seal and drain, devised by us.

In closing the speaker extended an invitation to visit the plant, where he or Morgan Ryan would be glad to show the Rotarians about the various departments.

President Dykstra on behalf of the club thanked Joseph Kramer, program chairman for the month of August, for the excellence of the programs.

Knights of Malta

been received from Italy. Some of the planes already have been fitted with stretcher carriers, and the first four of these flew to Dublin this week on their first aerial mission. They carried crippled and ailing Irish Catholic pilgrims to the French Miracle Shrine at Lourdes yesterday.

The planes are kept at Italian military air bases—at Guidonia near Rome and at other air force fields near Venice, La Spezia, Naples and Taranto.

The planes have been handed over as outright gifts to the Sovereign and Military Order of Malta. The eight-centuries-old order has neither territory nor population, but it has diplomatic representatives at the Vatican and in Spain, Portugal and Argentina.

In Italy its members drive automobiles with "Order of Malta" license plates and do not have to have Italian plates.

One of the order's principal activities is to maintain hospitals and first aid services to war injured. The order took its present name during the two centuries when it ruled the Isle of Malta, now held by Britain as a mid-Mediterranean naval base. Earlier it had been called the "Hospitaller Knights of St. John of Jerusalem." It was given its sovereign status for its part in the crusades and in the post-crusade defense of Rhodes and Malta.

The plane transfer idea is a new one. But already the Knights of Malta have an "air force" one-fourth as big as Italy's.

Electrol Plant and Products Discussed at Rotary Meeting

John Frain, an engineer at the Electrol plant, gave a graphic outline of what is made and how it originates at the local industrial plant before the Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon-meeting held Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant.

Prefacing his remarks with a brief review of the history of Electrol, the speaker said:

We started in Kingston in December 1940 in the plant of the Apollo Magneto Company. When war came a year later, we were a going concern and it became necessary to expand quickly. The large adjoining building was purchased and machinery was acquired. At that time, we were working almost exclusively for Grumman Aircraft making hydraulic valves and cylinders. We turned out tens of thousands of these units during World War 2.

When the war ended most of our orders were, naturally, canceled. It was several months before any semblance of production was resumed. In 1946 the private plane boom was on and we came in for our share of the hydraulic components. It was at this time that we designed and built our first landing gear. The boom did not last but we were in the landing gear business to stay. This item now constitutes a large portion of our output. In 1948 we designed and built the landing gear for the "Thunderbolt," which now is giving a good account of itself in Korea and Europe.

Explains Components

In discussing the units, the engineer explained some of the components and what they do, illustrating his talk with chalk sketches. A basic system, he said consists of a pump, which is usually driven by the plane's engine; a reservoir, which holds the hydraulic fluid; a relief valve, which maintains the required pressure in the system, a selector valve, which directs the flow through either end of the cylinder; and an actuating cylinder, which does the work. There may be many of these cylinders in the one system to do various jobs such as retracting the landing gear, opening the bomb bay doors folding the wings for storage, etc. Different forces are required for different jobs but these forces may be varied in the same system by changing the diameters of the various cylinders.

In describing how a particular item gets its start, the speaker presented the following two ways:

Bradley, 47, Dies Of His Injuries

James F. Bradley, 47, of 62 Newkirk avenue, who state police said was critically injured Monday night in an accident on Route 9W, died at Kingston Hospital at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Bradley was born in this city, son of Mary Gorman Bradley and the late Hugh Bradley. He was a salesman, traveling for an advertising firm, and was well known here and in the large territory he covered in his business.

Besides his mother, Bradley is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles Schaffner of Albany avenue extension. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, and at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The accident in which Bradley was injured occurred at 9:30 p. m. Monday on Route 9W near the Glenerie Lake road. State police reported that John Parslow of Saugerties told them that he was driving north on Route 9W when he saw Bradley, a pedestrian, come from the shoulder of the road on to the pavement. Parslow said he applied his brakes and swerved to the left but was unable to avoid hitting him, troopers said.

Coroner Michael A. Galietta is investigating, and, according to state police, a verdict of accidental death is expected.

She Had Her Baby

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—"I will have my baby," she said. "They'll see." And "they"—the anxious doctors and nurses—did when Mrs. Angelina Schaefer had a fine, healthy seven-pound girl yesterday at Brooklyn's Caledonia Hospital. Less than four months ago, Mrs. Schaefer and her husband jumped from a third-story window to escape the flames which destroyed their home. Doctors shook their heads over her broken hip, fractured pelvis and shattered heel, and said the baby, by all the rules, would not be born alive. Mrs. Schaefer was taken from a body cast for the Caesarean delivery.

Waxey Loses Fight

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Waxey Gordon lost his fight today for a reduction of the $250,000 bail in which he is being held on narcotics charges. Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan, Jr., dismissed a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Gordon, whose real name is Irving Wexler. Assistant District Attorney Irving Slonim said that if bail is reduced and Gordon is released, "certain people" might attempt to keep him from talking.

DIED

BRADLEY—In this city, Wednesday, August 29, 1951, James F., son of Mary Gorman and the late Hugh Bradley and brother of Mrs. Charles Schaffner.

Funeral will be held Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home and at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may visit the funeral home at any time.

SAVIANO—Raffaela, (nee Giglio) on Wednesday, August 29, 1951, of 210 Foxhall avenue, beloved wife of Biagio Saviano, mother of Lawrence Saviano.

Funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, Saturday morning, September 1, at 9:45 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered at 10:30 a. m., for the repose of her soul. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call any time.

VOGT—In this city, August 30, 1951, Floyd H. Vogt, Sr., father of C. Kendall, Roger W., Alan and Floyd H. Vogt, Jr., brother of Walter C., Charles L. and Sheldon Vogt.

Funeral services will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home Inc., 296 Fair street, Saturday, September 1, 1951, at 2:30. Burial will be in the Hurley Cemetery.

Attention Officers and Members Golden Sunset Lodge No. 237

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen announce with deep sorrow the death of a charter member, Mrs. William Vance. The funeral will be held from her late residence, 104 Second avenue, Albany, Friday at 7 p. m.

Local Death Record

Herbert S. Lounsbery

Funeral services for Herbert S. Lounsbery who died in New Brunswick, N. J., Monday, Aug. 27 were held at the parlors of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, today at 10 a. m. The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger of St. John's Episcopal Church, this city, officiated. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Fred M. Cole

Funeral services for Fred M. Cole of Union Center, who died August 27 were held at the Community Chapel there Wednesday at 2 p. m. The Rev. Robert Baines of that congregation officiated. Many friends called at the parlors of A. Carr and Son to pay their respects. Burial was in Riverview Cemetery, Port Ewen.

Mrs. Raffaela Saviano

Mrs. Raffaela Giglio Saviano, of 210 Foxhall avenue, died at her residence Wednesday after a long illness. She is survived by her husband, Biagio Saviano and a son, Lawrence Saviano. The funeral will be held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, Saturday at 9:45 a. m. thence to St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered at 10:30 a. m. for the repose of her soul. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. Friends may call any time.

Isadore Werbalowsky

Funeral services for Isadore Werbalowsky were held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home. Services were conducted by Rabbi Philip H. Weinberg and Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport. There were so many friends in attendance that all could not be accommodated at the service but filed past the casket after the service was concluded. Tuesday night many friends and a large delegation of the members of Rapid Hose called to pay their last respects, led by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy. Burial was in Montrepose Cemetery where Rabbi Weinberg gave the final committal.

Floyd H. Vogt

Floyd H. Vogt of Hurley died suddenly in this city Thursday afternoon after a short illness. Mr. Vogt was a former resident of this city and a well known builder and contractor for many years. He was also a veteran of World War 1. He is survived by four sons, C. Kendall Vogt of this city, Roger W. Vogt of Geneva; Alan Vogt of this city and Floyd H. Vogt, Jr., of Hurley; five grandchildren; three brothers, Walter C. Vogt of Hollywood, Fla.; Charles L. Vogt of this city; Ross Sheldon Vogt of Ridgefield Park, N. J.; one uncle and aunt, several nieces and nephews. Funeral services will be held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair street, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in the Hurley Cemetery.

Sister M. Clare, OSB

Sister M. Clare, OSB, died Wednesday at the Benedictine Hospital following a long illness. Sister Clare, who had been a resident here since 1943, was the daughter of the late Paul and Frido Lina Sibler Wiest. She is survived by two sisters, Sister M. Hilary, OSB, at Mother House, Elizabeth, N. J., and Mrs. Rose Wiest, of Astoria, L. I., two nephews, the Rev. Joseph Wiest, of Astoria, L. I., two nephews, the Rev. Joseph Wiest, of St. Augustine's Church Rest, Brooklyn; and the Rev. John Wiest, of Our Lady Help of Christian Church, Brooklyn. The body was taken today to Elizabeth, N. J., by the James M. Murphy Funeral Home. The funeral will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. with a solemn high Mass in the Chapel of Mother House. Burial will be in Woodridge, N. J.

William C. Hasselman

William C. Hasselman died suddenly at his home in Perth Amboy, N. J., Saturday, August 25. He was retired from the American Cigar Company and had also been connected with the Standard Oil Company in that city. Numerous and beautiful floral pieces banked the casket and he was bereaved by many friends and relatives. Tuesday night services were held by the Odd Fellows and the Moose. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 11 a. m. from the Flynn & Son Funeral Home in Perth Amboy. Officiating was the Rev. Robert Schlotter of Grace Lutheran Church, where Mr. Hasselman had been a deacon and faithful member during his many years of residence in Perth Amboy. Burial was at the Alpine Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Mary; daughter, Barbara; four sisters, Mrs. Anna E. Duryee, Mrs. Hilda Griffin, Mrs. Matilda Hornbeck, Mrs. Alma Snyder; and two brothers, Albert and Paul.

Pierce J. Watson

The funeral of Pierce J. Watson of Port Ewen was held Wednesday from the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home at 9:15 a. m. and at the Church of The Presentation, Port Ewen, at 10 a. m, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Joseph Comyns, S.Ss.R. Miss Patricia Keefe sang the responses to the Mass and at the conclusion of the Mass sang The Star Spangled Banner assisted at the organ by Theodore Riccobono. The church was filled with the many friends and business associates of Mr. Watson. Assisting at the requiem were delegations of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and the New York Telephone Co. from Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Saugerties, Catskill, Albany, Woodstock, New York and Springfield, Mass. During the time the body reposed at the funeral home hundreds called to pay their last respects and to offer condolence to Mrs. Watson. Tuesday afternoon the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PRVF called and said prayers for the dead. Tuesday night members of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion led by Commander Roger Mabie held their ritualistic service. At 8 o'clock Father Comyns led the members of the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Presentation in the recitation of the Rosary and at 8:30 o'clock more than 150 employes of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the New York Telephone Co. from the various districts attended in a group. There were beautiful flowers from representative groups and Mass cards from Mr. Watson's many friends. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Comyns gave the final blessing after which the flag was presented to Mrs. Watson. Bearers were Joseph C. Melonson, John J. Schwenk, Arthur Eymann, Joseph C. Gallagher, Charles W. Brevoort and Paul V. Werner.

Campers Visit Farm

A bus load of happy youngsters and counselors from Camp Greenkill spent Wednesday, August 29, at the Catskill Game Farm. Aunt Georgia prepared a delicious picnic lunch which was enjoyed by all on the picnic grounds at the animal farm. Many pictures were taken. Singing camp songs while in the bus kept the children in a festive spirit. This was a post-season week with 29 children attending. The camp is closing Saturday with a birthday celebration for one of the campers, Michelle Brande, a custom which is followed throughout the season.

First Stickup for Both

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—For 23 years Miss Katherine Hanlan wondered what she would do if a hold-up man came to her bank window. Today, she found out. "Don't be alarmed. This is a stick-up. Hand over your money," that's what the note handed to the slight blonde teller said. Miss Hanlan saw only "this is a stick-up" and slid to the floor. She whispered a hoarse warning to another woman teller. She whispered to the manager. He calmly phoned police. Police arrested Donato Riveruzzi, 53, of (179 Park avenue), Brooklyn. It was his first hold-up, too, they said. They found him still standing—unarmed—in front of Miss Hanlan's window when they arrived at the Borough Hall, Brooklyn, branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company.

Tour Is Finished

Rome, Aug. 30 (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery today finished an extensive tour of Italian frontier defenses with high praise for Italy resurgent army. Montgomery, who is deputy supreme commander of Atlantic Pact forces, told newsmen he had been particularly impressed by two divisions he fought in the battle of El Alamein — the Ariete (Battering Ram) and Folgore (Lightning). "They gave us a lot of trouble then and we could give an enemy a lot of trouble with them now," he said.

Plane Crashes, One Killed

Mildenhall, Eng., Aug. 30 (AP)—A U. S. Air Force Thunderjet fighter plane crashed and burned near the Royal Air Force station here yesterday, killing the pilot and setting fire to a cottage. Headquarters of the Seventh Air Division today identified the pilot as Lt. Wayne Robert Finch, 26. He is survived by his wife and two children living at Austin, Tex.

Handy Bench Rule

A rule has a way of getting lost or covered with shavings or what not on a workbench. Much time can be saved by mortising a good quality yardstick into the edge of the bench in the manner used on drygoods counters. Or measure off carefully and mark the edge of the bench with India ink, covering the strip with a coat of thinned shellac or varnish.

Grass Fire Checked

Firemen were called yesterday to check a grass fire near the Eichler Hotel on Railroad avenue.

Actor Dies

Won't Close Case

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—President Truman said today the Oatis case will never be closed until the Associated Press correspondent gets out of jail in Czechoslovakia.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Prices continued their merry upward climb on the stock market today, with activity at the best pace of the week.

Most of the advances were less than a point and there were few gains that reached yesterday's heights. But the number of stocks moving ahead were a substantial majority and were spread through the list.

Steels led the upward movement and oils were prominent among the gainers.

Some traders believed the accelerated defense program planned for the final quarter and 1952 was the most impressive factor in the market.

Graham-Paige was up a small fraction. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown and Wheeling all moved ahead a bit.

Despite the copper strike, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were up around a point at one time and Anaconda moved ahead a lesser figure. American Smelting was down a fraction.

Standard Oil of California, Texas Co., and Gulf Oil showed advances and Superior Oil of California, which is not traded frequently, advanced seven points at one time.

Goodyear, Goodrich and U. S. Rubber were among the gainers. Chrysler and Studebaker on the upside.

Bradley, 47, Dies Of His Injuries

James F. Bradley, 47, of 62 Newkirk avenue, who state police said was critically injured Monday night in an accident on Route 9W, died at Kingston Hospital at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Bradley was born in this city, son of Mary Gorman Bradley and the late Hugh Bradley. He was a salesman, traveling for an advertising firm, and was well known here and in the large territory he covered in his business.

Besides his mother, Bradley is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles Schaffner of Albany avenue extension. The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, and at 9:30 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery.

The accident in which Bradley was injured occurred at 9:30 p. m. Monday on Route 9W near the Glenerie Lake road. State police reported that John Parslow of Saugerties told them that he was driving north on Route 9W when he saw Bradley, a pedestrian, come from the shoulder of the road on to the pavement. Parslow said he applied his brakes and swerved to the left but was unable to avoid hitting him, troopers said.

Coroner Michael A. Galietta is investigating, and, according to state police, a verdict of accidental death is expected.

She Had Her Baby

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—"I will have my baby," she said. "They'll see." And "they"—the anxious doctors and nurses—did when Mrs. Angelina Schaefer had a fine, healthy seven-pound girl yesterday at Brooklyn's Caledonia Hospital. Less than four months ago, Mrs. Schaefer and her husband jumped from a third-story window to escape the flames which destroyed their home. Doctors shook their heads over her broken hip, fractured pelvis and shattered heel, and said the baby, by all the rules, would not be born alive. Mrs. Schaefer was taken from a body cast for the Caesarean delivery.

Waxey Loses Fight

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Waxey Gordon lost his fight today for a reduction of the $250,000 bail in which he is being held on narcotics charges. Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Nathan, Jr., dismissed a writ of habeas corpus obtained by Gordon, whose real name is Irving Wexler. Assistant District Attorney Irving Slonim said that if bail is reduced and Gordon is released, "certain people" might attempt to keep him from talking.

William C. Hasselman died suddenly at his home in Perth Amboy, N. J., Saturday, August 25. He was retired from the American Cigar Company and had also been connected with the Standard Oil Company in that city. Numerous and beautiful floral pieces banked the casket and he was bereaved by many friends and relatives. Tuesday night services were held by the Odd Fellows and the Moose. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 11 a. m. from the Flynn & Son Funeral Home in Perth Amboy. Officiating was the Rev. Robert Schlotter of Grace Lutheran Church, where Mr. Hasselman had been a deacon and faithful member during his many years of residence in Perth Amboy. Burial was at the Alpine Cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Mary; daughter, Barbara; four sisters, Mrs. Anna E. Duryee, Mrs. Hilda Griffin, Mrs. Matilda Hornbeck, Mrs. Alma Snyder; and two brothers, Albert and Paul.

Pierce J. Watson

The funeral of Pierce J. Watson of Port Ewen was held Wednesday from the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home at 9:15 a. m. and at the Church of The Presentation, Port Ewen, at 10 a. m, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Joseph Comyns, S.Ss.R. Miss Patricia Keefe sang the responses to the Mass and at the conclusion of the Mass sang The Star Spangled Banner assisted at the organ by Theodore Riccobono. The church was filled with the many friends and business associates of Mr. Watson. Assisting at the requiem were delegations of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., and the New York Telephone Co. from Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Saugerties, Catskill, Albany, Woodstock, New York and Springfield, Mass. During the time the body reposed at the funeral home hundreds called to pay their last respects and to offer condolence to Mrs. Watson. Tuesday afternoon the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PRVF called and said prayers for the dead. Tuesday night members of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion led by Commander Roger Mabie held their ritualistic service. At 8 o'clock Father Comyns led the members of the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Presentation in the recitation of the Rosary and at 8:30 o'clock more than 150 employes of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the New York Telephone Co. from the various districts attended in a group. There were beautiful flowers from representative groups and Mass cards from Mr. Watson's many friends. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Comyns gave the final blessing after which the flag was presented to Mrs. Watson. Bearers were Joseph C. Melonson, John J. Schwenk, Arthur Eymann, Joseph C. Gallagher, Charles W. Brevoort and Paul V. Werner.

Campers Visit Farm

A bus load of happy youngsters and counselors from Camp Greenkill spent Wednesday, August 29, at the Catskill Game Farm. Aunt Georgia prepared a delicious picnic lunch which was enjoyed by all on the picnic grounds at the animal farm. Many pictures were taken. Singing camp songs while in the bus kept the children in a festive spirit. This was a post-season week with 29 children attending. The camp is closing Saturday with a birthday celebration for one of the campers, Michelle Brande, a custom which is followed throughout the season.

First Stickup for Both

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—For 23 years Miss Katherine Hanlan wondered what she would do if a hold-up man came to her bank window. Today, she found out. "Don't be alarmed. This is a stick-up. Hand over your money," that's what the note handed to the slight blonde teller said. Miss Hanlan saw only "this is a stick-up" and slid to the floor. She whispered a hoarse warning to another woman teller. She whispered to the manager. He calmly phoned police. Police arrested Donato Riveruzzi, 53, of (179 Park avenue), Brooklyn. It was his first hold-up, too, they said. They found him still standing—unarmed—in front of Miss Hanlan's window when they arrived at the Borough Hall, Brooklyn, branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company.

Tour Is Finished

Rome, Aug. 30 (AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery today finished an extensive tour of Italian frontier defenses with high praise for Italy resurgent army. Montgomery, who is deputy supreme commander of Atlantic Pact forces, told newsmen he had been particularly impressed by two divisions he fought in the battle of El Alamein — the Ariete (Battering Ram) and Folgore (Lightning). "They gave us a lot of trouble then and we could give an enemy a lot of trouble with them now," he said.

Plane Crashes, One Killed

Mildenhall, Eng., Aug. 30 (AP)—A U. S. Air Force Thunderjet fighter plane crashed and burned near the Royal Air Force station here yesterday, killing the pilot and setting fire to a cottage. Headquarters of the Seventh Air Division today identified the pilot as Lt. Wayne Robert Finch, 26. He is survived by his wife and two children living at Austin, Tex.

Handy Bench Rule

A rule has a way of getting lost or covered with shavings or what not on a workbench. Much time can be saved by mortising a good quality yardstick into the edge of the bench in the manner used on drygoods counters. Or measure off carefully and mark the edge of the bench with India ink, covering the strip with a coat of thinned shellac or varnish.

Grass Fire Checked

Firemen were called yesterday to check a grass fire near the Eichler Hotel on Railroad avenue.

Actor Dies

Robert Walker (above), 32-year-old motion picture actor, died in his Brentwood, Cal., home, August 28. Two doctors who attended Walker ascribed his death to natural causes.

Won't Close Case

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—President Truman said today the Oatis case will never be closed until the Associated Press correspondent gets out of jail in Czechoslovakia.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Prices continued their merry upward climb on the stock market today, with activity at the best pace of the week.

Most of the advances were less than a point and there were few gains that reached yesterday's heights. But the number of stocks moving ahead were a substantial majority and were spread through the list.

Steels led the upward movement and oils were prominent among the gainers.

Some traders believed the accelerated defense program planned for the final quarter and 1952 was the most impressive factor in the market.

Graham-Paige was up a small fraction. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown and Wheeling all moved ahead a bit.

Despite the copper strike, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge were up around a point at one time and Anaconda moved ahead a lesser figure. American Smelting was down a fraction.

Standard Oil of California, Texas Co., and Gulf Oil showed advances and Superior Oil of California, which is not traded frequently, advanced seven points at one time.

Goodyear, Goodrich and U. S. Rubber were among the gainers. Chrysler and Studebaker on the upside.

Polio Decline Seen

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP) — An indication that polio has neared its 1951 peak and is on the decline came from the Public Health Service today. The agency reported 1,770 new cases of infantile paralysis of poliomyelitis during the past week, compared with 1,765 for the preceding week. Of the nine geographic divisions, four showed increases during the past week, four decreases and one no change. The largest number of new cases were reported in California, 133, Colorado, 114, New York, 109, and Wisconsin, 107.

Eight Nash Ramblers Offered as Prizes

A dramatic prize contest offering eight Nash Rambler automobiles as top awards was announced locally today by Walter May, Kelvinator dealer in Kingston.

Sponsored nationally by Kelvinator, the contest is scheduled to run for four weeks, September 3 through September 29. Each week 67 prizes will be awarded throughout the nation, including two Nash Ramblers, five cold-clear-to-the-floor Kelvinator regrigerators, five Kelvinator deluxe electric ranges, five Kelvinator home freezers and 50 $10 cash awards.

Walter May said prizes will be awarded to entrants who are judged to have best completed the statement, "I like a Kelvinator regrigerator because," in 100 words or less. He said the contest rules and entry blanks may be obtained at his store at 48 Main street.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

We have commented recently in these pieces that actually the government wants inflation, regardless of all the lip-service given to "holding the line," and other expressions that have meant nothing.

Now, according to Washington reports, the latest words being used is that we should have a "balanced inflation." That is a honey. The science of semantics is certainly being tortured. If there is one thing that could never be balanced it is inflation!

By balanced inflation the politicos evidently mean that they will "balance" everything On The Way Up; that is, permit all factors to rise together—wages, prices, credit, and all the items that make up our economic system. Completely ridiculous, of course. The extraordinary thing about a "deal" of this kind is that people will swallow it without a choke. You see, inflation is a very pleasant condition: it's like taking dope. It gives people the halucination that they are better off than they are. So inflation is never actively fought by the public. Some folks will stop buying for a while, because prices are high, but after a short time they get hardened to the increases, and start shopping again.

Unions are going all out for wage increases and will attempt to kill the cost-of-living scheme. Do you know why? Because they figure the cost-of-living index won't rise fast enough to give them the raises they want. So they'll demand straight boosts of anywhere from 10 cents to 30 cents an hour.

Perhaps you saw the item in the paper recently about the Packing House Workers out in Iowa. Their demands are fascinating. They demand a holiday whenever the worker has his birthday. Then, they want free hams twice a year (or the equivalent in beef). That is, at Christmas and Easter they expect a gift of at least a 15-yound ham. Can't blame them, I suppose, as it IS a nice gift! Also, they demand free lunches, or payment of $1—and the lunch-time to be counted in their pay-time. To cap it off, they ask for two hours travelling time—an hour before work and an hour after, to be paid by the company. It will be a good place to work, in any event, don't you think?

Yes, we shall see some weird deals made in the wage-inflation patterns.

The latest move on the government's part to stimulate inflation lies in the housing field. The policy is suddenly loosened. Regulation X is relaxed and easier down-payments on houses under $12,000 is the word. Longer time to pay the mortgages off also.

I recently received an unusually interesting letter from a prominent executive in the building and loan business, who also is a member of a Federal Reserve District Committee on loan policies on real estate.

In classifying what types of real estate loans are inflationary and which are not he supplies information that is valuable to all of us. I think you may find his table worth clipping for reference. Following are his classifications of inflationary and non-inflationary loans:

Highly Inflationary

Loans made directly by the Veterans Administration.

Loans made by private institutions which are resold to the F.N.M.A.

Loans made by lending institutions such as life insurance companies, commercial banks, savings banks, and savings and loan associations with funds realized from the sale of U. S. Government bonds which are purchased by the Federal Reserve System.

Inflationary

Public housing if the securities are purchased by commercial bank, except from increases in time deposits.

Real estate loans made by commercial banks except from current increases in time deposits.

Loans made by savings and loan associations with funds obtained from advances by the Federal Home Loan Bank System if such loans are realized by issuing debentures to commercial banks.

Loans made by savings institutions with funds realized from the sale of U. S. Government bonds which are purchased by commercial banks.

Non-Inflationary

Loans made by life insurance companies, commercial banks, savings banks, and savings and loan associations with funds obtained from savers.

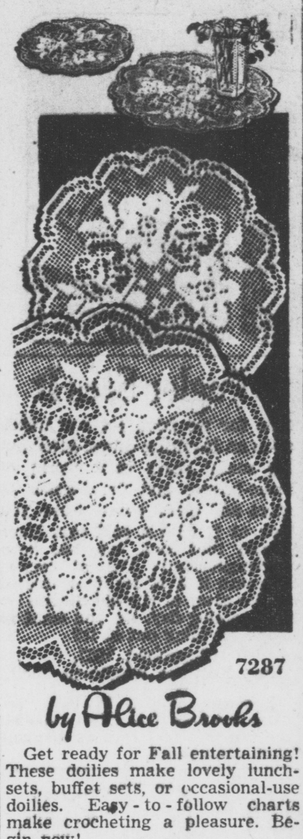

Loans made by life insurance companies, savings banks, and savings and loan associations with funds obtained from advances by the Federal Home Loan Bank System if such funds are obtained from deposits of member institutions.

You quickly note that loans from SAVINGS are not inflationary, whereas loans made that require banks to "sell" their paper to the Federal Reserve is inflationary because it pyramids the paper—adds loan on top of loan. The lossening up of real estate loans will decidedly prove inflationary over the long term.

Gold Thieves Suspected

Johannesburg, South Africa, Aug. 30 (AP)—Police believe a gang of international gold thieves are operating here. Shipments of the precious metal have disappeared twice recently—one from a plane bound for Rome and one from a plane bound for the Middle East. Value of the gold, time of the disappearances were not disclosed.

Casualties Are 81,422

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea have reached 81,422. Announcing this yesterday, the Defense Department said the increase in the week through last Friday was 416. Of the total, the department said 12,113 were killed in action, 57,025 wounded and 12,422 missing. Total battle deaths, including those who died of wounds, were 13,617.

Estate Is Appraised

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—William Skinner, textile firm head who died in 1947, left a gross estate of $4,700,369, a state tax appraisal showed yesterday. Beneficiaries of the estate were listed as a sister, Katherine S. Kilborne of New York; a niece, Elizabeth K. Hudnut of Rochester, N. Y., and three nephews, Robert S. Kilborne, Jr., Katonah, N. Y., William S. Kilborne, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and William H. Hubbard, Holyoke, Mass. The Second Congregational Church of Holyoke, Mass., will receive $25,000.

Water-filled tractor tires have been found less efficient than air-filled tires on sand and loam soils.

Dr. Sommer Dies

Miami, Fla., Aug. 30 (AP)—Dr. Roy F. Sommer, 67, physicist and educator, died yesterday. Dr. Sommer received his physics degree at Columbia University and taught at New York University, Long Island University and City College of New York. He was dean of the American school in Mexico City for two years. During the last war, he was employed by the Sperry Gyroscope Company of Garden City.

RELIEF FOR ASTHMA SUFFERERS

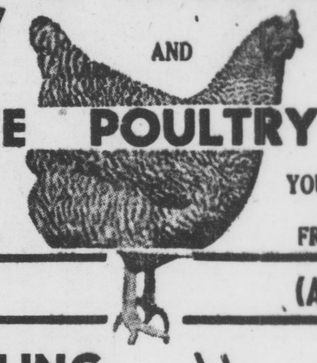

Quick relief usually comes from the first dose of this new formula which acts to relieve congestion. People who formerly suffered with frightening choking, coughing, wheezing asthma attacks speak of welcome relief after using ASMACOL. ASMACOL costs $2.50, but considering the relief you will experience, the $2.50 it costs amounts to only a few pennies per dose. ASMACOL, (caution, use only as directed) is sold with a money back guarantee if not delighted with results. Sold only by

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

We have commented recently in these pieces that actually the government wants inflation, regardless of all the lip-service given to "holding the line," and other expressions that have meant nothing.

Now, according to Washington reports, the latest words being used is that we should have a "balanced inflation." That is a honey. The science of semantics is certainly being tortured. If there is one thing that could never be balanced it is inflation!

By balanced inflation the politicos evidently mean that they will "balance" everything On The Way Up; that is, permit all factors to rise together—wages, prices, credit, and all the items that make up our economic system. Completely ridiculous, of course. The extraordinary thing about a "deal" of this kind is that people will swallow it without a choke. You see, inflation is a very pleasant condition: it's like taking dope. It gives people the halucination that they are better off than they are. So inflation is never actively fought by the public. Some folks will stop buying for a while, because prices are high, but after a short time they get hardened to the increases, and start shopping again.

Unions are going all out for wage increases and will attempt to kill the cost-of-living scheme. Do you know why? Because they figure the cost-of-living index won't rise fast enough to give them the raises they want. So they'll demand straight boosts of anywhere from 10 cents to 30 cents an hour.

Perhaps you saw the item in the paper recently about the Packing House Workers out in Iowa. Their demands are fascinating. They demand a holiday whenever the worker has his birthday. Then, they want free hams twice a year (or the equivalent in beef). That is, at Christmas and Easter they expect a gift of at least a 15-yound ham. Can't blame them, I suppose, as it IS a nice gift! Also, they demand free lunches, or payment of $1—and the lunch-time to be counted in their pay-time. To cap it off, they ask for two hours travelling time—an hour before work and an hour after, to be paid by the company. It will be a good place to work, in any event, don't you think?

Yes, we shall see some weird deals made in the wage-inflation patterns.

The latest move on the government's part to stimulate inflation lies in the housing field. The policy is suddenly loosened. Regulation X is relaxed and easier, down-payments on houses under $12,000 is the word. Longer time to pay the mortgages off also.

I recently received an unusually interesting letter from a prominent executive in the building and loan business, who also is a member of a Federal Reserve District Committee on loan policies on real estate.

In classifying what types of real estate loans are inflationary and which are not he supplies information that is valuable to all of us. I think you may find his table worth clipping for reference. Following are his classifications of inflationary and non-inflationary loans:

Highly Inflationary

Loans made directly by the Veterans Administration.

Loans made by private institutions which are resold to the F.N.M.A.

Loans made by lending institutions such as life insurance companies, commercial banks, savings banks, and savings and loan associations with funds realized from the sale of U. S. Government bonds which are purchased by the Federal Reserve System.

Inflationary

Public housing if the securities are purchased by commercial bank, except from increases in time deposits.

Real estate loans made by commercial banks except from current increases in time deposits.

Loans made by savings and loan associations with funds obtained from advances by the Federal Home Loan Bank System if such loans are realized by issuing debentures to commercial banks.

Loans made by savings institutions with funds realized from the sale of U. S. Government bonds which are purchased by commercial banks.

Non-Inflationary

Loans made by life insurance companies, commercial banks, savings banks, and savings and loan associations with funds obtained from savers.

Loans made by life insurance companies, savings banks, and savings and loan associations with funds obtained from advances by the Federal Home Loan Bank System if such funds are obtained from deposits of member institutions.

You quickly note that loans from SAVINGS are not inflationary, whereas loans made that require banks to "sell" their paper to the Federal Reserve is inflationary because it pyramids the paper—adds loan on top of loan. The lossening up of real estate loans will decidedly prove inflationary over the long term.

Gold Thieves Suspected

Johannesburg, South Africa, Aug. 30 (AP)—Police believe a gang of international gold thieves are operating here. Shipments of the precious metal have disappeared twice recently—one from a plane bound for Rome and one from a plane bound for the Middle East. Value of the gold, time of the disappearances were not disclosed.

Casualties Are 81,422

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea have reached 81,422. Announcing this yesterday, the Defense Department said the increase in the week through last Friday was 416. Of the total, the department said 12,113 were killed in action, 57,025 wounded and 12,422 missing. Total battle deaths, including those who died of wounds, were 13,617.

Estate Is Appraised

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—William Skinner, textile firm head who died in 1947, left a gross estate of $4,700,369, a state tax appraisal showed yesterday. Beneficiaries of the estate were listed as a sister, Katherine S. Kilborne of New York; a niece, Elizabeth K. Hudnut of Rochester, N. Y., and three nephews, Robert S. Kilborne, Jr., Katonah, N. Y., William S. Kilborne, Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., and William H. Hubbard, Holyoke, Mass. The Second Congregational Church of Holyoke, Mass., will receive $25,000.

Water-filled tractor tires have been found less efficient than air-filled tires on sand and loam soils.

Dr. Sommer Dies

Miami, Fla., Aug. 30 (AP)—Dr. Roy F. Sommer, 67, physicist and educator, died yesterday. Dr. Sommer received his physics degree at Columbia University and taught at New York University, Long Island University and City College of New York. He was dean of the American school in Mexico City for two years. During the last war, he was employed by the Sperry Gyroscope Company of Garden City.

Will Support Wheat

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Prices of the 1952 wheat crop will be supported at a national average of not less than $2.17 a bushel, the Department of Agriculture announced yesterday. The present average support price is $2.18.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — CALL FOR A MEDICINE MAN — By Merrill Blosser

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

I showed Captain Andrew Hickey the postal card of the 250th Anniversary of Kingston, N. Y. which was held in 1908. If the readers remember, his contention was that the 300th Anniversary should be held in 1958. Of course next year is the Anniversary for a number of items on the Committee's list, as was printed in a recent column. This was just one of Robert Matthews Souvenir cards loaned to me. He also has quite a colorful collection of the Hudson-Fulton celebration postal cards. One of the cards shows the "Half Moon" a 48 ft. long and 90 ton displacement yacht, manned by a crew of 11 men as she sailed up the Hudson. Henry Hudson brought her to our shores on September of 1609.

One of the Hudson-Fulton cards I like best is of a float called "Old Broadway Sleigh." It is official post card No. 48. The Broadway Sleigh represents a period long gone in New York city, even in 1909. That was before river tunnels, subways, elevated roads, electric trolley or horsecars, when winters were more severe than now. When the snow was not removed from the streets. Those were the days when the omnibus in summer and sleigh in winter were the common modes of public transportation. This sleigh, like ones used for our sleigh loads years ago in Kingston, had four horses. It was open, and crowded with passengers facing each other. Two men even stood on the running board. Two men sat on top. The driver stood up to drive. It was a bright yellow and red affair, on which was printed "Broadway Line I wonder if the Kingston Library has a full set of these Hudson-Fulton celebration cards.

Through this column I meet a lot of hobbyists and collectors. How they start. Someone gives them a bunch of pretty postal cards, like Robert Matthew's collection and from then on, they start looking out for picture postal cards and before you know it, they have a fine collection. In the Mechanix Illustrated of August on page 43, they have an interesting article on collectors. Have you ever heard of the rarest stamp in the world. It is the British Guiana of 1856, one cent, black on magenta. The only one of its kind in existence. It is currently valued at $50,000, although its present owner, whose name has never been revealed publicly, declares he wouldn't part with it for double that figure.

This tiny piece of colored paper had had a fantastic history. It first came to light when a British Guiana High School boy plucked it from his album and took it hopefully to a dealer. He was thrilled when he was offered all of six shillings for his stamp. That was back in 1873. Since then, the stamp has traveled all over the world, in and out of millionaires' homes and government archives.

It was the central figure of one of the most famous auction sales of all times. The little magenta was willed to the Berlin Uostal Museum before the first World War and at its close was seized by the French government as reparations and put up for sale. King George V of England and a roomful of millionaires bid for it. King's agent quitting at $30,000. Arthur Hinds of Utica, N. Y. got it for $37,000. Later it was sold by Hinds' widow for $45,000 through stamp dealer, Finbar Kenny, to its present owner.

Every 60 days, traffic accidents in the United States claim as many lives as were lost in the battle of Gettysburg.

As Pegler Sees It

this, for we have set our minds upon an inquiring course after living many years in a world of make-believe and the illusion of sport and glory wanes when you look at it with a cold eye. Have I said that love, too, has been overemphasized? Yes, of course. In youth it is as highly overrated as the glory of the old Siwash on homecoming day. Do you want to make anything out of it?

The Broadway Sleigh represents a period long gone in New York city, even in 1909. That was before river tunnels, subways, elevated roads, electric trolley or horsecars, when winters were more severe than now. When the snow was not removed from the streets. Those were the days when the omnibus in summer and sleigh in winter were the common modes of public transportation. This sleigh, like ones used for our sleigh loads years ago in Kingston, had four horses. It was open, and crowded with passengers facing each other. Two men even stood on the running board. Two men sat on top. The driver stood up to drive. It was a bright yellow and red affair, on which was printed "Broadway Line I wonder if the Kingston Library has a full set of these Hudson-Fulton celebration cards.

Through this column I meet a lot of hobbyists and collectors. How they start. Someone gives them a bunch of pretty postal cards, like Robert Matthew's collection and from then on, they start looking out for picture postal cards and before you know it, they have a fine collection. In the Mechanix Illustrated of August on page 43, they have an interesting article on collectors. Have you ever heard of the rarest stamp in the world. It is the British Guiana of 1856, one cent, black on magenta. The only one of its kind in existence. It is currently valued at $50,000, although its present owner, whose name has never been revealed publicly, declares he wouldn't part with it for double that figure.

This tiny piece of colored paper had had a fantastic history. It first came to light when a British Guiana High School boy plucked it from his album and took it hopefully to a dealer. He was thrilled when he was offered all of six shillings for his stamp. That was back in 1873. Since then, the stamp has traveled all over the world, in and out of millionaires' homes and government archives.

It was the central figure of one of the most famous auction sales of all times. The little magenta was willed to the Berlin Uostal Museum before the first World War and at its close was seized by the French government as reparations and put up for sale. King George V of England and a roomful of millionaires bid for it. King's agent quitting at $30,000. Arthur Hinds of Utica, N. Y. got it for $37,000. Later it was sold by Hinds' widow for $45,000 through stamp dealer, Finbar Kenny, to its present owner.

Every 60 days, traffic accidents in the United States claim as many lives as were lost in the battle of Gettysburg.

As Pegler Sees It

this, for we have set our minds upon an inquiring course after living many years in a world of make-believe and the illusion of sport and glory wanes when you look at it with a cold eye. Have I said that love, too, has been overemphasized? Yes, of course. In youth it is as highly overrated as the glory of the old Siwash on homecoming day. Do you want to make anything out of it?

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Aug. 29—Greene county residents calling here Tuesday included Mr. and Mrs. Rice J. Deyo of Windham.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright, guests at the W. J. Loos place for several days, were called back to Inwood Monday by the sudden illness of Mrs. Wright's father.

Howard Ives of Port Ewen was numbered among out of town people calling in the hub of the reservoir country Tuesday.

Joan Farrell, a graduate of Sewanhaka High School at Floral Park, is a new resident of the viliage center.

The local state highway department crew have discontinued their shoulder grading jobs for the time being and are now cutting and hauling grass and weeds along the Thruway. The cuttings are spread on steep banks along the new section of the Onteora Trail to prevent erosion and encourage grass seeding to take hold.

Mrs. Theodore Carlson and son, Harold, last week enjoyed a motor trip to New Hampshire, Vermont and the Adirondacks. Harold, a KHS student, made the scenic ascent of Mt. Washington in the course of the trip of some 1,200 miles.

Callers here Saturday included Katherine and Ida Townsend who as girls spent several summer vacations in Shokan. Ida now makes her home in Oklahoma.

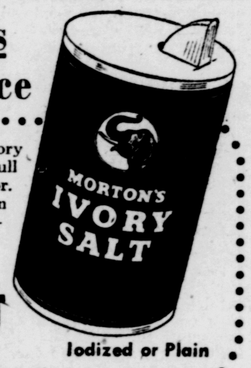

Having a birthday Friday, Aug. 31, is Herman Morris, one of the oldest members of the Ashokan Reservoir force in point of service. He was born at Brown's, a son of James and Amelia Morris. He is married to the former Edna Crispell of Olive Bridge and they have two children, Richard of Brown's and Verna (Mrs. Walter Cook) of Ashokan.

Frequent passage of loaded cauliflower trucks through the village attests another good crop of this vegetable in the big Delaware county growing centers. A total of 440 crates were sold at the Margaretville auction block earlier in August when most No. 1 crates brought around $2.50.

Bud Irwin of the former Piffer place in the west end has put in a shale driveway from the trail up to his new home, the one time Joe Dewitt house.

Callers here Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Chris McGrath of Peekskill who were accompanied by their friends Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Gray of the Bronx. Chris, a War 2 veteran of service in both European and Pacific theatres, is now employed at the state armory in Peekskill.

Fire Board Accepts Langling Resignation

The Board of Fire Commissioners last night accepted the resignation of Fireman Robert J. Langling, of 95 Emerson street, who will be employed by the New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau.

The resignation, effective Sept. 4, will leave a second vacancy in the department. The other one is due to the retirement of Charles V. Brown, 59 Henry street, supervisor of motors, earlier this summer.

Langling, who has been serving at central station, was appointed to the department in February, 1947.

Light Is Installed

A traffic light has been installed and was placed in operation Wednesday at the junction of Fair and St. James streets. Several serious accidents have taken place at this intersection.

Some tropical fireflies glow for several minutes at a time.

To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Draft Regulations Would Cut Deferment

Washington, Aug. 30—New draft regulations now awaiting President Truman's approval would deprive well over 300,000 men of present draft deferments.

Selective Service said yesterday that between 150,000 and 200,000 childless married men will lose their deferments under the new rules. An estimated 150,000 4-F's are expected to be drafted when the armed forces' mental standards are lowered.

The act reduces the minimum draft age from 19 to 18½ years. The maximum draft age remains at 26.

The new regulations will carry out provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service (UMTS) Act.

Town of Esopus Tax Meeting Set Tonight

A meeting is scheduled tonight at 8:15 in Town of Esopus Auditorium, Port Ewen, for the purpose of explaining why the new assessment program was adopted for the town and how it functions.

Announcement to this effect was made today by two town officials, who arranged the session, Supervisor Henry M. Cameron and Councilman Reupen Gullian, both of whom urge a large attendance.

Wrong Amount Given

In the Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association advertisement appearing in Wednesday's Freeman the amount should have read $25.43 as the average paid to savers every six months.

Fire Board Accepts Langling Resignation

The Board of Fire Commissioners last night accepted the resignation of Fireman Robert J. Langling, of 95 Emerson street, who will be employed by the New York State Motor Vehicle Bureau.

The resignation, effective Sept. 4, will leave a second vacancy in the department. The other one is due to the retirement of Charles V. Brown, 59 Henry street, supervisor of motors, earlier this summer.

Langling, who has been serving at central station, was appointed to the department in February, 1947.

Light Is Installed

A traffic light has been installed and was placed in operation Wednesday at the junction of Fair and St. James streets. Several serious accidents have taken place at this intersection.

Personal
To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Draft Regulations Would Cut Deferment

Washington, Aug. 30—New draft regulations now awaiting President Truman's approval would deprive well over 300,000 men of present draft deferments.

Selective Service said yesterday that between 150,000 and 200,000 childless married men will lose their deferments under the new rules. An estimated 150,000 4-F's are expected to be drafted when the armed forces' mental standards are lowered.

The act reduces the minimum draft age from 19 to 18½ years. The maximum draft age remains at 26.

The new regulations will carry out provisions of the Universal Military Training and Service (UMTS) Act.

Town of Esopus Tax Meeting Set Tonight

A meeting is scheduled tonight at 8:15 in Town of Esopus Auditorium, Port Ewen, for the purpose of explaining why the new assessment program was adopted for the town and how it functions.

Announcement to this effect was made today by two town officials, who arranged the session, Supervisor Henry M. Cameron and Councilman Reupen Gullian, both of whom urge a large attendance.

Wrong Amount Given

In the Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association advertisement appearing in Wednesday's Freeman the amount should have read $25.43 as the average paid to savers every six months.

Schedule Is Offered

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Western Union Telegraph Company has handed the government a schedule of proposed rate increases designed to boost the company's revenue by about $9,500,000 a year. Such a boost was approved in principle last Friday by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC). The company proposed advances of nine to 50 per cent in regular full rate telegrams; increase from 10 to 15 words in the basic minimum charge on straight telegrams; and advances in press, and day and night letter rates.

Informal Huddle at the White House

President Truman relaxes in his White House office, August 29, as an appointment with Wage Stabilization Board officials turns into a pleasant informal chat. Seated with the President are, left to right: Dr. George W. Taylor, retiring WSB chairman, and Nathan Feinsinger, new chairman. Standing is Fred Bullen, slated to be WSB vice chairman.

GARDINER

Gardiner, Aug. 29—Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Munson, Lake Katrine, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoonmaker, New Paltz, and Smith Woolsey were entertained for supper Friday night by Mrs. Stella Woolsey and Miss Edith Sears.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Wolfe and daughter, Elisanna, and Mrs. S. Tantilli of Brooklyn are visiting Mr. Wolfe's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Crusellas.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wiese, Sr., and Mrs. Wiese's mother, Mrs. Anna Bevier, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. David Wiese, Jr., of Poughkeepsie.

Miss Ann Murphy, RN, of St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy.

Mrs. Stella Woolsey and Miss Edith Sears were Sunday guests of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoonmaker of New Paltz.

Frank Jayne of Albany was the week-end guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jayne.

Herbert Coon of Pawling was a week-end guest at the home of his grandfather, Hans Andersen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ladew and daughter, Joan, of Teaneck, N. J., spent a few days last week at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bird and son George of Brooklyn were guests over the weekend of the Misses Mary and Jeannie Elting. While here they visited their aunt, Mrs. Mary Smith, at the County Infirmary.

Mr. and Mrs. James George and Eleanor Conklin were entertained Sunday by Mrs. George's cousin, Mrs. Bernard Wheeler of Bethel, Conn.

Minard and Harley Franks of Arean were recent guests at the home of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Freer Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arnold were speakers during an impressive service at the Reformed Church Sunday morning, when they told of their preparation for missionary work. The choir sang The Lord Is My Shepherd, with Mrs. C. D. Whittemore of White Plains as guest soloist.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Gardiner Reformed Church will meet at the church hall Wednesday, Sept. 5, at 8 p. m. Hostesses will be Mrs. John Metzler, Mrs. Ivan Ostrander, Mrs. Peter Petersen, and Mrs. George Quimby.

Ban to Be Invoked Upon Advertising

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board is about to crack down on the practice of advertising "no money down" sale of television sets, refrigerators and other appliances subject to federal credit restrictions.

Board members discussed the proposed regulation yesterday with interested senators and reported they got a sympathetic response.

As officials explained it, the "no money down" ads usually say trade-in allowances will be generous enough to meet the lowered requirement for a 15 per cent down payment. The new Economic Controls Act permits trade-in allowances to be counted toward down payments.

Officials said in some cases ads have promised the allowance of $40 for an old radio set not worth $5. They said the board regards this as price cutting rather than a good-faith trade-in.

Calls Him 'Meanest Man'

Carson City, Nev., Aug. 30 (AP)—Screen actress Ava Gardner told Traffic Officer Jerry Greene "you're the meanest man I've ever met"—but didn't wait around to challenge a speeding ticket he gave her. Greene stopped Miss Gardner at 4 a. m. yesterday and charged her with speeding through a 25 mile an hour zone at 40 miles an hour. Miss Gardner posted $15 bail and was told to report in police court at 10 a. m. She failed to appear and her bond was forfeited.

Connecticut Will End Cut Rate Sales of Liquor Under New Law

Hartford, Conn., Aug 30 (AP)—The "cut rate" sign which hangs over the door of so many Connecticut liquor stores won't mean much after October 1 when a new minimum price law for retail permittees goes into effect.

At present, the price you pay for the same brand of liquor in Connecticut may vary as much as a dollar or more, depending on where you buy it.

The new law sponsored by the Connecticut Package Store Association which complained that price cutting was ruining its members, will prohibit the sale of liquor below a specified minimum price, unless somebody successfully challenges its constitutionality.

The law works like this:

Each brand owner, or an exclusive agent named by him, posts with the state liquor control commission the minimum wholesale and retail price of his brand.

Retailers will also post the minimum price and may not sell below it.

Suspensions Provided

License suspension up to 10 days is provided for a first violation, up to 30 days for a second and an indefinite-suspension or revocation for a third violation.

After posting his retail price, the brand owner cannot change it for a period of 60 or 90 days, whichever the liquor commission determines, but the minimum wholesale price may be changed after a 30-day period.

Scores of liquor retailers warmly supported the new law at a hearing held by the legislature's liquor committee. No witnesses opposed it, and even temperance spokesmen joined forces with the liquor dealers in favoring it. They took the position that it would cut liquor consumption.

Agree to Increase

The liquor dealers readily agreed to a 10 per cent increase in their fees to finance the added enforcement duties that will fall to the Liquor Control Commission when the law goes into effect. The increase brings the license fee for stores selling all types of liquor to $300 per year. A beer permit only costs $60.

The Liquor Commission said administering and enforcing the law will require it to increase its personnel by 10. Half of the new employes will be added to the staff of 18 inspectors.

Some sources close to the Connecticut liquor trade predict the law will result in a "slight increase" in retail prices, but Joseph E. Klau of Hartford, attorney for the Package Store Association, denied this.

"I don't think so at all," he said. "In fact, there will be a decrease."

Could Be Change

He conceded, however, that there could be a change in the situation in localities near the Connecticut-New York boundary where liquor stores vie in attracting trade from New York communities. New York now has a minimum price law and a tax of $1.50 per gallon compared to $1 a gallon in Connecticut.

In Greenwich, the next town east from Port Chester, N. Y., said Klau, "price cutting has been very prevalent, especially by certain chains."

The Connecticut Legislature enacted the law at about the same time that the United States Supreme Court handed down its decision in a Louisiana case outlawing fair trades acts except where retailers and wholesalers voluntarily enter into contracts.

Asked to Give Plans

Westport, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—A joint legislative committee has been asked to submit to the Legislature and public officials "a comprehensive plan for alleviating" the parking problem of the state. The request was made yesterday in a resolution adopted at a conference of representatives of industries interested in the work of the joint legislative committee on housing and multiple dwellings.

Tito Gets Advice

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Aug. 30 (AP)—Premier Marshal Tito got word from commanders of his Adriatic fleet at the close of maneuvers yesterday, that they are ready to defend the Yugoslav coast against any assault. The message referred to "the imperialistic Soviet Union and its satellites" as possible attackers.

GRIFFEL, co-partners, d/b/a JACOB GRIFFEL & SON, TEXTILE COMMISSION COMPANY, HERZOG SUPPLY COMPANY, NEW YORK TELEPHONE COMPANY and E. CLARK REED, doing business under the firm name and style of REED & REED DEPARTMENT STORE, Defendants.

Pursuant to Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale rendered herein on the 24th day of July, 1951 and duly entered in the Ulster County Clerk's Office on the same day, I, the undersigned, the Referee duly appointed for such purpose by said Judgment, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder on Friday, September 14, 1951, at 12:00 o'clock noon on that day at the front door of the Ulster County Court House in the City of Kingston, New York, the real estate directed by said Judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

ALL THAT PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND in Village of Saugerties, County of Ulster and State of New York, with the buildings thereon situate on the northerly side of Jane Street between Bridge Street and James Street and more particularly bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Jane Street, such point being westerly 107.58 feet distant from the corner formed by the intersection of the westerly side of James Street and the northerly side of Jane Street and running thence north 5 degrees 9 minutes west 87.01 feet to the lands of the Suderly Candy Company; thence along the same and along the lands of the First National Bank of Saugerties north 84 degrees 46 minutes east 30.25 feet; thence south 5 degrees 31 minutes east 87.27 feet to a point on the northerly side of Jane Street; thence along the same south 85 degrees 21 minutes west 30.8 feet to the point and place of beginning.

Together with a right of way or easement for the above grantee, his heirs and assigns for foot passengers only over the lands adjoining on the east the above described premises and such right of way being a foot path between the dwellings on the said two properties and extending from Jane Street between said dwellings to a point 10 feet in the rear of the present rear foundation of the dwelling house now on the last above described and such right of way to be used in common with the owner of said property on the east, his heirs and assigns.

Together with a right of way for ingress and egress from the lands first above described in common with others to Jane Street on foot and with horses and vehicles over a strip of land described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Jane Street such point being 107.58 feet distant measured westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the westerly side of James Street with the northerly side of Jane Street and runs thence along the northerly side of Jane Street south 85 degrees 21 minutes west 20 feet; thence north 5 degrees 10 minutes west 86.62 feet to the lands of the Suderly Confectionery Company; thence along the same north 84 degrees 46 minutes east 20 feet; thence south 5 degrees 9 minutes east 87.01 feet to the point and place of beginning.

The above lands are conveyed subject to a right of way for the owner of said property adjoining on the east the premises hereinfirst described, his heirs and assigns from the right of way last above described to the said premises on the east on foot and with horses and vehicles to pass and repass from his property to the said right of way last above described, the land over which this right of way passes, being described as follows:

"A strip of land 12 feet wide extending from the right of way above described as running northerly from Jane Street and beginning at a point on the easterly side of the said right of way running northerly from Jane Street, such point being 55 feet distant measured northerly along the easterly side of the right of way and from the easterly side of Jane Street and runs thence along the said right of way north 5 degrees 9 minutes west 12 feet; thence north 84 degrees 46 minutes east about 30 feet to the lands on the east; thence along the same south 5 degrees 31 minutes east 12 feet; thence westerly about 30 feet to the point and place of beginning.

Being the same premises as conveyed by Anna H. York, et al, to Chenault M. Marksbury by deed dated January 28, 1946, and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office on December 20, 1947, and being No. 303 of December 1947 recordings."

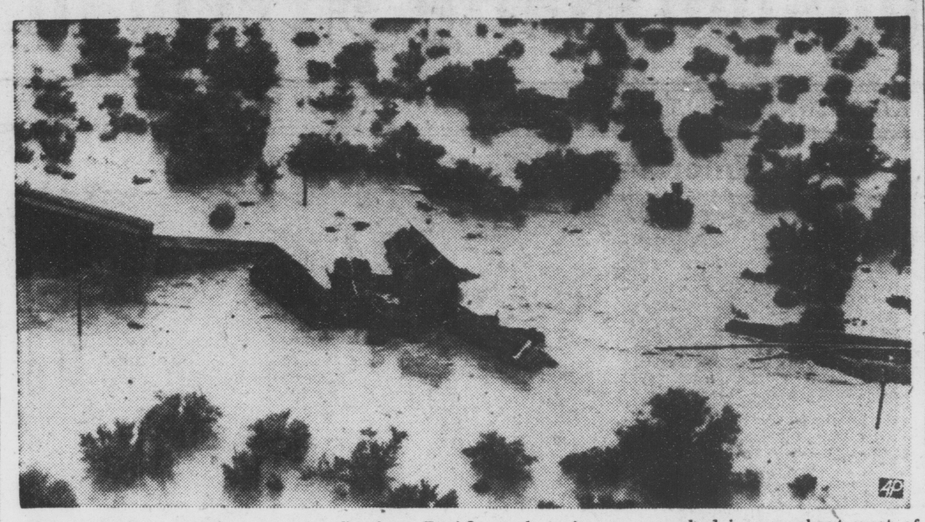

Said premises to be sold subject to any state of facts including changes in street lines which an accurate survey will show and provided these facts do not make the title unmarketable; subject to building restrictions and restrictions contained in any resolution for ordinances adopted by any village, town or other governmental authorities; subject to all taxes, assessments, water rates and sales for same, tax deeds and transfers of tax leins, if any, and subject to leases and tenancies.

Police Work on Strike

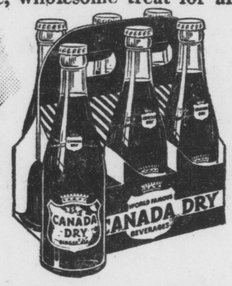

Bourbon, Ind., Aug. 30 (AP)—A force of 200 state police troopers moved into Bourbon area today to prevent possible disorder at the struck Joyner radio parts plant. Charles E. Joyner, company president, said earlier "we would have one of the bloodiest messes in this county on our hands" if the firm tried to get supervisory employes through the picket lines without help. The pickets yesterday turned away supervisory workers.

In Korea

PVT. THOMAS FICKUS

Pvt. Thomas P. Fickus, son of Mrs. Charles Fickus, of 753 Broadway, is now serving with the 8th Cavalry Regiment, Medical Company, in Korea. A graduate of Kingston High School in 1949, Pvt. Fickus attended the University of Maine and enlisted in the army March 5, 1951. After 14 weeks of basic training at Fort Belvoir, Va., he spent a two-week furlough at his home and then flew to Seattle, Wash., where he left for his overseas assignment in Korea.

Returns to Camp

Pfc. Vernon M. Scism, of 234½ South Wall street, who recently spent a 15-day furlough with his family, has returned to Fort Hood, Tex., where he is stationed. Pfc. Scism served three yearss in the navy during World War 2. He recently finished a 14-week course of advanced armored infantry training and is now awaiting further orders. Pfc. Scism enlisted in the regular army April, 1951, and is now assigned to the First Armored Division at Fort Hood.

Begins New Course

Edwin L. Patterson, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel B. Patterson of West Camp, has reported to the Fleet Training Center, Norfolk, Va., for a course of instruction in radiological defense.

Patterson, who entered the naval service in May, 1950, received his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. He is regularly assigned to duty aboard the destroyer USS Gyatt.

Three Join Marines

Three Ulster county men, including one from Kingston, recently enlisted in the Marine Corps. They include Robert A. Edge, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Edge, 327 Abeel street; Albert J. Schermerhorn, 18, New Paltz; and John C. West, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. West, Sr., RD 3, Saugerties.

Schermerhorn attended Kingston High School and was a former employe of Fraser and Davis Construction Co., Grahamsville. West also attended Kingston High School and was a former employe of Aircraft Parts and Tools, Washington avenue, this city. Edge graduated from Kingston High School this June.

The three new Marines will spend 10 weeks at Parris Island, S. C., undergoing recruit training after which they will be given a 10-day leave.

Read at Naval School

Lt. Robert G. Read, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Read, of Hurley, and husband of the former Miss Amy G. Beverage of Portland, Ore., is attending the aerological engineering postgraduate school at the U. S. Naval School in Monterey, Calif.

Hoover Is for . . .

Democratic administrations which followed his own. Although he cited numerous happenings since he left the White House, he said near the start:

"Let me say at once that honor is not the exclusive property of any political party."

Hoover reviewed many incidents, then commented repeatedly "think about it." He said: "Our greatest danger is not from invasion by foreign armies. Our dangers are that we may commit suicide from within by complaisance with evil. Or by public tolerance of scandalous behavior, or by synical acceptance of dishonor."

Turning to what he termed "the flight from honor," Hoover said "during the recent past we have had a flood of exposures by congressional committees, by state legislatures, by grand juries in scores of cities, and the press."

What Would They Say?

He said he sometimes wonders what the "founding fathers" would say about: "The five percenters, mink coats, deep freezers, and free hotels? Or favoritism in government loans and government contracts?

"Or failures to prosecute evildoers who spread cancerous rackets and gambling rings with their train of bribed officials? Or of those who coquette with traitorship? Or of secret and disastrous commitments of our nation which were denied at the time?

Hoover said corrupt propaganda which employs "standardized gadgets" and "slogans" is one of the chief instruments of intellectual dishonesty in public life.

"These gadets," he said, "have been very handy tools for making America over into 14 new varieties and getting us into hot and cold wars." In this connection Hoover commented: "As an aside, I suggest at least we adjourn trying to make America over into some other shape until we get out of this cold or hot war.

Says Crisis Dangerous

"Our present crisis is dangerous enough to require one concentrated undeviating purpose in Washington. Many of our so-called social and economic gains will go by the boards, anyway, if this hot and cold war keeps up.

"There will be plenty of time to exercise our muscles on 'new' experiments after these violent changes in international temperature are survived."

Hoover referred to secret commitments at Teheran and Yalta as having "sold the freedom of half a billion people down the river," asked whether the commitments would have been approved by the people, then commented:

"That is where we lost the peace and wandered into the land of hot and cold wars."

He suggested that the nation turn to the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, and the "rules of the game which we learned at our mother's knee," and asked: "Can a nation live if these are not the guides of public life?"

Expects Stronger Forces

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—President Truman said today United States forces will be stronger than before if they have to renew full-scale fighting with the Communists in Korea.

Dewey Addresses VFW Convention

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey told the free nations today to draw a Pacific frontier line and to promise any transgressor "the same kind of bloody nose you got in Korea."

"That isn't cheap and it isn't pleasant and it calls for sacrifice, but I want the free world to stay alive," said the 1948 Republican presidential nominee.

Dewey, who returned last night from a Far Eastern tour that took him to the Korean front, spoke before the 52nd annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Dewey declared the United States should stop conducting foreign policy "in bits and pieces."

He called for a "total outlook" to thwart Communist aggression, which he said already had precipitated the Korean war and four separate revolutions in the Far East.

Dewey told of the respect he gained for the United Nations allies during his 40,000-mile tour.

About 3,000 persons crowded into the Hotel Astor's main ballroom applauded when Dewey declared:

"You can't re-arm cheap but I'd a whale of a lot rather make arms than dead Americans."

Dewey's speech reiterated views he expressed in a press conference last night on his arrival at Idlewild Airport. Dewey told the newsmen:

"We invited the attack on Korea by announcing that it was not in our defense perimeter, and withdrawing our troops. We lost China to the free world."

Police Work on Strike

Bourbon, Ind., Aug. 30 (AP)—A force of 209 state police troopers moved into Bourbon area today to prevent possible disorder at the struck Joyner radio parts plant. Charles E. Joyner, company president, said earlier "we would have one of the bloodiest messes in this county on our hands" if the firm tried to get supervisory employes through the picket lines without help. The pickets yesterday turned away supervisory workers.

Does the Work Himself

August 29, 1951

Editor, The Freeman:

I own and operate a "one-man" barber shop at 75 Broadway and therefore do not employ an assistant. My attention was called to an advertisement in your August 28th issue which was headed "These Shops DO NOT employ Members of Barbers Local No. 534," under which title my name, Samuel Bell, appeared.

From the tone of this advertisement, one is led to believe that I employ non-union barbers. This is a false impression because, as stated above, I do the work myself.

I would appreciate reprinting of this note for the benefit of your readers.

Thank you for this courtesy, I am,

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL BELL

Prevention and Health

Phoenicia, N. Y.
Aug. 27, 1951

Editor, The Freeman:

Prevention can ruin the health of a nation. Prevention interferes with the nautral laws of the body and weakens the power of resistance to disease.

The tonsils are the reservoirs of blood. And meet the crisis when a person might otherwise bleed to death.

Again they touch the food and eliminate the poisons before the food is swallowed.

The saliva glands touch the food and changes the starches.

Doesn't tooth powder lessen the value of the saliva?

One theory given is to brush the teeth up and down. The other is to brush the teeth across. And to use the brush after every meal.

And what is the result. The children's teeth are on the rocks.

And now painting the children's teeth with fluorine. Let's turn a page back before such stress was put on the tooth brushing.

Charcoal was mashed into a powder and applied to the teeth with a little cloth.

It whitened the teeth and protected the gum which it hardened and prevented decay.

My mother always used it and she had lovely teeth till she was 65. They were worn down some and then she had the upper teeth pulled for looks, as she said, and had an upper plate.

I can give you the names of two men both dying in the 70 year old bracket and had their own teeth. They were worn down but they could eat any kind of food.

One can get prepared charcoal now.

Putting fluorine in the drinking water to affect children's teeth is most unwise, in my opinion.

It will affect a person's system and may cause damage to the kidneys and other organs of the body.

The protest should be against putting fluorine in the drinking water.

The chlorine placed in the water for cleansing affects the stomach. The lining is irritated.

I counteract the burning by taking oil hoping to offset more serious trouble.

No Social Justice, He Says

San Francisco, Aug. 30 (AP) — William O. Douglas, Supreme Court justice just arrived from the Orient, told reporters today: "To the people of the Far East, America represents American industrial might, not social justice. In those countries, people associate Russia with social justice." Douglas arrived yesterday by plane. He said he may visit a daughter in Yakima, Wash., before returning to Washington, D. C. He climbed the Himalayas of Tibet as part of his several weeks tour.

Kills Two Persons

Kansas City, Aug. 30 (AP) — A youthful businessman shot to death two persons, including a university professor, yesterday and told police he intended to kill five others and then commit suicide. He said he was "mad at them" and "just disgusted." Police said Richard Barry Donaldson, 29-year-old laundry operator, admitted the slayings in a signed statement. Dead were Alfredo Ortiz-Vargas, 53, assistant professor of foreign languages and literature at the University of Kansas City, and Mrs. William Lay, 77-year-old Negro.

Autumn Blouses Emphasize Color

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York—(NEA)—As suits become the backbone of a woman's wardrobe once again, blouses, too, take on a new importance. Because a blouse complements a suit, adds glow and sparkle, it's a fashion accessory to be picked with care.

Blouse emphasis this autumn is on color. Soft, delicate shades such as wheat gold, dazzling color found in gold aster, rich copper brown called copper leaf, all make the wearing of a suit more fun. There are deep reds, some of them softened to paler versions; wild rose, thistle pink and cyclamen. Foils to brown and gray flannels are pale toast beige and a subtle steel gray.

A tailored blouse (left) in a washable tissue faille fabric by Bur-Mil has short sleeves, a criss-crossed, notched tie. It's done in many colors, from soft to bright to dark.

The fine tuck bid that decorates another short-sleeved blouse (right) in a faille from this same house is lighted by the gleam of small rhinestone buttons. Collar is a tuxedo wing. This blouse, too, is found in a range of rich color.

Fair Street Church Announces Events For Its Annual Fair

Plans for the annual fair of the Fair Street Reformed Church, to be held on Thursday and Friday, September 6 and 7, have been completed. This year several new features will be included.

The fair will be held afternoons and evenings at the church, Fair and Pearl streets. Under the general direction of Edward F. Dingeldey, Otto Havlin and Frank Byer, assisted by numerous booth chairmen, plans have been under way all during the summer months.

In addition to booths there will be games and entertainment. Each evening of the fair a dinner will be served in the church in addition to refreshments which will be available from noon on at the refreshment booth on the fair grounds.

Games will be in charge of Arthur Hutton and John Pope, and there will be entertainment for the kiddies as well as the grown-ups. This year a "whip" for the adults and older children will make its appearance as one of the new features. This will be in addition to the Purcell kiddie merry-go-round.

Members of the Men's Club will meet at the church on Wednesday night to erect booths and put the finishing touches for the opening Thursday noon.

Mrs. Burton Haver will be in charge of the entertainment program.

Included this year will be the following booths:

Domestic booth, Mrs. Raymond Gilkey and Mrs. Peter Hoornbeck, chairmen; handkerchief and picture booth, Mrs. Kenneth Wood; doll booth, Mrs. Edward Dingeldey; food booth, Mrs. Robert Broad and Mrs. Leonard Flicker; candy booth, Mrs. Charles Amberg; miscellaneous, Mrs. Kenneth Hicok, Mrs. W. E. Rylance, Mrs. William C. Dutton; vegetable and salad booth, Mrs. Tracy Munson and Mrs. Donald Parish; card booth, Mrs. Otto Havlin and Miss Helen Kennedy; flower booth, Mrs. Stanley Matthews and Mrs. N. Le Van Haver; refreshments, Mrs. Densie Borg and Mrs. Fred Hoffman.

Alderman Abram Relyea will again be treasurer of the fair.

Club Notices

Ladies' Aid

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church of the Comforter will hold its first meeting of the fall season Wednesday, Sept. 5 at 2:30 p. m. in the church hall.

Gem Society

The first fall meeting of the Gem Society of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will be held in Epworth parlors Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 8 p. m. Members are reminded to bring gifts for their secret pals.

Danish Singer Will Open Studio Here

MRS. AGNETE MUNDT

A new vocal studio, conducted by Mrs. Agnete Mundt of Woodstock will open at 277 Fair street Tuesday, Sept. 4. Mrs. Mundt explained she will conduct classes and give private lessons for both children and adults.

A native of Denmark, she received her training in Copenhagen under the noted teacher Wilhjem Rosenberg, and later at the Danish Royal Opera School. Arriving in the United States in the early '20s, she concertized extensively in Chicago where she made her home, and toured with the San Carlo Opera Co.

In 1939 she returned to Denmark where she was under contract to Statradiofoni until the German invasion. She has also sung over eastern and mid-western networks.

Airplane stewards are furnished with charts showing how long to boil eggs soft, medium, or hard, at various altitudes.

Men Models Steal Fashion Limelight At Players' Show

Men models stole the limelight, and nearly stole the show Tuesday night when the Coach House Players presented city merchants in a benefit fashion parade before a capacity audience in gardens of the Governor Clinton Hotel. Second feature of the event was a ballet revue staged by Alexis Kosloff.

Fashion notes stressed the return of the petticoat to its old popularity. Ladies in the mode will become reacquainted with grandma's standby this fall, wearing full dresses and skirts over layers of cotton, taffeta and crinoline.

The fashion show's finale featured a bridal party and guests. Shortly after the bride and groom's exit a spotlight playing on a third story window of the hotel showed them waving their farewells to the audience.

Fashions were presented Tuesday night by Mrs. Helen Davenport and Mrs. Ruth Brinnier, co-chairmen.

Mr. Kosloff's ballet revue was held about the lake in the hotel's sunken garden, where dancers were seen among the flowers, throwing colorful reflections into the lake's water. Music was provided by James Sweeney and his string ensemble.

During the evening Irving Rose, president of the Players, acquainted the audience with the purpose and aims of the group in establishing a theatre and art center, and opened the organization's second membership drive. He also announced the following full-length productions for the '51-'52 season: Chicken Every Sunday, Village Green, The Two Mrs. Carroils. In addition Players will present several one-act plays and "an outstanding young musician" in recital.

Dutchess County Philharmonic Society Announces Soloists and Concert Dates

The board of directors of the Dutchess County Philharmonic Society have announced, following a meeting Tuesday, Aug. 20, that there will be three concerts this season on October 24, December 12, and March 19. They will be given in Poughkeepsie High School auditorium, under the baton of Ole Windingstad.

Attending the board meeting were Mrs. Philip G. Swartz, Donald Cameron, Harold C. McLaughlin, Mitchell S. Kozik, George Bingham, Bruno Forsher, Mrs. Dorothy Goetz, Dr. Sidney N. Miller, Dr. Martin T. Siegel, Paul A. H. Wesis, Kurt Grishman, Clarence Karan, Miss Katherine H. Greer, and Miss Marta Milinowski, president, in the chair.

This year's soloists, it was announced, will all be winners of the Young Artists Competition. First to appear will be Sgt. Oswald Lehnert, violinist of the United States Millitary Academy Band, West Point. In the second concert the guest artist will be Anne Marie Hammes, young Albany pianist. Appearing as soloist in the final concert will be Jane Lucas, soprano, who was graduated from Vassar College this June. The society also announced that it has been, and is its policy to use local talent whenever possible for orchestra members and soloists.

Tickets for the '51-'52 season are available by writing to P. O. Box 5, Poughkeepsie, telephoning Poughkeepsie 1954, or by contacting Mrs. H. Sabin Leake, this city; Mrs. Peggy Hayes Taylor, New Paltz and Mrs. James Scott, Milton.

Old subscriptions will be renewed and reservations for new members accepted at any time.

Miss Maurer Wins Nursing Scholarship

Miss Katheryn Maurer of Connelly, it was announced today, has been awarded the Ulster County Medical Society Auxiliary's annual $300 nursing scholarship. She will enter the September class at the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing.

The award was made by the auxiliary's scholarship committee which met last night at the home of Mrs. Anthony Mauceri, chairman. Other committee members are Mrs. Alfred W. Harder, Mrs. John A. Cooke and Mrs. John R. Roberts.

The auxiliary will sponsor a fashion show featuring Weisberg's Specialty Shop at Bethany Hall in the Old First Reformed Church Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 2:30 p. m. Proceeds will be applied to the scholarship fund.

Autumn Blouses Emphasize Color

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York—(NEA)—As suits become the backbone of a woman's wardrobe once again, blouses, too, take on a new importance. Because a blouse complements a suit, adds glow and sparkle, it's a fashion accessory to be picked with care.

Blouse emphasis this autumn is on color. Soft, delicate shades such as wheat gold, dazzling color found in gold aster, rich copper brown called copper leaf, all make the wearing of a suit more fun. There are deep reds, some of them softened to paler versions; wild rose, thistle pink and cyclamen. Foils to brown and gray flannels are pale toast beige and a subtle steel gray.

A tailored blouse (left) in a washable tissue faille fabric by Bur-Mil has short sleeves, a criss-crossed, notched tie. It's done in many colors, from soft to bright to dark.

The fine tuck bid that decorates another short-sleeved blouse (right) in a faille from this same house is lighted by the gleam of small rhinestone buttons. Collar is a tuxedo wing. This blouse, too, is found in a range of rich color.

Fair Street Church Announces Events For Its Annual Fair

Plans for the annual fair of the Fair Street Reformed Church, to be held on Thursday and Friday, September 6 and 7, have been completed. This year several new features will be included.

The fair will be held afternoons and evenings at the church, Fair and Pearl streets. Under the general direction of Edward F. Dingeldey, Otto Havlin and Frank Byer, assisted by numerous booth chairmen, plans have been under way all during the summer months.

In addition to booths there will be games and entertainment. Each evening of the fair a dinner will be served in the church in addition to refreshments which will be available from noon on at the refreshment booth on the fair grounds.

Games will be in charge of Arthur Hutton and John Pope, and there will be entertainment for the kiddies as well as the grown-ups. This year a "whip" for the adults and older children will make its appearance as one of the new features. This will be in addition to the Purcell kiddie merry-go-round.

Members of the Men's Club will meet at the church on Wednesday night to erect booths and put the finishing touches for the opening Thursday noon.

Mrs. Burton Haver will be in charge of the entertainment program.

Included this year will be the following booths:

Domestic booth, Mrs. Raymond Gilkey and Mrs. Peter Hoornbeck, chairmen; handkerchief and picture booth, Mrs. Kenneth Wood; doll booth, Mrs. Edward Dingeldey; food booth, Mrs. Robert Broad and Mrs. Leonard Flicker; candy booth, Mrs. Charles Amberg; miscellaneous, Mrs. Kenneth Hicok, Mrs. W. E. Rylance, Mrs. William C. Dutton; vegetable and salad booth, Mrs. Tracy Munson and Mrs. Donald Parish; card booth, Mrs. Otto Havlin and Miss Helen Kennedy; flower booth, Mrs. Stanley Matthews and Mrs. N. Le Van Haver; refreshments, Mrs. Densie Borg and Mrs. Fred Hoffman.

Alderman Abram Relyea will again be treasurer of the fair.

Club Notices

The first fall meeting of the Gem Society of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will be held in Epworth parlors Tuesday, Sept. 4 at 8 p. m. Members are reminded to bring gifts for their secret pals.

Danish Singer Will Open Studio Here

MRS. AGNETE MUNDT

A new vocal studio, conducted by Mrs. Agnete Mundt of Woodstock will open at 277 Fair street Tuesday, Sept. 4. Mrs. Mundt explained she will conduct classes and give private lessons for both children and adults.

A native of Denmark, she received her training in Copenhagen under the noted teacher Wilhjem Rosenberg, and later at the Danish Royal Opera School. Arriving in the United States in the early '20s, she concertized extensively in Chicago where she made her home, and toured with the San Carlo Opera Co.

In 1939 she returned to Denmark where she was under contract to Statradiofoni until the German invasion. She has also sung over eastern and mid-western networks.

Airplane stewards are furnished with charts showing how long to boil eggs soft, medium, or hard, at various altitudes.

Men Models Steal Fashion Limelight At Players' Show

Men models stole the limelight, and nearly stole the show Tuesday night when the Coach House Players presented city merchants in a benefit fashion parade before a capacity audience in gardens of the Governor Clinton Hotel. Second feature of the event was a ballet revue staged by Alexis Kosloff.

Fashion notes stressed the return of the petticoat to its old popularity. Ladies in the mode will become reacquainted with grandma's standby this fall, wearing full dresses and skirts over layers of cotton, taffeta and crinoline.

The fashion show's finale featured a bridal party and guests. Shortly after the bride and groom's exit a spotlight playing on a third story window of the hotel showed them waving their farewells to the audience.

Fashions were presented Tuesday night by Mrs. Helen Davenport and Mrs. Ruth Brinnier, co-chairmen.

Mr. Kosloff's ballet revue was held about the lake in the hotel's sunken garden, where dancers were seen among the flowers, throwing colorful reflections into the lake's water. Music was provided by James Sweeney and his string ensemble.

During the evening Irving Rose, president of the Players, acquainted the audience with the purpose and aims of the group in establishing a theatre and art center, and opened the organization's second membership drive. He also announced the following full-length productions for the '51-'52 season: Chicken Every Sunday, Village Green, The Two Mrs. Carroils. In addition Players will present several one-act plays and "an outstanding young musician" in recital.

Dutchess County Philharmonic Society Announces Soloists and Concert Dates

The board of directors of the Dutchess County Philharmonic Society have announced, following a meeting Tuesday, Aug. 20, that there will be three concerts this season on October 24, December 12, and March 19. They will be given in Poughkeepsie High School auditorium, under the baton of Ole Windingstad.

Attending the board meeting were Mrs. Philip G. Swartz, Donald Cameron, Harold C. McLaughlin, Mitchell S. Kozik, George Bingham, Bruno Forsher, Mrs. Dorothy Goetz, Dr. Sidney N. Miller, Dr. Martin T. Siegel, Paul A. H. Wesis, Kurt Grishman, Clarence Karan, Miss Katherine H. Greer, and Miss Marta Milinowski, president, in the chair.

This year's soloists, it was announced, will all be winners of the Young Artists Competition. First to appear will be Sgt. Oswald Lehnert, violinist of the United States Millitary Academy Band, West Point. In the second concert the guest artist will be Anne Marie Hammes, young Albany pianist. Appearing as soloist in the final concert will be Jane Lucas, soprano, who was graduated from Vassar College this June. The society also announced that it has been, and is its policy to use local talent whenever possible for orchestra members and soloists.

Tickets for the '51-'52 season are available by writing to P. O. Box 5, Poughkeepsie, telephoning Poughkeepsie 1954, or by contacting Mrs. H. Sabin Leake, this city; Mrs. Peggy Hayes Taylor, New Paltz and Mrs. James Scott, Milton.

Old subscriptions will be renewed and reservations for new members accepted at any time.

Miss Maurer Wins Nursing Scholarship

Miss Katheryn Maurer of Connelly, it was announced today, has been awarded the Ulster County Medical Society Auxiliary's annual $300 nursing scholarship. She will enter the September class at the Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing.

The award was made by the auxiliary's scholarship committee which met last night at the home of Mrs. Anthony Mauceri, chairman. Other committee members are Mrs. Alfred W. Harder, Mrs. John A. Cooke and Mrs. John R. Roberts.

The auxiliary will sponsor a fashion show featuring Weisberg's Specialty Shop at Bethany Hall in the Old First Reformed Church Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 2:30 p. m. Proceeds will be applied to the scholarship fund.

Stollers Give Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. David N. Stoller of 222 Eimendorf street entertained Tuesday at a birthday dinner given for Miss Marian Stewart of Carlton Inn, Milton. The dinner was held at Lake Mohonk Mountain House. Other guests were Nathan Hahn of Milton, Mrs. Verna Ellis, this city, and Mrs. Stoller's mother, Mrs. Margaret Niles.

Church Members Fete Stone Ridge Minister At Farewell Party

Approximately 100 members and friends of the Stone Ridge Methodist Church feted the Rev. and Mrs. B. C. Schmidt Tuesday night at a farewell surprise party, which also marked their 16th wedding anniversary.

The Rev. Mr. Schmidt, who came to Stone Ridge five years ago from Georgetown, Texas, has completed his studies at Drew University. He has been called to a charge at Melvin, Texas.

During the official farewell to the minister, his wife and two children, Ruth and John, there was an entertainment program of skits and group singing based on a Texas theme, followed by vocal and instrumental selections. Miss Ethelyn Herman of Pine Plains gave a trumpet solo accompanied by Miss Gertrude Linck of this city; William White, art editor of the New York Daily News, now vacationing in the area sang a special farewell song, and the Rev. Mr. Schmidt, accompanied by his son, sang two selections.

The minister and his family were given a purse from their friends at Edgewater Farm, presented by John Young of New York; an anniversary gift presented by Mrs. Oliver Bogart; president of the church's Woman's Society for Christian Service who also planned the party; a gift from the Sunday School presented by Wesley Lawrence, acting superintendent, and a purse from members and friends of the church. In presenting it Roy E. Ransom, church treasurer and lay leader, spoke of the depth of feeling the Rev. Mr. Schmidt and his family have inspired in the lives of all with whom they have come in contact.

Wallkill Residents Engaged to Marry

New York, Aug. 29 (Special)—Two Wallkill residents, Miss Antoinette Charney, a teacher, of RFD No. 2, and Frank Scofide, a farmer, of the same address, secured a marriage license at the Municipal Building here today.

The couple said they would be married shortly.

Miss Charney, who was born in Russia, is the daughter of Frank and Anna Weeks Charney. She was divorced from Albert Rosevelle in 1945. Mr. Scofide, who is the son of Joseph and Sarah Garito Scofide, was born in Wallkill.

A Ship's Mascot Goes Ashore

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

KISSING CHILDREN

A mother today writes: "My little children always shy away from kissing our visitors which causes some of the latter annoyance, particularly those who are relatives and some of my best friends. Is there any way to 'force' the children or placate the visitors?"

In my opinion rule number one of etiquette is not to kiss any children (except your own) unless the approach is made by them. If they do not want to kiss visitors, merely say, "Johnnie is very shy," but never force the children.

Husband Must Retain Jr.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband has retained Jr. even though his father is not living because his stepmother, who is fairly young, refuses to call herself Mrs. Brown Sr. She says that's ridiculous for her age! If we have a son when our baby arrives we'd like to name him for his father. Actually he is Jr. but how can there be two men in our family called Jr.? Under the conditions should the baby be called 3rd?

Answer: Definitely yes. Your husband will have to be called Junior and the baby the third.

Speaking First

Dear Mrs. Post: When entering a room who should speak first, the person in the room or the person entering?

Answer: There really isn't any rule.

One Reply Will Do

Dear Mrs. Post: A wedding reception invitation was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Blank and Miss Amy Blank. How should the reply be worded when only Mrs. Blank is going to accept?

Answer: Mrs. Blank accepts with pleasure. Mr. Blank and Miss Blank regret that they will be unable to accept.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but if you are planning to give a hostess-alone dinner party, she tells what to serve and how to serve it in the simplest manner in her booklet No. 503, "Etiquette of Service." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to her care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

British Teacher To Be at New Paltz

New York, Aug 30 (Special)—Students at State Teachers College in New Paltz will see a new face among the faculty members when school opens next month, according to an announcement made here today by Joseph O'Connor, regional director of the Federal Security Agency.

She is Mildred M. Cullen, who has been a teacher at the Training College in Darlington, Durham, England. She and Mrs. Ilene H. Compton of New Paltz State Teachers College have exchanged jobs for a year under provisions of an act of Congress designed to promote international good will.

The program is conducted by the Office of Education of the FSA, in cooperation with the Department of State. A total of 107 teachers from this country have switched jobs this year with 101 British and six French pedagogues, according to Mr. O'Connor.

Section of Route To Be Repaved

The repaving of a section of Route 212 through Woodstock is expected to start full scale after the holiday, a state engineer said today.

Work on the project to date has been confined to the repairing of the shoulders of the old road and the widening of some sections.

The pouring of concrete on about two miles of the New York State Thruway south of Saugerties is also scheduled to start early in September, the engineer said. Meanwhile, state men are surveying sections of the route in the Whiteport and Ohioville areas south of Kingston.

Church Members Fete Stone Ridge Minister At Farewell Party

Approximately 100 members and friends of the Stone Ridge Methodist Church feted the Rev. and Mrs. B. C. Schmidt Tuesday night at a farewell surprise party, which also marked their 16th wedding anniversary.

The Rev. Mr. Schmidt, who came to Stone Ridge five years ago from Georgetown, Texas, has completed his studies at Drew University. He has been called to a charge at Melvin, Texas.

During the official farewell to the minister, his wife and two children, Ruth and John, there was an entertainment program of skits and group singing based on a Texas theme, followed by vocal and instrumental selections. Miss Ethelyn Herman of Pine Plains gave a trumpet solo accompanied by Miss Gertrude Linck of this city; William White, art editor of the New York Daily News, now vacationing in the area sang a special farewell song, and the Rev. Mr. Schmidt, accompanied by his son, sang two selections.

The minister and his family were given a purse from their friends at Edgewater Farm, presented by John Young of New York; an anniversary gift presented by Mrs. Oliver Bogart; president of the church's Woman's Society for Christian Service who also planned the party; a gift from the Sunday School presented by Wesley Lawrence, acting superintendent, and a purse from members and friends of the church. In presenting it Roy E. Ransom, church treasurer and lay leader, spoke of the depth of feeling the Rev. Mr. Schmidt and his family have inspired in the lives of all with whom they have come in contact.

Wallkill Residents Engaged to Marry

New York, Aug. 29 (Special)—Two Wallkill residents, Miss Antoinette Charney, a teacher, of RFD No. 2, and Frank Scofide, a farmer, of the same address, secured a marriage license at the Municipal Building here today.

The couple said they would be married shortly.

Miss Charney, who was born in Russia, is the daughter of Frank and Anna Weeks Charney. She was divorced from Albert Roseville in 1945. Mr. Scofide, who is the son of Joseph and Sarah Garito Scofide, was born in Wallkill.

KISSING CHILDREN

A mother today writes: "My little children always shy away from kissing our visitors which causes some of the latter annoyance, particularly those who are relatives and some of my best friends. Is there any way to 'force' the children or placate the visitors?"

In my opinion rule number one of etiquette is not to kiss any children (except your own) unless the approach is made by them. If they do not want to kiss visitors, merely say, "Johnnie is very shy," but never force the children.

Husband Must Retain Jr.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband has retained Jr. even though his father is not living because his stepmother, who is fairly young, refuses to call herself Mrs. Brown Sr. She says that's ridiculous for her age! If we have a son when our baby arrives we'd like to name him for his father. Actually he is Jr. but how can there be two men in our family called Jr.? Under the conditions should the baby be called 3rd?

Answer: Definitely yes. Your husband will have to be called Junior and the baby the third.

Speaking First

Dear Mrs. Post: When entering a room who should speak first, the person in the room or the person entering?

Answer: There really isn't any rule.

One Reply Will Do

Dear Mrs. Post: A wedding reception invitation was addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Blank and Miss Amy Blank. How should the reply be worded when only Mrs. Blank is going to accept?

Answer: Mrs. Blank accepts with pleasure. Mr. Blank and Miss Blank regret that they will be unable to accept.

British Teacher To Be at New Paltz

New York, Aug 30 (Special)—Students at State Teachers College in New Paltz will see a new face among the faculty members when school opens next month, according to an announcement made here today by Joseph O'Connor, regional director of the Federal Security Agency.

She is Mildred M. Cullen, who has been a teacher at the Training College in Darlington, Durham, England. She and Mrs. Ilene H. Compton of New Paltz State Teachers College have exchanged jobs for a year under provisions of an act of Congress designed to promote international good will.

The program is conducted by the Office of Education of the FSA, in cooperation with the Department of State. A total of 107 teachers from this country have switched jobs this year with 101 British and six French pedagogues, according to Mr. O'Connor.

Section of Route To Be Repaved

The repaving of a section of Route 212 through Woodstock is expected to start full scale after the holiday, a state engineer said today.

Work on the project to date has been confined to the repairing of the shoulders of the old road and the widening of some sections.

The pouring of concrete on about two miles of the New York State Thruway south of Saugerties is also scheduled to start early in September, the engineer said. Meanwhile, state men are surveying sections of the route in the Whiteport and Ohioville areas south of Kingston.

Relieve Bone Disease

New York (AP)—To relieve pain in osetecarthritis of the knees, Dr. H. Berger tells of using injections into the joints of procaine hydrochloride. Results were good, with a small group of patients all improved, and some completely relieved, he writes in the New York State Journal of Medicine.

Ulster Branch of American Cancer Society Annual Meeting

Directors Are Named and Reports Submitted at Annual Session Held Recently

Fourteen new directors to serve three years were elected during the recent annual meeting of the Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society in the library of the Kingston Laboratory.

Dr. Joseph Jacobson, Dr. Kenneth LeFever, Dr. Frederick W. Holcomb, Sr., Dr. Edward Shea, Dr. John R. Roberts and Dr. B. J. Dutto.

Laymen named as directors were Mrs. Harry P. Van Wagenen, Eugene B. Carey, Herman G. Rafalowsky, Mrs. A. J. Snyder, Richard M. Kalish, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Robert M. Peebles and Mrs. Robert R. Rodie.

The entire board of directors will meet September 10 to elect officers for 1952.

The following report was submitted at the meeting by Mrs. Van Wagenen, executive director:

The Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society sponsors the educational program and the fund-raising program. The former includes organization, education and service. The local organization has had for many years in Ulster county a field army which is the volunteers of the Ulster County Branch.

Organization

Each township has a captain and each captain a corps of volunteer workers. There are 55 volunteers in the City of Kingston under Mrs. James Betts as city commander. It was through her efforts that the Negro women were organized last year. The work is promoted through these channels by the executive director of the Ulster County Branch.

Education

Training school. A training school was held during the war for the purpose of indoctrinating the new volunteers and to familiarize the group with the new tools available and the new methods of approach.

Films. The most valuable tool furnished this year was the film Breast Self-Examination. It was shown 23 times in Ulster county to combined audiences numbering 904 women. Other films were shown 42 times and 1,023 people viewed them. Eighteen health classes in the high schools of Ulster county were privileged to view the films. From One Cell was especially popular for this purpose and 1,406 students saw it.

Talks. There were 35 talks given by doctors to audiences numbering 1,311, 20 talks were given by the executive director and three by other lay people.

Exhibits. The large exhibit was on display at six different places in the county. It is estimated that it was viewed by 32,000 people. Bulletin board posters have been placed in industries and hundreds of posters, large and small, have been displayed in store windows.

Literature. Danger signals have been distributed throughout two townships in a house-to-house canvass. These were not campaign leaflets, neither were they distributed during the campaign. Another township has promised a similar activity to be carried on as a summer project. In another section, where there is a large Italian settlement, flyers in Italian were distributed to the older people who cannot read English. The students in one high school took home 1,500 leaflets. There were 10,000 bookmarks distributed in books going out from public libraries, 30,000 leaflets were sent out in bills and laundries, 1,200 tally cards were used and 800 flyers were distributed by the Welcome Wagon representatives. Also, 2,000 leaflets were distributed to industrial workers and 3,500 were placed in dispensers in banks and drug stores. All in all, 125,912 pieces of literature were distributed.

Publicity. The newspapers of the county have been generous in giving the Branch space, not only during the campaign but throughout the year. Notices of meetings and accounts of them were usually in the papers. A proclamation was issued by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk at the opening of the campaign and four editorials were written. The national packet was followed and an American Cancer Society slug was used in some of the postage meter machines during April.

Radio. Two radio skits were sponsored by the field army and each time a doctor took one of the parts. At the opening of the campaign one of the doctors gave a 15-minute talk. Spot announcements have been used extensively and the program chairman at WKNY has promised to use the 15-minute series, Life's Fuller Measure.

Service

Cancer dressings. The Branch has had eight groups making cancer dressings and supplied 14 patients. In all, 3,954 dressings were made. Endeavor has been made to supply every cancer patient in Ulster county who needs this service. However, it is believed this project should be carefully supervised or considerable waste will result. In the opinion of the local Branch, the system which has been built is thrifty and adequate.

Transportation. A dependable transportation committee has been arranged but few people have needed this service during the past year. Most of the patients have had friends or relatives who transported them to and from the clinic, consequently only 14 trips have been made.

Magazines. A committee furnishes magazines for the waiting rooms in the clinic.

Special service. Two committees have been formed to render special service to the cancer patient. The cheer committee takes flowers or jig-saw puzzles to cancer patients where it is thought they will be appreciated. The home visiting committee was formed to relieve the family by sitting with the patients or giving such simple service as may be needed. No calls have been made for this service but the group is ready to respond upon request.

Campaign

Ulster county went over its quota in the 1951 Cancer Crusade. The last report from Mr. Fassbender, the campaign treasurer, showed that the Branch had raised $12,851.16.

Space Wanted

Montreal (AP)—Hearings of the Montreal Rental Administrator, scheduled to begin soon, may have to be delayed. The administrator, Maurice Julie, is having trouble getting someone to rent him an office.

Ulster Branch of American Cancer Society Annual Meeting

Directors Are Named and Reports Submitted at Annual Session Held Recently

Fourteen new directors to serve three years were elected during the recent annual meeting of the Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society in the library of the Kingston Laboratory.

Dr. Joseph Jacobson, Dr. Kenneth LeFever, Dr. Frederick W. Holcomb, Sr., Dr. Edward Shea, Dr. John R. Roberts and Dr. B. J. Dutto.

Laymen named as directors were Mrs. Harry P. Van Wagenen, Eugene B. Carey, Herman G. Rafalowsky, Mrs. A. J. Snyder, Richard M. Kalish, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Robert M. Peebles and Mrs. Robert R. Rodie.

The entire board of directors will meet September 10 to elect officers for 1952.

The following report was submitted at the meeting by Mrs. Van Wagenen, executive director:

The Ulster County Branch of the American Cancer Society sponsors the educational program and the fund-raising program. The former includes organization, education and service. The local organization has had for many years in Ulster county a field army which is the volunteers of the Ulster County Branch.

Organization

Each township has a captain and each captain a corps of volunteer workers. There are 55 volunteers in the City of Kingston under Mrs. James Betts as city commander. It was through her efforts that the Negro women were organized last year. The work is promoted through these channels by the executive director of the Ulster County Branch.

Education

Training school. A training school was held during the war for the purpose of indoctrinating the new volunteers and to familiarize the group with the new tools available and the new methods of approach.

Films. The most valuable tool furnished this year was the film Breast Self-Examination. It was shown 23 times in Ulster county to combined audiences numbering 904 women. Other films were shown 42 times and 1,023 people viewed them. Eighteen health classes in the high schools of Ulster county were privileged to view the films. From One Cell was especially popular for this purpose and 1,406 students saw it.

Talks. There were 35 talks given by doctors to audiences numbering 1,311, 20 talks were given by the executive director and three by other lay people.

Exhibits. The large exhibit was on display at six different places in the county. It is estimated that it was viewed by 32,000 people. Bulletin board posters have been placed in industries and hundreds of posters, large and small, have been displayed in store windows.

Literature. Danger signals have been distributed throughout two townships in a house-to-house canvass. These were not campaign leaflets, neither were they distributed during the campaign. Another township has promised a similar activity to be carried on as a summer project. In another section, where there is a large Italian settlement, flyers in Italian were distributed to the older people who cannot read English. The students in one high school took home 1,500 leaflets. There were 10,000 bookmarks distributed in books going out from public libraries, 30,000 leaflets were sent out in bills and laundries, 1,200 tally cards were used and 800 flyers were distributed by the Welcome Wagon representatives. Also, 2,000 leaflets were distributed to industrial workers and 3,500 were placed in dispensers in banks and drug stores. All in all, 125,912 pieces of literature were distributed.

Publicity. The newspapers of the county have been generous in giving the Branch space, not only during the campaign but throughout the year. Notices of meetings and accounts of them were usually in the papers. A proclamation was issued by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk at the opening of the campaign and four editorials were written. The national packet was followed and an American Cancer Society slug was used in some of the postage meter machines during April.

Radio. Two radio skits were sponsored by the field army and each time a doctor took one of the parts. At the opening of the campaign one of the doctors gave a 15-minute talk. Spot announcements have been used extensively and the program chairman at WKNY has promised to use the 15-minute series, Life's Fuller Measure.

Service

Cancer dressings. The Branch has had eight groups making cancer dressings and supplied 14 patients. In all, 3,954 dressings were made. Endeavor has been made to supply every cancer patient in Ulster county who needs this service. However, it is believed this project should be carefully supervised or considerable waste will result. In the opinion of the local Branch, the system which has been built is thrifty and adequate.

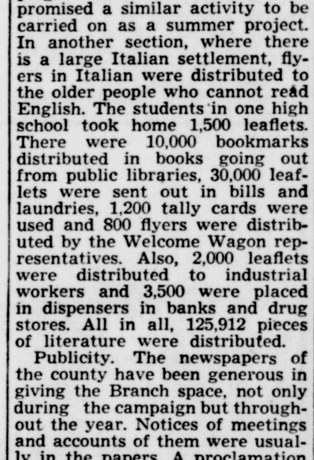

Transportation. A dependable transportation committee has been arranged but few people have needed this service during the past year. Most of the patients have had friends or relatives who transported them to and from the clinic, consequently only 14 trips have been made.

Magazines. A committee furnishes magazines for the waiting rooms in the clinic.

Special service. Two committees have been formed to render special service to the cancer patient. The cheer committee takes flowers or jig-saw puzzles to cancer patients where it is thought they will be appreciated. The home visiting committee was formed to relieve the family by sitting with the patients or giving such simple service as may be needed. No calls have been made for this service but the group is ready to respond upon request.

Campaign

Ulster county went over its quota in the 1951 Cancer Crusade. The last report from Mr. Fassbender, the campaign treasurer, showed that the Branch had raised $12,851.16.

MAINE SARDINES HAVE PROTEIN

BAKED MAINE SARDINES Italian is a low cost, "gourmet" main dish for dinner.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For a low-cost source of protein, Maine sardines are an outstanding value. The pack is tremendous.

A few special recipes will turn these low-cost sardines into family "gourmet" main dishes. These were prepared by noted Maine cooks exclusively for this column:

Baked Maine Sardines Italian
(Serves 4-6)

Two cans Maine sardines, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 clove garlic, minced, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, 2½ cups canned tomatoes, drained, 1/3 cup chopped ripe olives, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 cup prepared biscuit mix, 1/3 cup milk.

Saute onion and garlic in oil until golden brown. Add peppers, tomatoes, olives, salt and sugar and cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Add milk to prepared biscuit mix. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead 10 times. Place on greased baking sheet and pat out to large oval, ½ inch thick. Place sardines on top. Spoon tomato mixture over, bake 20 minutes in hot (400 degrees F.) oven.

Maine Sardine and Corn Fritters
(Makes 12 fritters)

One can Maine sardines, coarsely broken, 1 cup whole kernel corn, 3 eggs, separated, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons all-purpose flour, 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sardines, corn, salt, pepper and flour. Blend well. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot butter in frying pan. Cook until golden brown on both sides.

Maine Sardine and Potato Patties
(Makes 4 patties

One can Maine sardines, coarsely broken, 1 cup mashed potatoes, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 to 3 tablespoons butter.

Combine sardines, potatoes, onion, parsley and salt. Form into patties and dust lightly with flour. Fry in butter in frying pan until golden brown on each side.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, butter or fortified margarine, syrup or honey, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese and chopped raw vegetables, homogenized sour cream, buttered toasted English muffins, stewed blackberries, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Baked Maine sardines Italian, parsley potatoes, buttered garlic bread, mixed green "garden" salad, French dressing, fresh fruit compote, iced coffee, milk.

Saturday, Aug. 11, by the Rev. Cornelius Meyer in the Shawangunk Reformed Church. The sanctuary was decorated with white gladioli. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in white satin and carried a white Bible with white orchid, stephanotis and white satin streamers. Miss Betty Stevens of Walden was maid of honor. She wore aqua organdy and carried aqua gladioli on a fan. Mrs. Harry Pfaff and Miss Lettie Bedell were bridesmaids. They wore orchid organdy and craried orchid gladioli. William Bedell of Wallkill was best man, with M. J. Oscar Smith and Raymond Stuhmer of Gardiner as ushers. John Henry Bedell was ring bearer. A reception was held in the church hall after which the couple left on a trip to Canada. On their return they will live in Quaker Bridge, Pa. Mrs. Quigley is a graduate of Wallkill Central School and attended Moore Institute of Art in Philadelphia, Pa. and Becker Junior College in Worcester, Mass. Mr. Quigley attended Bradford High School and Pennsylvania State College. He is a store manager in Salamanca, Pa.

MAINE SARDINES HAVE PROTEIN

BAKED MAINE SARDINES Italian is a low cost, "gourmet" main dish for dinner.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For a low-cost source of protein, Maine sardines are an outstanding value. The pack is tremendous.

A few special recipes will turn these low-cost sardines into family "gourmet" main dishes. These were prepared by noted Maine cooks exclusively for this column:

Baked Maine Sardines Italian
(Serves 4-6)

Two cans Maine sardines, 2 tablespoons salad oil, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 clove garlic, minced, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, 2½ cups canned tomatoes, drained, 1/3 cup chopped ripe olives, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 cup prepared biscuit mix, 1/3 cup milk.

Saute onion and garlic in oil until golden brown. Add peppers, tomatoes, olives, salt and sugar and cook over low heat for 15 minutes. Add milk to prepared biscuit mix. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead 10 times. Place on greased baking sheet and pat out to large oval, ½ inch thick. Place sardines on top. Spoon tomato mixture over, bake 20 mirutes in hot (400 degrees F.) oven.

Maine Sardine and Corn Fritters
(Makes 12 fritters)

One can Maine sardines, coarsely broken, 1 cup whole kernel corn, 3 eggs, separated, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 4 tablespoons all-purpose flour, 4 tablespoons butter or other shortening.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sardines, corn, salt, pepper and flour. Blend well. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Drop by tablespoonfuls into hot butter in frying pan. Cook until golden brown on both sides.

Maine Sardine and Potato Patties
(Makes 4 patties

One can Maine sardines, coarsely broken, 1 cup mashed potatoes, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 to 3 tablespoons butter.

Combine sardines, potatoes, onion, parsley and salt. Form into patties and dust lightly with flour. Fry in butter in frying pan until golden brown on each side.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, butter or fortified margarine, syrup or honey, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomatoes stuffed with cottage cheese and chopped raw vegetables, homogenized sour cream, buttered toasted English muffins, stewed blackberries, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Baked Maine sardines Italian, parsley potatoes, buttered garlic bread, mixed green "garden" salad, French dressing, fresh fruit compote, iced coffee, milk.

Borden, Kunze Excel as Colonials Sweep Two From Rome by 2-0 4-1

Locals Pull Up To Half a Game Of Fifth Place

Oneonta Nails Down Can-Am Pennant

Hopes for Kingston's vacating of the cellar position of the Class C Canadian-American League received a healthy shot in the arm Wednesday night when Manager John Sosh's hirelings copped both ends of a double-header in Rome.

The Colonials won by scores of 2 to 0 and 4 to 1 behind nifty pitching efforts by Charlie Borden and Bobby Kunze.

As a result of last night's sweep, the Colonials moved to within a half-game of the fifth place Rome Colonels. The two clubs wind up their series tonight with a single-ton in Rome.

Oneonta Wins Pennant

Meanwhile, the Oneonta Red Sox surprised very few last night by nailing down the 1951 pennant in the Can-Am circuit.

A pair of victories by the galloping Red Sox over Gloversville, 6-5 and 9-3, put the Sox beyond reach of the second-place Pittsfield Electrics who won a single game from Amsterdam by 11-5.

Oneonta won the first half of the split season by a half-game over Pittsfield. The Sockers now hold an eight-game lead in the final half, with eight games to play. Pittsfield has six games left on the 1951 schedule.

None Reach Second

Borden excelled for Kingston in last night's opening 2-0 victory. He was touched for a single by Ron Esrang of Rome in the second and a single by Don Pancoe in the seventh. Borden didn't allow a man to reach second as both Esrang and Pancoe were cut down via double-plays.

While Borden held the Colonels in check, the Colonials weren't exactly knocking the cover off the ball against Benny Kiburis, the Rome flinger.

A double by Gene Zubrinski was turned into a run in the fourth after Nick Marino's single and a long fly by Dave Ocarr.

The Colonials put over their final run in the seventh when Scotty Tortoriello walked and went to third on Sosh's single to left. Bam Piacentino's double to right drove in Tortoriello.

Kingston took a 1-0 edge in the nightcap in the first inning on a single by Tortoriello and a scoring double by Manager Sosh. Bobby Kunze held the slim lead until the fourth when the Colonels put over an unearned run.

Higgins reached on Zubrinski's error, stole second, advanced to third on a bad throw by the Colonial hurler and scored on a wild pitch.

Kingston proceeded to register single tallies in the seventh, eighth and ninth frames to wrap up the win.

In the seventh, Kunze was nicked by a pitched ball, went to second on Tortoriello's single and scored by a single by Sosh.

Bill O'Brien's only hit of the double-header produced Kingston's third run in the eigth after Zurbrinski and Marino had walked. The final tally came in the ninth when Johnny De Fresco singled, stole second and rode home on Tortoriello's biff to left.

Locals Home Sunday

Kingston will return home Sunday for the conclusion of the home stand at the stadium for the 1951 season. The second-place Pittsfield Electrics will help the locals bring down the curtain.

Kid Gavilan Keeps Welter Title With Win Over Graham

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Kid Gavalan won a hairline decision over Billy Graham to keep the World Welterweight Championship. but the fight served only to start a furious argument.

It was their third meeting and the third split decision. Graham now has won once and the Cuban twice.

The 15-round fight last night in Madison Square Garden resolved itself into a matter of personal opinion. Gavilan was more generally the aggressor, started fast, and threw long, looping punches. Graham was the superb counter-puncher, started slowly, and closed with a mighty rush. Despite the numerous blows there were no knockdowns and no serious damage.

Judge Arthur Schwartz liked Gavilan clearly, nine rounds to six.

Judge Frank Forbes called it 7-7 with one even, and gave Graham the edge in points, 11-10. That cast his vote for Graham.

Referee Mark Conn also called it 7-7 with one even, but he gave Gavilan the edge in points 10-7, and that decided it.

Writers Favor Graham

The Associated Press card gave even.

"I know I'll get another shot, but I want the title now," said Graham softly. "Geez, I think here's one time when I really had it. They can't take it away from me. Geez, I shudda won. I wasn't even tired."

Gavilan talked Spanish a mile a minute but allowed he thought he won it nine rounds to four with the rest even.

This was the Cuban's defense of the championship he won May 18 of this year from Johnny Bratton and he went into the ring a 12-5 favorite. At 145¼ he had a one-quarter pound margin over Graham.

Three Crews Close

Marblehead, Mass., Aug. 30 (AP)—Only three-quarters of a point separated the first three crews today as the eight Sears Cup competitors started the second half of the eight-race National Junior Sailing championship regatta. Stone Johnstone's Wadawanuck, Conn., crew led with 23¼ points, George Reichhelm's Rocky Point, N. Y., trio was second with 23 and Pete Willauer's Prout's Neck, Me., entry was third with 22½.

County Swimmers Get Trophies

Award Dance

Championship awards for the Olive Memorial Baseball League will be made at a dance sponsored by Olive Memorial Post of the American Legion on Saturday, Sept. 1, at Woodland Acres, West Shokan.

Harridge Turns Down Protest by Chisox

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—American League President Will Harridge has rejected the Chicago White Sox protest of a rained-out game at New York July 27 and also censured Manager Paul Richards for statements attributed to him.

"Manager Richards has been quoted as making some disparaging comments regarding the league office, the New York Yankees and certain members of our umpire staff," Harridge said yesterday in handing down a decision. "This is regrettable and not in the best interests of baseball."

Richards had little to say after this dressing down.

"We'll just take Mr. Harridge's decision as is and forget it," he said. "I am sure he gave our protest every matter of consideration."

The July 27 game was called by Umpire Hank Soar with two out in the Sox half of the ninth inning after Chicago had scored three runs to go ahead 4-3. The decision made the score revert to the end of the eight inning, giving the Yankees a 3-1 victory.

Warren, O.—Lalu Saboti, 173, Warren, outpointed George (Sonny) Horne, 165, Valley Stream, N. Y. (10).

West Hurley Nine Wins Olive Crown

In a game marked by a rainstorm, rhubarb and loose defensive play, the West Hurley Warriors won the Olive Memorial Baseball League title in a playoff game Sunday by the score of 8 to 2.

The game got into the official records by an eyelash before the tilt was called due to darkness after three and a half innings of play.

Eckert, West Shokan reliefer for Lammond who injured his finger in a close play at the plate, allowed but one hit in the two and two-thirds innings he pitched. However, his feat went down the drain as his mates came up with four costly errors.

Meanwhile, Snipes, the winning hurler, gave up two hits, both going to Colletti, the West Shokan second sacker.

The newly-crowned champs will meet an All-Star team at West Shokan Saturday afternoon and will be awarded their laurels at the award dance scheduled in West Shokan's Woodland Acres Saturday night.

Score by innings:

West Shokan	001 1—2 2 4
West Hurley	332 x—8 5 1

Batteries: Lammond, Eckert and Warnes; Snipes and Every.

Meanwhile, the Oneonta Red Sox surprised very few last night by nailing down the 1951 pennant in the Can-Am circuit.

A pair of victories by the galloping Red Sox over Gloversville, 6-5 and 9-3, put the Sox beyond reach of the second-place Pittsfield Electrics who won a single game from Amsterdam by 11-5.

Oneonta won the first half of the split season by a half-game over Pittsfield. The Sockers now hold an eight-game lead in the final half, with eight games to play. Pittsfield has six games left on the 1951 schedule.

None Reach Second

Borden excelled for Kingston in last night's opening 2-0 victory. He was touched for a single by Ron Esrang of Rome in the second and a single by Don Pancoe in the seventh. Borden didn't allow a man to reach second as both Esrang and Pancoe were cut down via double-plays.

While Borden held the Colonels in check, the Colonials weren't exactly knocking the cover off the ball against Benny Kiburis, the Rome flinger.

A double by Gene Zubrinski was turned into a run in the fourth after Nick Marino's single and a long fly by Dave Ocarr.

The Colonials put over their final run in the seventh when Scotty Tortoriello walked and went to third on Sosh's single to left. Bam Piacentino's double to right drove in Tortoriello.

Kingston took a 1-0 edge in the nightcap in the first inning on a single by Tortoriello and a scoring double by Manager Sosh. Bobby Kunze held the slim lead until the fourth when the Colonels put over an unearned run.

Higgins reached on Zubrinski's error, stole second, advanced to third on a bad throw by the Colonial hurler and scored on a wild pitch.

Kingston proceeded to register single tallies in the seventh, eighth and ninth frames to wrap up the win.

In the seventh, Kunze was nicked by a pitched ball, went to second on Tortoriello's single and scored by a single by Sosh.

Bill O'Brien's only hit of the double-header produced Kingston's third run in the eigth after Zurbrinski and Marino had walked. The final tally came in the ninth when Johnny De Fresco singled, stole second and rode home on Tortoriello's biff to left.

Locals Home Sunday

Kingston will return home Sunday for the conclusion of the home stand at the stadium for the 1951 season. The second-place Pittsfield Electrics will help the locals bring down the curtain.

Kid Gavilan Keeps Welter Title With Win Over Graham

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Kid Gavalan won a hairline decision over Billy Graham to keep the World Welterweight Championship, but the fight served only to start a furious argument.

It was their third meeting and the third split decision. Graham now has won once and the Cuban twice.

The 15-round fight last night in Madison Square Garden resolved itself into a matter of personal opinion. Gavilan was more generally the aggressor, started fast, and threw long, looping punches. Graham was the superb counter-puncher, started slowly, and closed with a mighty rush. Despite the numerous blows there were no knockdowns and no serious damage.

Judge Arthur Schwartz liked Gavilan clearly, nine rounds to six.

Judge Frank Forbes called it 7-7 with one even, and gave Graham the edge in points, 11-10. That cast his vote for Graham.

Referee Mark Conn also called it 7-7 with one even, but he gave Gavilan the edge in points 10-7, and that decided it.

Writers Favor Graham

Of 13 ringside newspapermen polled, 10 favored Graham and three Gavilan.

The Associated Press card gave even.

The pro-Graham crowd roared a mighty protest, cheered the New Yorker to the echo, and Al Weill, International Boxing Club matchmaker, dashed into Graham's dressing room and told the disconsolate challenger, "don't worry, don't worry, you'll get another chance."

"I know I'll get another shot, but I want the title now," said Graham softly. "Geez, I think here's one time when I really had it. They can't take it away from me. Geez, I shudda won. I wasn't even tired."

Gavilan talked Spanish a mile a minute but allowed he thought he won it nine rounds to four with the rest even.

This was the Cuban's defense of the championship he won May 18 of this year from Johnny Bratton and he went into the ring a 12-5 favorite. At 145¼ he had a one-quarter pound margin over Graham.

Three Crews Close

Marblehead, Mass., Aug. 30 (AP)—Only three-quarters of a point separated the first three crews today as the eight Sears Cup competitors started the second half of the eight-race National Junior Sailing championship regatta. Stone Johnstone's Wadawanuck, Conn., crew led with 23¼ points, George Reichhelm's Rocky Point, N. Y., trio was second with 23 and Pete Willauer's Prout's Neck, Me., entry was third with 22½.

Harridge Turns Down Protest by Chisox

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—American League President Will Harridge has rejected the Chicago White Sox protest of a rained-out game at New York July 27 and also censured Manager Paul Richards for statements attributed to him.

"Manager Richards has been quoted as making some disparaging comments regarding the league office, the New York Yankees and certain members of our umpire staff," Harridge said yesterday in handing down a decision. "This is regrettable and not in the best interests of baseball."

Richards had little to say after this dressing down.

"We'll just take Mr. Harridge's decision as is and forget it," he said. "I am sure he gave our protest every matter of consideration."

The July 27 game was called by Umpire Hank Soar with two out in the Sox half of the ninth inning after Chicago had scored three runs to go ahead 4-3. The decision made the score revert to the end of the eight inning, giving the Yankees a 3-1 victory.

Warren, O.—Lalu Saboti, 173, Warren, outpointed George (Sonny) Horne, 165, Valley Stream, N. Y. (10).

West Hurley Nine Wins Olive Crown

In a game marked by a rainstorm, rhubarb and loose defensive play, the West Hurley Warriors won the Olive Memorial Baseball League title in a playoff game Sunday by the score of 8 to 2.

The game got into the official records by an eyelash before the tilt was called due to darkness after three and a half innings of play.

Eckert, West Shokan reliefer for Lammond who injured his finger in a close play at the plate, allowed but one hit in the two and two-thirds innings he pitched. However, his feat went down the drain as his mates came up with four costly errors.

Meanwhile, Snipes, the winning hurler, gave up two hits, both going to Colletti, the West Shokan second sacker.

The newly-crowned champs will meet an All-Star team at West Shokan Saturday afternoon and will be awarded their laurels at the award dance scheduled in West Shokan's Woodland Acres Saturday night.

Score by innings:

Greys Beat Ford and All Stars, 3-0; Cordts Trounce Cops, 19-3

Yankee Rookie Star Whiffs 14 In Seven Innings Before 2,500

While 2500 fans looked on in pre-war setting of excitement and color, the Long Island Greys downed Whitey Ford and Tommy Maines' All Stars, 3 to 0, and Cordts Hose flattened the Kingston Police nine, 19 to 3, in the Kingston Patrolmen's Association doubleheader last night at municipal stadium.

Handicapped by a willing but slightly overpowered catcher in Bill Olen, the youthful Ford was nevertheless able to unleash his famed rocket ball sporadically enough to fan 14 batters, while yielding all three runs and eight hits in 7 innings.

Meanwhile, Cordts Hose feasted on Manager Lennie Ellsworth's serves for 13 hits after two comparatively tame innings and racked up 13 runs in the third and fourth frames.

Ellsworth stayed in all the way, while veteran Dewey Van Buren, who is somewhere in the 50s, and youthful Ferrell McElrath divided the Cordts pitching chores and held the cops to four hits.

Strikeout String

Ford yielded a run in the first inning when the former Kingston Recreation favorites — Frankie Barbara and Steve Ristau—collaborated with singles between an infield out for a 1-0 lead. Eventually, that proved enough to win for the slick Long Island outfit, as their right hand ace, Ken Pine, checked the locals with only seven hits.

The very first pitch of the contest impressed the huge gathering that Olen would have his hands full with the 1950 New York Yankee southpaw sensation. It was a blazing fast ball that took a big hop as it approached the plate and slipped over Olen's glove.

But Olen settled down nicely and helped Ford through a string of strikeouts that included two in each of the first, second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings and the side in the third. The local catcher weakened in the seventh and was charged with a couple of passed balls. Ford uncorked a wild pitch and the Greys had singles by Joe Parker and Bill Shelley and a fluke double by Al Registro to account for their final markers.

Registro, the Greys right fielder, was slightly less than awed by Ford's stuff rapping him for two doubles and a single in three trips.

Grey Hurler Tough

Pine yielded two-out singles to Bill Olen and Allan Vogt in the second but escaped damage. The next big threat came in the eighth when Tommy Maines and Tommy Fisher hit successive singles but Maines was forced at third and Graves and Ronnie Scheffel couldn't move them.

Charlie Neff singled with one out in the Kingston ninth for his second hit of the game and after Tom Carlino grounded out Joe Benjamin worked Pine for a walk. Johnny Schatzel, a pinch hitter, went to 3 and 2 before forcing Benjamin at second to end the game.

The Greys-Kingston game was beautifully played with only one error charged against both teams. Charlie Neff was the batting star for the locals with a single and double. Steve Ristau banged two singles for the Greys and Registro had three hits.

Ford was met at the Rondout bridge by a police escort about 8 p. m. and whisked to municipal stadium where the crowd was waiting and his arrival was greeted enthusiastically, especially by a small army of kids seeking autographs.

Cordts on Rampage

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who was in the party that met Ford, along with Ed "Chief" Leonard and Earl Schoonmaker of the KPA baseball committee, threw out the first ball to start the Cordts-Police classic.

After two tame innings in which they led 2-1, Cordts broke loose with six hits to score six runs in the third. They increased their output by one in the fourth on a bevy of police errors and three hits. Four more hits, including Gil Williams' triple and doubles by Ray Lindhurst and Williams figured in the final four runs for Cordts.

Williams Stars

Gil Williams, the Cordts second baseman, had the big league scouts in the stands buzzing as he went on a one-man rampage with two singles, a double, triple and walk in five trips for a perfect "4 for 4" performance.

Ray Lindhurst had a double and single and Bill Bruck two singles for the winners. Every member of the starting lineup for Cordts connected for at least one safety.

Third baseman Had DeGraff, who had a hectic time at the hot corner, picked up half of the police hits with a single and double. Ernie Bartroff and Lennie Ellsworth accounted for the others.

Van Buren permitted two hits and three runs in his three-inning stint and fanned five. McElrath blew over the cops with two safeties and eight strikeouts.

Hurley, Shokan Tie in League

West Hurley trounced Camp High Point, 16 to 2, while Samsonville was scoring a rousing 75-1 upset over West Shokan, to create a tie for first place in the Olive Memorial Baseball League this week.

Led by Ross Barringer who pounded two singles, a double, homer and walk for a perfect day, the Samsonville sluggers accounted for 11 safeties and scored eight times in the second inning.

Keator, Samsonville flinger, had a no-hitter going for five innings. He gave up a hit in the sixth and three more and a run in the seventh.

West Hurley made it four in a row after two opening losses to crush High Point with a 21-hit barrage. Garrison was the whole show for West Hurley, pitching a six-hitter and blasting a double and three singles in five trips to the plate.

Studies Nip Subways For Shaughnessy Title

Triple by Woods Decides Outcome

Although outhit by 8-5, Beichert's Studebakers copped the City Softball League Shaughnessy playoffs Wednesday by downing the Subway Grill, 3-1.

A triple by Joe Woods, Beichert's third sacker, with two aboard in the first inning, was the deciding factor in the Shaughnessy victory.

Given a 2-0 bulge in the first frame, Joe Enright sailed along without trouble until he was nicked for a run in the bottom half of the sixth by the Subways. Before that single-run rally, however, Beichert's had pushed over a run in their half of the sixth.

Tom Spada opposed Enright and pitched acceptable ball after the first inning when he was conked for the telling markers of the game.

Report Is Denied

London, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Foreign Office denied today that British secret agents have located missing diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean. William Ridsdale, head of the Foreign Office New Department, said reports published in two London newspapers this morning were completely "without foundation." The Foreign Office kept silent for hours after the reports first appeared before issuing the denial. Ridsdale conferred with top officials for an hour before making his comment.

Greys Beat Ford and All Stars, 3-0; Cordts Trounce Cops, 19-3

Yankee Rookie Star Whiffs 14 In Seven Innings Before 2,500

While 2500 fans looked on in pre-war setting of excitement and color, the Long Island Greys downed Whitey Ford and Tommy Maines' All Stars, 3 to 0, and Cordts Hose flattened the Kingston Police nine, 19 to 3, in the Kingston Patrolmen's Association doubleheader last night at municipal stadium.

Handicapped by a willing but slightly overpowered catcher in Bill Olen, the youthful Ford was nevertheless able to unleash his famed rocket ball sporadically enough to fan 14 batters, while yielding all three runs and eight hits in 7 innings.

Meanwhile, Cordts Hose feasted on Manager Lennie Ellsworth's serves for 13 hits after two comparatively tame innings and racked up 13 runs in the third and fourth frames.

Ellsworth stayed in all the way, while veteran Dewey Van Buren, who is somewhere in the 50s, and youthful Ferrell McElrath divided the Cordts pitching chores and held the cops to four hits.

Strikeout String

Ford yielded a run in the first inning when the former Kingston Recreation favorites — Frankie Barbara and Steve Ristau—collaborated with singles between an infield out for a 1-0 lead. Eventually, that proved enough to win for the slick Long Island outfit, as their right hand ace, Ken Pine, checked the locals with only seven hits.

The very first pitch of the contest impressed the huge gathering that Olen would have his hands full with the 1950 New York Yankee southpaw sensation. It was a blazing fast ball that took a big hop as it approached the plate and slipped over Olen's glove.

But Olen settled down nicely and helped Ford through a string of strikeouts that included two in each of the first, second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings and the side in the third. The local catcher weakened in the seventh and was charged with a couple of passed balls. Ford uncorked a wild pitch and the Greys had singles by Joe Parker and Bill Shelley and a fluke double by Al Registro to account for their final markers.

Registro, the Greys right fielder, was slightly less than awed by Ford's stuff rapping him for two doubles and a single in three trips.

Grey Hurler Tough

Pine yielded two-out singles to Bill Olen and Allan Vogt in the second but escaped damage. The next big threat came in the eighth when Tommy Maines and Tommy Fisher hit successive singles but Maines was forced at third and Graves and Ronnie Scheffel couldn't move them.

Charlie Neff singled with one out in the Kingston ninth for his second hit of the game and after Tom Carlino grounded out Joe Benjamin worked Pine for a walk. Johnny Schatzel, a pinch hitter, went to 3 and 2 before forcing Benjamin at second to end the game.

The Greys-Kingston game was beautifully played with only one error charged against both teams. Charlie Neff was the batting star for the locals with a single and double. Steve Ristau banged two singles for the Greys and Registro had three hits.

Ford was met at the Rondout bridge by a police escort about 8 p. m. and whisked to municipal stadium where the crowd was waiting and his arrival was greeted enthusiastically, especially by a small army of kids seeking autographs.

Cordts on Rampage

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, who was in the party that met Ford, along with Ed "Chief" Leonard and Earl Schoonmaker of the KPA baseball committee, threw out the first ball to start the Cordts-Police classic.

After two tame innings in which they led 2-1, Cordts broke loose with six hits to score six runs in the third. They increased their output by one in the fourth on a bevy of police errors and three hits. Four more hits, including Gil Williams' triple and doubles by Ray Lindhurst and Williams figured in the final four runs for Cordts.

Williams Stars

Gil Williams, the Cordts second sacker, had the big league scouts in the stands buzzing as he went on a one-man rampage with two singles, a double, triple and walk in five trips for a perfect "4 for 4" performance.

Ray Lindhurst had a double and single and Bill Bruck two singles for the winners. Every member of the starting lineup for Cordts connected for at least one safety.

Third baseman Had DeGraff, who had a hectic time at the hot corner, picked up half of the police hits with a single and double. Ernie Bartroff and Lennie Ellsworth accounted for the others.

Van Buren permitted two hits and three runs in his three-inning stint and fanned five. McElrath blew over the cops with two safeties and eight strikeouts.

Undaunted by the sound shellacking, the police issued a statement after the game: "Wait until next year!"

Hurley, Shokan Tie in League

West Hurley trounced Camp High Point, 16 to 2, while Samsonville was scoring a rousing 75-1 upset over West Shokan, to create a tie for first place in the Olive Memorial Baseball League this week.

Led by Ross Barringer who pounded two singles, a double, homer and walk for a perfect day, the Samsonville sluggers accounted for 11 safeties and scored eight times in the second inning.

Keator, Samsonville flinger, had a no-hitter going for five innings. He gave up a hit in the sixth and three more and a run in the seventh.

West Hurley made it four in a row after two opening losses to crush High Point with a 21-hit barrage. Garrison was the whole show for West Hurley, pitching a six-hitter and blasting a double and three singles in five trips to the plate.

Studies Nip Subways For Shaughnessy Title

Triple by Woods Decides Outcome

Although outhit by 8-5, Beichert's Studebakers copped the City Softball League Shaughnessy playoffs Wednesday by downing the Subway Grill, 3-1.

A triple by Joe Woods, Beichert's third sacker, with two aboard in the first inning, was the deciding factor in the Shaughnessy victory.

Given a 2-0 bulge in the first frame, Joe Enright sailed along without trouble until he was nicked for a run in the bottom half of the sixth by the Subways. Before that single-run rally, however, Beichert's had pushed over a run in their half of the sixth.

Tom Spada opposed Enright and pitched acceptable ball after the first inning when he was conked for the telling markers of the game.

Holmes-Wheatcroft In Tennis Finals

Meet Labor Day For County Crown

Bill Holmes, defending champion of Saugerties, and Irving Wheatcroft of Kingston have reached the finals of the 1951 Kiwanis Club tennis tournament and will battle for the Ulster county singles crown on Labor Day at Hasbrouck Park.

The time for the match has not been announced.

Holmes reached the finals by turning back Joe Scott of Kingston in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2, while Wheatcroft had qualified earlier with a victory over former champion, Chet Fox.

Holmes earned his victory over the energetic Scott by accurate placements from the base line and gave Scott little chance to use the volley and overhead smashes which he used with great success in the earlier matches.

The Saugerties champion's steadiness and ability to retrieve the best of shots will make him a worthy opponent of Wheatcroft in the finals.

Sami-finalists have been established in the doubles division, with defending champions, Wheatcroft and Scott turning back the Woodstock tandem of Peter Carlson and Harry Berkowitz after a tough battle, 5-7, 6-1, 6-1.

Bill Holmes and John Keeley, a Saugerties police officer, defeated the local pair of Nick Fowler and Herb DeKay, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3 in a match marked by long volleys and many close games.

Frank Smith and Donald Dempsey defeated the Marine combination of Don Macholdt and Sgt. Awkerman in a prolonged struggle, 9-7, 3-6, 6-4.

THE SCOREBOARD

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press)

The New York Yankees won the 1949-50 pennants with late season acquisitions from the National League. Today the Bombers are banking on another Johnny-come-lately from the senior circuit to insure success in their current drive for the American League flag.

Johnny Sain, veteran right-hander, is the latest Yankee importation from the National League. The Yanks acquired Sain from the Boston Braves yesterday and celebrated the purchase by trouncing the Browns, 15-2 under the lights in St. Louis. The win gave them a first place tie with Cleveland, which dropped a 3-0 decision to Philadelphia in the afternoon.

Kramer Is Dropped

Sain, picked up for $50,000 and minor league pitcher Lew Burdette, will join the Yanks in Washington Saturday. The 32-year-old vet is tabbed for relief duty. He won only five and lost 13 for the Braves this season. Sain, a 20-game winner three times, was waived out of the National League. To make room for Sain the Yankees released Jack Kramer, another veteran right-hander.

Yanks Club Garver

Allie Reynolds stopped the Browns on two hits as the Yanks closed out their final tour of the west with a 7-4 record. The Yanks, idle the next two days, clubbed Brownie ace Ned Garver and two relief pitchers for 17 hits. Reynolds aided his own cause, driving in three runs. Ken Wood drove in both St. Louis' runs with a homer in the fourth. Garver, seeking his 16th victory, was bombed out in the first when the Yanks scored five runs.

In other American League games the Boston Red Sox turned back the Detroit Tigers, 7-5, and the Washington Senators nosed out the Chicago White Sox, 2-1 in 13 innings.

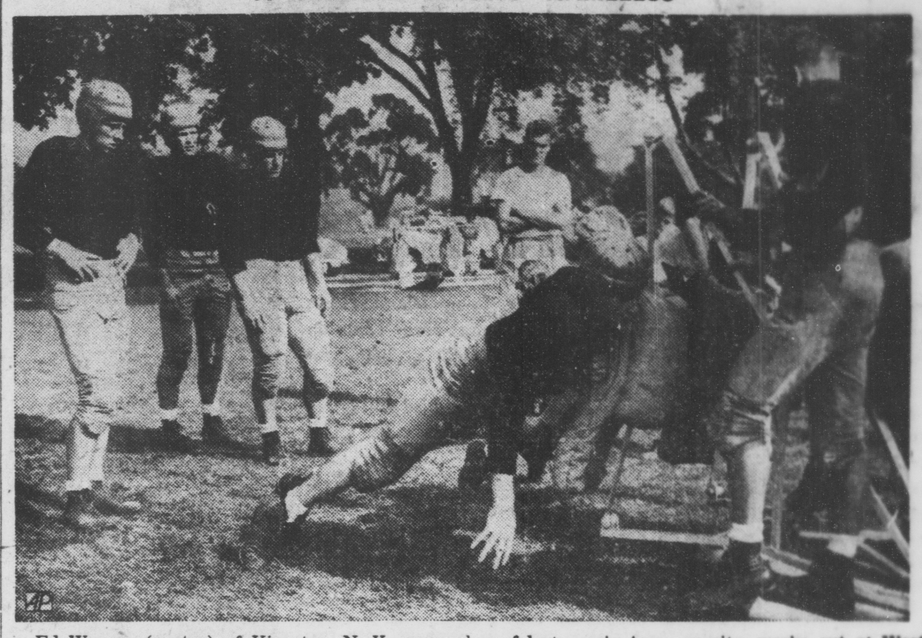

In the National League, the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers humbled the Cincinnati Reds, 13-1; the runner-up New York Giants downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1; the St. Louis Cardinals nipped the Philadelphia Phils, 3-2, and the Boston Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-1.

Hodges Sets Record

Gil Hodges drove home seven runs on a pair of homers and a double to lead the Dodgers to victory against the Reds. The homers boosted Hodges' output to 36, most ever hit by a Brooklyn player in one season. Babe Herman held the former high, 35. Don Newcombe breezed to his 17th victory.

Jim Hearn stopped the last place Pirates on three hits in winning a duel from Murry Dickson, seeking his 18th victory. Al Dark sealed the verdict with a homer in teh eighth.

A VETERAN AMONG NAMELESS

Flores Is Critical After Garden Kayo

New York, Aug 30 (AP)—Welterweight boxer George Flores of Brooklyn, who was knocked out and failed to regain consciousness last night, was reported in critical condition today after a brain operation.

The surgery was completed at 1 a. m. (EST). Dr. James Daniels, who participated in the operation, said the object was to remove pressure caused by a blood clot. Indications were that there would be no change in the 20-year-old Flores' condition for several hours.

He was taken to St. Claire's Hospital after being knocked out by Roger Donoghue of Yonkers, N. Y., in the eighth and last round of the semi-final bout of the Kid Gavilan-Billy Graham welterweigth championship card at Madison Square Garden.

Win Evens Playoffs

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—A 15-inning 2-1 victory by Washington over White Plains, N. Y., last night evened sectional playoffs in the American Legion junior baseball tourney. The teams, each of which has now won and lost a game, will meet again tomorrow (at 10 a. m., E.S.T.). The winner will go to the national finals in Detroit next month. A triple by Ed Mulligan of Washington in the 15th scored Bob Kiatta to break off the long pitchers' duel. White Plains had scored its lone run in the fifth, and Washington evened things up in the sixth.

Brooklyn—Vic Cardell, 146¼, Hartford, Conn., stopped Johnny Williams, 143, Montgomery, Ala. (5).

Meet Labor Day For County Crown

Bill Holmes, defending champion of Saugerties, and Irving Wheatcroft of Kingston have reached the finals of the 1951 Kiwanis Club tennis tournament and will battle for the Ulster county singles crown on Labor Day at Hasbrouck Park.

The time for the match has not been announced.

Holmes reached the finals by turning back Joe Scott of Kingston in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2, while Wheatcroft had qualified earlier with a victory over former champion, Chet Fox.

Holmes earned his victory over the energetic Scott by accurate placements from the base line and gave Scott little chance to use the volley and overhead smashes which he used with great success in the earlier matches.

The Saugerties champion's steadiness and ability to retrieve the best of shots will make him a worthy opponent of Wheatcroft in the finals.

Sami-finalists have been established in the doubles division, with defending champions, Wheatcroft and Scott turning back the Woodstock tandem of Peter Carlson and Harry Berkowitz after a tough battle, 5-7, 6-1, 6-1.

Bill Holmes and John Keeley, a Saugerties police officer, defeated the local pair of Nick Fowler and Herb DeKay, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3 in a match marked by long volleys and many close games.

Frank Smith and Donald Dempsey defeated the Marine combination of Don Macholdt and Sgt. Awkerman in a prolonged struggle, 9-7, 3-6, 6-4.

THE SCOREBOARD

By RALPH RODEN
(Associated Press)

The New York Yankees won the 1949-50 pennants with late season acquisitions from the National League. Today the Bombers are banking on another Johnny-come-lately from the senior circuit to insure success in their current drive for the American League flag.

Johnny Sain, veteran right-hander, is the latest Yankee importation from the National League. The Yanks acquired Sain from the Boston Braves yesterday and celebrated the purchase by trouncing the Browns, 15-2 under the lights in St. Louis. The win gave them a first place tie with Cleveland, which dropped a 3-0 decision to Philadelphia in the afternoon.

Kramer Is Dropped

Sain, picked up for $50,000 and minor league pitcher Lew Burdette, will join the Yanks in Washington Saturday. The 32-year-old vet is tabbed for relief duty. He won only five and lost 13 for the Braves this season. Sain, a 20-game winner three times, was waived out of the National League. To make room for Sain the Yankees released Jack Kramer, another veteran right-hander.

Yanks Club Garver

Allie Reynolds stopped the Browns on two hits as the Yanks closed out their final tour of the west with a 7-4 record. The Yanks, idle the next two days, clubbed Brownie ace Ned Garver and two relief pitchers for 17 hits. Reynolds aided his own cause, driving in three runs. Ken Wood drove in both St. Louis' runs with a homer in the fourth. Garver, seeking his 16th victory, was bombed out in the first when the Yanks scored five runs.

In other American League games the Boston Red Sox turned back the Detroit Tigers, 7-5, and the Washington Senators nosed out the Chicago White Sox, 2-1 in 13 innings.

In the National League, the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers humbled the Cincinnati Reds, 13-1; the runner-up New York Giants downed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1; the St. Louis Cardinals nipped the Philadelphia Phils, 3-2, and the Boston Braves defeated the Chicago Cubs, 4-1.

Hodges Sets Record

Gil Hodges drove home seven runs on a pair of homers and a double to lead the Dodgers to victory against the Reds. The homers boosted Hodges' output to 36, most ever hit by a Brooklyn player in one season. Babe Herman held the former high, 35. Don Newcombe breezed to his 17th victory.

Jim Hearn stopped the last place Pirates on three hits in winning a duel from Murry Dickson, seeking his 18th victory. Al Dark sealed the verdict with a homer in teh eighth.

A VETERAN AMONG NAMELESS

Flores Is Critical After Garden Kayo

New York, Aug 30 (AP)—Welterweight boxer George Flores of Brooklyn, who was knocked out and failed to regain consciousness last night, was reported in critical condition today after a brain operation.

The surgery was completed at 1 a. m. (EST). Dr. James Daniels, who participated in the operation, said the object was to remove pressure caused by a blood clot. Indications were that there would be no change in the 20-year-old Flores' condition for several hours.

He was taken to St. Claire's Hospital after being knocked out by Roger Donoghue of Yonkers, N. Y., in the eighth and last round of the semi-final bout of the Kid Gavilan-Billy Graham welterweigth championship card at Madison Square Garden.

Win Evens Playoffs

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—A 15-inning 2-1 victory by Washington over White Plains, N. Y., last night evened sectional playoffs in the American Legion junior baseball tourney. The teams, each of which has now won and lost a game, will meet again tomorrow (at 10 a. m., E.S.T.). The winner will go to the national finals in Detroit next month. A triple by Ed Mulligan of Washington in the 15th scored Bob Kiatta to break off the long pitchers' duel. White Plains had scored its lone run in the fifth, and Washington evened things up in the sixth.

Brooklyn—Vic Cardell, 146¼, Hartford, Conn., stopped Johnny Williams, 143, Montgomery, Ala. (5).

Produce Business Moves to Locale On O'Neil Street

Zwick and Schwartz-Kingston, wholesale produce firm established in this city nearly 28 years ago, is moving to a new location at 36 O'Neil street.

The firm expects to be doing business at the O'Neil street address on Tuesday, Sept. 4. The move from its present location, 40 Mill street, will be accomplished without an interruption of service, according to Louis M. Schwartz, one of the principals of the firm. The other principal is William Zwick.

The latest in modern refrigeration has been installed to insure proper handling of fruits and vegetables at the 36 O'Neil street building, which formerly housed the Hummer feed dealership. The building has the advantage also of its own private railroad siding.

To Handle More Trade

Reason given for the present move is to facilitate increased handling and to supply a superior service. An "open house" will be held at the new quarters at a date to be announced.

The old location, at 40 Mill street, will be disposed of by the firm.

Zwick and Schwartz-Kingston was founded in November 1933, and its first quarters was the old U. & D. freight house on Hasbrouck avenue. Since 1940 the firm has operated from Mill street. The progressive changes were due to expanding business.

Reckless Driving Charge Withdrawn

A charge of reckless driving against Harry Litts, 45, of Ulster Park, was withdrawn when he appeared before Peace Justice Percy Bush last night.

Litts was arrested Aug. 23 on the reckless driving charge, and on another of leaving the scene of an accident, after the car he was driving allegedly struck one owned by Joseph P. J. Winter, of East Chester street, on Abeel street. The charge of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed in city court yesterday when the complainant failed to appear.

The reckless driving charge was on complaint of Rawlson DeLavan, 251 Abeel street, who, authorities said, had trailed Litts to Eddyville. Peace Justice Bush said Rawlson withdrew the charge. After appearing before Bush on the date of arrest, Litts was turned over to the Kingston police by Sgt. Arthur Reilly of the state police, and booked on the other charge.

Hanley Proposal Offered

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 30 (AP)—Former Republican Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley of New York is back of a proposal to bar the president of the United States from sending troops into action without a declaration of war by Congress. Hanley's resolutions committee at the United Spanish War Veterans convention here submitted the proposal yesterday. Hanley, a past national commander of the USWV, said the resolution approved by his committe was aimed at such decisions as were made by President Truman in sending troops into Korea. Charles W. Bernhardt of Atlanta, Ga., was chosen national commander of the USWV. Charles E. Howard of Pleasantville, N. Y., was chosen to head of the Military Order of the Serpent.

lessness; some in an effort to travel too many miles in too few hours, resulting in fatigue. Some will die because of a disinclination to yield the right of way to the other driver.

Forget Responsibility

"Mostly they will die because millions of motorists underestimate the responsibility of piloting a couple of tons of fast moving metal over heavily congested highways.

"It has been said that the automobile is one of the greatest boons of the modern era. It is also one of the greatest man-killers of all time. The 400 marked to die on the nation's highway during the coming holiday week-end will join a tragic host, numbering nearly 1,000,000, who have died in motoring mishaps during the last 50 years.

"That, some agencies say, is a greater loss of life than the United States has suffered in all the wars it ever fought.

"Authoritative sources estimate some 35,000,000 drivers will be on the highways during the company week-end. They estimate another 75,000,000 persons will be on the highways as passengers and that around 4,000,000,000 automobile miles will be travelled between Friday evening and Tuesday morning.

So, on the basis of past experience, the estimate of 400 probable fatalities doesn't seem too high. Of course, there will be many thousands of persons injured, some slightly—some permanently.

"The total could be sharply reduced through intelligent trip planning—and a realization that traffic accidents don't always happen to the 'other fellow?' that they can happen to you."

Japan's Comeback

support for Shinto, the national religion, was abolished, to close another channel for the same teachings.

Get Legal Help

The downtrodden and voiceless were given a legal break. Women were proclaimed equal to men and given the vote. Tenant farmers bought their own land under a reform abolishing absentee landlords. Labor unions were given their first official encouragement. Fishermen and farmers banded into cooperatives, designed to end exploitation.

The theory was that Japan's millions had waged imperialistic war in blind obedience to the autocrats who ruled them through the powerful symbol of the emperor. The planned remedy was to infuse the people with democracy—a sense of individual freedom—as a check against a duplication of this pattern.

Officials say the most that could be done in a few years was to erect a legal structure for republican government and try to get the Japanese to use it. From that view, the occupation in general accomplished its reform mission, with some rough spots.

But the Japanese are a long way from being democratic. It remains to be seen whether they learned as much in the brief span of years as could reasonably be expected.

Accused of Stealing Gems From Friend

Mrs. Ethel Jones Taylor, 25, wife of an airplane parts concern executive, sits in Mineola, N. Y., courthouse, August 28, with detective Dave Matz, following her arrest on charges of taking $10,000 in gems from the home of her friend, Mrs. Margaret Welch in Syosset, N. Y. Mrs. Taylor was arraigned and later released on $5,000 bail. Nassau county chief of detectives Stuyvesant Pinell said Mrs. Taylor signed a statement admitting the theft.

Lawyer Says 7th

Hart, 20-year-old football guard from Brooklyn, testified at the opening of a public hearing conducted by the committe on justice of the New York Civil and Criminal Courts Bar Association.

The committee, acting on its own initiative, says it is not interested in the guilt or innocence of the approximately 90 cadets accused of cheating on examinations—but in determining whether they were treated fairly in accordance with law.

Hart was questioned by committee counsel Robert Daru. He said that he was advised at the academy that the honor code required him to inform on fellow cadets who cheated.

Daru asked Hart if it ever was suggested by West Point officials that he could go to prison for cheating.

"Yes, it was," Hart replied.

Killed in 1950

Sergeant Rice was killed in action Sept. 6, 1950, while fighting near Tabu-Dong, Korea, with the First Cavalry Division. Previously he spent 40 months in the Pacific in World War 2.

When Mrs. Rice received the White House offer yesterday she immediately accepted "with deepest gratitude" and said:

"This is about the most wonderful thing that could ever happen."

Later, Clem A. Evans, Sioux City councilman, delivered a verbal apology at the request of J. M. Gunnell, secretary-treasurer of the cemetery which halted her husband's burial just as the casket was to be lowered.

Gunnell said the cemetery learned belatedly that Rice was an Indian and the action was taken regretfully because of legal complications. The cemetery's policy is to bury only members of the Caucasian race.

Evans said that at Gunnell's request he offered Mrs. Rice any lot of her choice in the cemetery. There was no explanation of the cemetery's reversal.

Mrs. Rice received the apology in the weather-beaten frame house on the Winnebago Indian Reservation where she lives with her three small children. She was "humble and magnanimous," Evans said.

Mrs. Rice plans for the flight to Washington to see her husband's body laid to rest at Arlington. It is believed he will be the first Indian buried there.

"John loved the army," she said.

She was awaiting final word from the government as to the day and hour for the ceremony. The government, as requested by the President, will fly her to Washington.

The flag-draped casket of Sergeant Rice remained in the South Sioux City, Nebr., funeral home where it was taken after the burial was interrupted. An honor guard of Legionnaires, both Indian and white, stood by.

The sturgeon is covered with bony plates instead of scales.

Killed in 1950

Sergeant Rice was killed in action Sept. 6, 1950, while fighting near Tabu-Dong, Korea, with the First Cavalry Division. Previously he spent 40 months in the Pacific in World War 2.

When Mrs. Rice received the White House offer yesterday she immediately accepted "with deepest gratitude" and said:

"This is about the most wonderful thing that could ever happen."

Later, Clem A. Evans, Sioux City councilman, delivered a verbal apology at the request of J. M. Gunnell, secretary-treasurer of the cemetery which halted her husband's burial just as the casket was to be lowered.

Gunnell said the cemetery learned belatedly that Rice was an Indian and the action was taken regretfully because of legal complications. The cemetery's policy is to bury only members of the Caucasian race.

Evans said that at Gunnell's request he offered Mrs. Rice any lot of her choice in the cemetery. There was no explanation of the cemetery's reversal.

Mrs. Rice received the apology in the weather-beaten frame house on the Winnebago Indian Reservation where she lives with her three small children. She was "humble and magnanimous," Evans said.

Mrs. Rice plans for the flight to Washington to see her husband's body laid to rest at Arlington. It is believed he will be the first Indian buried there.

"John loved the army," she said.

She was awaiting final word from the government as to the day and hour for the ceremony. The government, as requested by the President, will fly her to Washington.

The flag-draped casket of Sergeant Rice remained in the South Sioux City, Nebr., funeral home where it was taken after the burial was interrupted. An honor guard of Legionnaires, both Indian and white, stood by.

The sturgeon is covered with bony plates instead of scales.

Day Line Dock Is Refused at Point

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, said today that recent efforts to obtain dock and parking facilities at Kingston Point, to date have met with the same unfavorable results as last year.

Kurdt said he conferred yesterday with a representative of Rossbach Associates, of New York, which is attempting to dispose of the 12.2-acre tract that was once Kingston Point Park, and learned that nothing further can be done at this time to obtain docking facilities for Hudson River Day Line if it resumes its runs next year between New York and Albany.

Conditions are about the same as they were when the Indian Point Corporation, which had acquired the land, refused to lease part of it for the parking of buses and taxis, Kurdt said. It has been suggested that the city purchase the land, but this is not considered feasible under present conditions.

A representative of Rossbach Associates said that industrial firms are interested in the site. The dock adjoining the property is owned by the New York Central railroad.

George Sanders, owner of the river line, indicated new interest in resuming full river service when he visited Catskill and Albany several days ago.

Reds Charge . . .

a press release from General Ridgway's headquarters.

The release suggested the Red proposal to reinvestigate the Kaesong bombing charge "may contain some hope for resumption" of truce talks. Communists broke off negotiations Aug. 23, a few hours after they said a UN plane bombed Kaesong.

The Red broadcasts said Ridgway's latest note on the incident "again distorted facts" and was "full of contradictions because he is lying."

It particularly assailed his statement that a Red liaison officer refused a request for a daylight investigation.

"On the one hand he slanders our side as refusing to conduct a reinvestigation," the radio said, "and on the other stubbornly refuses our request for a reinvestigation."

The broadcast then asked:

"Why is Ridgway so afraid of investigation, like a criminal afraid of his final trial? Ridgway's liaison officer has said that investigation in the dark of night could not be (held). Why then does Ridgway insist on relying on unreliable investigation, and yet refuse to make further reliable investigation?"

Ridgway's headquarters has observed that the lapse of time between the original investigation, around midnight Aug. 22, and the Red offer Tuesday to make a new investigation allowed the Communists plenty of time to manufacture new evidence.

The UN command said original evidence did not indicate that Kaesong was bombed.

DiSalle Says . . .

War and July 26, 1951, and (2) prohibit a price ceiling on any item which doesn't allow wholesalers and retailers the same percentage of profit they earned before Korea.

In Profit Squeeze

The OPS chief said the second provision catches the consumer in a profit squeeze and would force prices up.

The first would be almost impossible to handle because "there are not enough accountants to check up on all the figures required for providing American industry with ceilings calculated in this way."

Wilson, in urging changes, said that "new and serious problems" of shortage and inflation lie ahead.

"Any formula which results in prices higher than the 'fair and equitable' prices required by the original (Defense Production) act is necessarily inflationary," Wilson told the committee. He added:

"In my opinion ,we just do our best to hold the existing price and wage line.

"To do this we need the strongest and most effective law you can give us."

Senate Concerned

The two Senate committees agreed to give the secretary of defense primary authority over military aid, which accounts for $6,013,000,000 of the funds.

The Economic Cooperation Administration, due to expire next June 30, would retain control of most of the $1,522,750,000 of economic aid. And the State Department would receive continuing authority over the socalled "point four" program of technical assistance to undeveloped areas of the world.

Finally, the two Senate committees proposed setting up in the office of the president an overall coordinator—a single official or a board—to decide any disputes between the various foreign aid agencies.

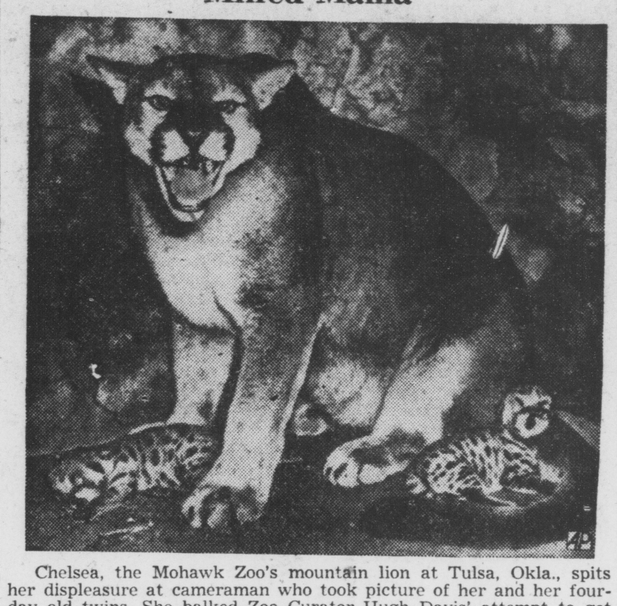

Majority Leader McFarland (D.-Ariz) called for day and night sessions both today and Friday and, if necessary, a Saturday session, to pass the foreign aid bill this week.

Pope Has Laryngitis

Vatican City, Aug. 30 (AP)—Pope Pius XII is suffering from a slight case of laryngitis. A spokesman said today it is so mild that His Holiness is going ahead with scheduled audiences. Two physicians examined him and reported the Pope almost recovered.

Many grades of coal have the same name as foods, such as barley, buckwheat, chestnut, egg, mustard seed, pea, and rice.

Miffed Mama

Chelsea, the Mohawk Zoo's mountain lion at Tulsa, Okla., spits her displeasure at cameraman who took picture of her and her four-day old twins. She balked Zoo Curator Hugh Davis' attempt to get the cubs for bottle-feeding and he said she'd have to rear them on her own. (AP Wirephoto).

Truman Refuses

could continue while the board investigates.

And Attorney General McGrath would have to wait until the board reported before he could seek a court injunction to end the walkout under the Taft-Hartley Act.

However, if the President should feel there is little hope of settlement and the walkout is creating a national emergency he could bypass court action and order government seizure of the mines and smelters.

The strike has already cut off 95 per cent of the country's copper production and dealt heavy blows to the output of sulphuric acid—a key ingredient in the refining of aviation and high test gasoline—and lead and zinc.

Union leaders told the WSB yesterday the strike will continue unless (1) a negotiated contract settlement is reached, (2) the government seizes the struck works, or (3) a court injunction is issued against the stoppage.

Government officials said it would take about 10 days to get a court injunction.

The strike has idled some 100,000 workers and crippled operations of scores of copper producers including the "Big Four"—Kennecott, Anaconda, Phelps-Dodge, and the American Smelting and Refinery Co.

Wages now range from $1.31 for laborers to $1.62 for miners.

Senator Wicks . . .

cials and representatives of the Flood Control Commission.

The letter dated August 29 to Senator Wicks from Horace S. Evans of the State Flood Control Commission reads, in part, as follows:

"I am pleased to advise you that the Chief of Engineers, United States Department of the Army, has allocated $50,000 for prosecution of flood control work at Mt. Pleasant.

"I am informed by the Assistant Chief of Engineers that a report on further work at Kingston is in the process of preparation. This Commission will continue to press for expedition of that report.

"Your continued personal interest, both here and in Washington, has been responsible in a large measure for the progress that has been made in procuring Federal funds for the much needed work at Mt. Pleasant. It is hoped that accomplishment of the project will be competed this fall."

Held as Prowler

Edward Patrick DuMond, 41, of Earl street extension, Bristol, Conn., was arrested at the Rondout creek bridge on Wednesday afternoon by Detective Clarence Brophy and Sgt. William Messing, and was turned over to troopers for arraignment on a third degree burglary charge. DuMond was accused of being the prowler who was reported at 7:15 a. m. Wednesday in the home of William McCabe of Port Ewen, police said. He was scheduled for arrignment today.

New Yorker Held On Burglary Count

A New York man has been accused by the sheriff's office of an early morning burglary at an Ulster county resort hotel where he had been employed until two days before the burglary was reported.

James Farrell, 41, of New York, was scheduled for arraignment today before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush on a third degree burglary charge. He was arrested at Woodridge by County Investigator Leonard Belmore and Identification Officer Arthur H. Brown of the sheriff's office with the cooperation of police of that village.

Farrell was charged with entering the Pioneer Country Club at Greenfield early on the morning of August 29, and with taking a wrist watch, a sum of money and bottles of whiskey and wine, Belmore reported.

It was charged that Farrell entered by prying a window screen open with a screwdriver, breaking a pane of glass and entering the room containing the bar concession at the hotel. The wrist watch reported missing belonged to the woman who runs the concession, the sheriff's office charged.

Investigation by Belmore and Brown led to Farrell, who had been employed at the Pioneer Country Club for a week and whose employment terminated about two days prior to the reported theft. He was picked up at Woodridge in Sullivan county through the cooperation of Acting Police Chief Dennenberg, Belmore reported.

Boy Kills Self

Old Brookville, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—William H. Tuttle, 12, shot and killed himself last night by firing a bullet in his brain from a .22-caliber rifle, police reported. Police termed the death an apparent suicide. The boy was the son of Bruce R. Tuttle, prominent Manhattan attorney. The Long Island family, including three other children, resides on Pond Hollow Road.

Iceland is 39,758 miles in area.

invites disputes instead of coordination."

The two Senate committees agreed to give the secretary of defense primary authority over military aid, which accounts for $6,013,000,000 of the funds.

The Economic Cooperation Administration, due to expire next June 30, would retain control of most of the $1,522,750,000 of economic aid. And the State Department would receive continuing authority over the socalled "point four" program of technical assistance to undeveloped areas of the world.

Finally, the two Senate committees proposed setting up in the office of the president an overall coordinator—a single official or a board—to decide any disputes between the various foreign aid agencies.

Majority Leader McFarland (D.-Ariz) called for day and night sessions both today and Friday and, if necessary, a Saturday session, to pass the foreign aid bill this week.

Pope Has Laryngitis

Vatican City, Aug. 30 (AP)—Pope Pius XII is suffering from a slight case of laryngitis. A spokesman said today it is so mild that His Holiness is going ahead with scheduled audiences. Two physicians examined him and reported the Pope almost recovered.

Miffed Mama

Chelsea, the Mohawk Zoo's mountain lion at Tulsa, Okla., spits her displeasure at cameraman who took picture of her and her four-day old twins. She balked Zoo Curator Hugh Davis' attempt to get the cubs for bottle-feeding and he said she'd have to rear them on her own. (AP Wirephoto).

Truman Refuses

could continue while the board investigates.

And Attorney General McGrath would have to wait until the board reported before he could seek a court injunction to end the walkout under the Taft-Hartley Act.

However, if the President should feel there is little hope of settlement and the walkout is creating a national emergency he could bypass court action and order government seizure of the mines and smelters.

The strike has already cut off 95 per cent of the country's copper production and dealt heavy blows to the output of sulphuric acid—a key ingredient in the refining of aviation and high test gasoline—and lead and zinc.

Union leaders told the WSB yesterday the strike will continue unless (1) a negotiated contract settlement is reached, (2) the government seizes the struck works, or (3) a court injunction is issued against the stoppage.

Government officials said it would take about 10 days to get a court injunction.

The strike has idled some 100,000 workers and crippled operations of scores of copper producers including the "Big Four"—Kennecott, Anaconda, Phelps-Dodge, and the American Smelting and Refinery Co.

Orville Larson, vice president of the striking union, told the wage board yesterday it would be possible to negotiate a contract on the basis of the 16-cent an hour wage "package" proposed Monday by Cyrus S. Ching, federal conciliation chief.

Wages now range from $1.31 for laborers to $1.62 for miners.

Senator Wicks . . .

cials and representatives of the Flood Control Commission.

The letter dated August 29 to Senator Wicks from Horace S. Evans of the State Flood Control Commission reads, in part, as follows:

"I am pleased to advise you that the Chief of Engineers, United States Department of the Army, has allocated $50,000 for prosecution of flood control work at Mt. Pleasant.

"I am informed by the Assistant Chief of Engineers that a report on further work at Kingston is in the process of preparation. This Commission will continue to press for expedition of that report.

"Your continued personal interest, both here and in Washington, has been responsible in a large measure for the progress that has been made in procuring Federal funds for the much needed work at Mt. Pleasant. It is hoped that accomplishment of the project will be competed this fall."

Held as Prowler

Edward Patrick DuMond, 41, of Earl street extension, Bristol, Conn., was arrested at the Rondout creek bridge on Wednesday afternoon by Detective Clarence Brophy and Sgt. William Messing, and was turned over to troopers for arraignment on a third degree burglary charge. DuMond was accused of being the prowler who was reported at 7:15 a. m. Wednesday in the home of William McCabe of Port Ewen, police said. He was scheduled for arrignment today.

New Yorker Held On Burglary Count

A New York man has been accused by the sheriff's office of an early morning burglary at an Ulster county resort hotel where he had been employed until two days before the burglary was reported.

James Farrell, 41, of New York, was scheduled for arraignment today before Justice of the Peace Percy Bush on a third degree burglary charge. He was arrested at Woodridge by County Investigator Leonard Belmore and Identification Officer Arthur H. Brown of the sheriff's office with the cooperation of police of that village.

Farrell was charged with entering the Pioneer Country Club at Greenfield early on the morning of August 29, and with taking a wrist watch, a sum of money and bottles of whiskey and wine, Belmore reported.

It was charged that Farrell entered by prying a window screen open with a screwdriver, breaking a pane of glass and entering the room containing the bar concession at the hotel. The wrist watch reported missing belonged to the woman who runs the concession, the sheriff's office charged.

Investigation by Belmore and Brown led to Farrell, who had been employed at the Pioneer Country Club for a week and whose employment terminated about two days prior to the reported theft. He was picked up at Woodridge in Sullivan county through the cooperation of Acting Police Chief Dennenberg, Belmore reported.

Boy Kills Self

Old Brookville, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—William H. Tuttle, 12, shot and killed himself last night by firing a bullet in his brain from a .22-caliber rifle, police reported. Police termed the death an apparent suicide. The boy was the son of Bruce R. Tuttle, prominent Manhattan attorney. The Long Island family, including three other children, resides on Pond Hollow Road.

Iceland is 39,758 miles in area.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS of OUR Business

A Customer is the most important person in any business.
A Customer is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.
A Customer is not an interruption of our work—he is the purpose of it.
A Customer does us a favor when he calls—we are not doing him a favor by serving him.
A Customer is part of our business—he is not an outsider.
A Customer is not a cold statistic — he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.
A Customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. . . . .
A Customer is a person who brings us his wants — it is our job to fill those wants
A Customer is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him.
A Customer is the life blood of this and every other business.
